

PANE “ASTRALWALKER” ANDOV

2012

Equation Solved

Dear brothers and sisters,

My name is Pane “Astral Walker” Andov and before I go on, I feel a need to tell you this: “There were two ways of creating this file. I could have held back information which is stunningly bizarre, but true. This would be the easy way, staying within the comfort zone and communicating only that which would not challenge too many people’s sense of possibility.

Or I could treat the readers like fully formed, fully connected multidimensional, adult human beings and communicate all the relevant information, including some which will stretch their sense of reality to breaking point. “

As always, I have chosen the latter. It is not for me to edit information for the readers, it is for the readers to edit the information for themselves.

It’s not easy for me to say this, but this letter is the most important information that you have ever received regarding events that are going to happen in the near future. I would like to ask you for your attention (PLEASE STAY WITH ME).

For you to know on what ground I am standing, and how I know what I know, there is no other way but to get straight to the point: I have been taken and have had contacts with the ETs many times since I was of 7 years of age. I will not go into the details at this moment (we will deal with abduction phenomenon later) and for now I will just mention that my DNA has been altered, enabling me to use abilities such as Astral projection on a daily basis. For the last 3 decades I have been visiting Stars and Planets in space which are at the great distance from our Planet, and had contacts with the ETs. From all the visits, what was passed to me and which I clearly remember is that the human race is heading towards a great change, many spirits will return to the stars and something magnificent is going to happen.

In order to create a bigger picture so that you can understand what is going to happen in the near future, I will have to explain couple of things:

- Milky Way Galaxy, Chandra satellite, and Red Giant
- Mayan (Sun) Long Count Calendar
- The Crop Circles Phenomenon
- What Are We and DNA structure
- When a human being physically dies
- How the game will be played by the Dark Force
- Cosmic rays penetration into Solar system
- Ancient Giants and DNA
- Forgotten Past and Ancient nuclear conflicts on Earth and Moon
- My personal experience with ET
- What do we need to do?
- Final Word

Once you see the bigger picture, you will understand why you were not told about all this through the regular means of information.

Milky Way Galaxy, Chandra satellite, and Red Giant

Around 26 000 years ago from the galactic centre of the Milky Way, there was a powerful release of an enormous amount of energy, which like a huge, shining, circular wave is spreading across the galaxy from its centre to its edges. Our solar system is on the exact edge of the Milky Way galaxy, and around 26 000 light years from its galactic centre. For man, this enormous distance is an unimaginable length of time, but from the global cosmic point of view is like a bolt of lightning across the sky. The released energetic pulse is already affecting the whole galaxy including the little dot we call our solar system. Very soon it will reach us and hit us with full strength.

In 1999 NASA launched a satellite “The Chandra X-ray Observatory” that is capable of scanning space with x-rays and much of what was previously invisible and unimaginable to the human eye has become visible. “The Chandra X-ray Observatory” managed to record the cosmic jet that was ejected from the massive black hole in the centre of the Milky Way, along the huge and powerful energetic wave that is spreading along the galactic plane. We have to understand that for scanning space, humans have only had powerful and precise equipment for 5 decades, which is just a blink of the eye in the global cosmic reality.

Chandra recorded stars increasing in size by the extreme influence of the energetic wave and going through major changes; swelling in size and then ejecting the outer layer and becoming much smaller. The forecast (see Appendix A) is that the same will happen with our Sun; as soon as it is hit by the energetic wave it will start to react. A complex nuclear reaction will be set in motion that will cause our Sun to increase in size, swallowing the planets Mercury and Venus. That means that it will come extremely close to Earth causing impossible conditions for biological life, with daily temperatures of ranging from 800°C plus to minus 70°C and below.

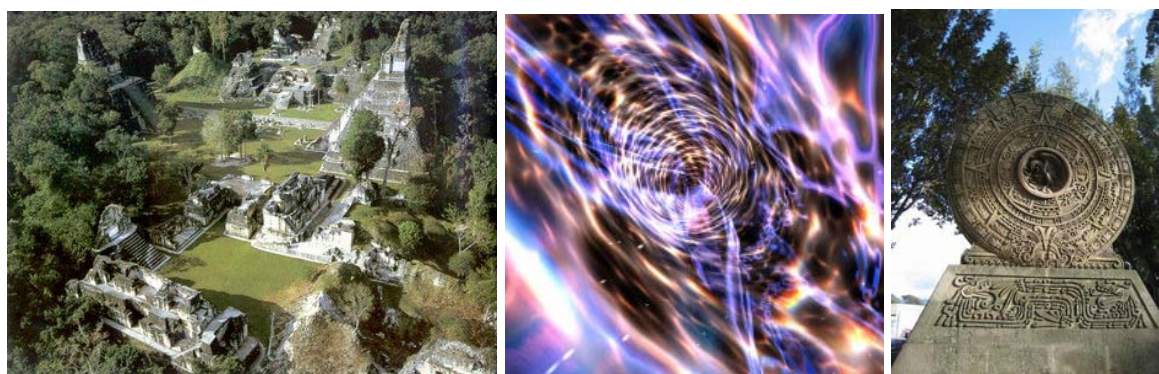

(For more detailed explanation of mechanism that will set Sun into fast growing motion and a few fundamental things that you really need to know about our Sun please see Appendix B)

Is that going to be the end of the story? The end of all life on Earth? Of everything?

Mayan (Sun) Long Count Calendar

Since it's become obvious that we are not the first civilization on Earth, in order to understand what is going to happen in near future, we need to go way back in time to see what information ancients had left for the generations to come as a warning. One of these warnings comes from the Ancient Mayans. Their structures, mathematical and astronomical knowledge and precision of time counting are more than impressive. In fact it is proven that their way of counting time is far more sophisticated than the way we do today. One of the artefacts that remained largely unspoiled by the conquistadors in their search for gold is the so called Mayan Long Count Calendar. It appears as a large, circular stone with many engraved markings and is a record of time keeping spanning 5200 years. It ends on 21 Dec 2012. Why did the Mayans or whoever created and gave that Long Count Calendar to the Mayans not account for any days after that date?

Does that date have to do with the arrival of the energetic pulse from Hunab Ku (Mayan name for Creator that acts through the central galactic opening of the Milky Way) and death of our Sun? Is there a possibility that in those times there was an advanced technology available and was there intelligence; human or nonhuman that had sophisticated knowledge of those future events? Was the Mayan Long Count Calendar left as a warning for those living in present time, around 2012 AD?

There are indications that the Calendar was given to Ancient Mayas. Olmec people had almost the same Calendar, Aztecs and the original Egyptian as well - before it was changed by the secret societies and ruling Masonic Elite to preserve the information and keep it a secret. What were they all counting? All of them were looking at the Sun and at the galactic centre. The Calendar is so profound that it didn't miss a single day, hour, minute or second. Ever. The question remains: "Who were the creators of the Calendar?"; "What did they know?"

The Crop Circles Phenomenon

Perhaps all these questions would remain unanswered if it wasn't the mysterious phenomena known as Crop Circles. During the last few decades we have become more aware of this phenomenon, some form of higher intelligence that is trying to communicate with us by delivering amazing messages in the crop fields around the world. Contrary to popular perception, crop circles are not a modern phenomenon. They are mentioned in academic texts of the late 17th Century, and over 200 cases have been reported prior to 1970.

To date more than 30,000 crop circles have been catalogued worldwide by the military, some occupying areas as large as 200,000 sq ft and their anomalous features continue to be irreplaceable: plants bent an inch above soil and gently laid down in geometrically-precise pattern with no physical signs of damage, light burn marks at the base of stems, altered cellular structure and soil chemistry, discrepancies in background radiation, alteration of the local electromagnetic field, depletion of the local water table, and dowsable, long lasting energy patterns, not to mention measured effect on the human biological field.

One of the essential characteristics of crop circles is that they appear to have been formed by an intelligent source that is able to create and control some form of electromagnetic energy to a very high and precise degree.

There has also been many reports of a very distinctive sound that is heard when crop circles are being formed. In genuine formations the stems are not broken but bent, normally about an inch off the ground and near the plant's first node. In special cases, the stems are bent six inches from the top of the seed head. Such features defeat the hoax argument, since a plank or garden roller would flatten the crop to the ground, resulting in clear damage to the plants. Laboratory analysis has revealed the crystalline structure of the affected plants have actually been changed by some force. Even more significant is the fact that the DNA is considerably different from the plants that have not been affected. In other words this force that has created the crop circle had the exact vibrational frequency necessary to modify the information patterns in DNA.

The laboratory analysis also found that the seeds and the germinating process of the affected plants had been changed. Although the plant itself was unharmed, this force had made substantial changes to the plants natural regenerative processes. It is suggested that this kind of change can only be brought about by tampering with the information patterns in the DNA of the plant. Regarding the bending process itself, the laboratory analysis undertaken by W.C. Levengood (a respected Michigan-based biophysicist) concluded that an energy source “originating in the microwave region had boiled the water inside the plants’ nodes, effectively transforming it into steam.”

For all of you who would like to hear more on this research, who is making those complex pictograms around the world and what most of them mean, I will make special presentation in Brisbane very soon.

Summarized, many of the geometries that are delivered are countdown clocks to 2012 and development of human consciousness. The study of the available evidence has shown that at least 5 non-human races are delivering intelligent messages to us. So despite the fact that this information is suppressed by leading media such as CNN, FOX, BBC whom we all know are owned by so called Illuminati Order or Ruling Elite, we made Contact decades ago. Most of those non-human races have an active triple helix DNA structure (providing telepathic, telekinetic performance) and differ from us with only double helix active DNA potential. More on this will be address at the presentation.

(For more details about triple helix DNA of one of non human races, presented also through the crop circles, please see Appendix C)

Now, why all this is not on the news all the time? Why the secrecy? Why lies and deception about the true nature of this Contact? Why not tell people openly that we are not alone? Why not tell them about the underworld that was built to survive the 2012 Event? Why not tell them about the storage of seeds and food for the next Ice Age they expect after Sun's Red Giant Phase is over and the star becomes a lot smaller – a White Dwarf not capable of producing that much light and heat anymore? Why not tell them the truth?

Are we ready to rewrite our history books, reconsider everything we have been told? Let go of all our beliefs? Let go of fear of unknown? – Probably not yet. Or are our perceptions starting to change, have we yet realized that we've been manipulated by the 'elite' for so long, those concealing this essential information and controlling access to advanced technologies. Would you believe that none of us have to work any more? There are technologies available that can supply sufficient energy for everything and food for everyone. Money keeps us enslaved. We need to work to generate income, to pay the bills, to pay the rent, expenses. We have to live according to their rules. To the best of my knowledge none of other races are doing this to their kind. Only humans have specialized in this kind of behaviour. Greed. Power. But is it their fault alone? Or there are hidden forces that control even the so called Illuminated Ones? Think about it.

Now let's look at what one of the other races has to say about 2012.

15 July 2008 Avebury Manor, Wilts, England. Another mysterious crop circle appeared from nowhere. Mysterious properties detected again. The stem of the plants within a crop circle are bent in a manner which cannot be explained by conventional science. Laboratory tests confirmed unusual properties. No doubt ...a genuine one. (Please see Appendix D with deeper explanation about differences between genuine (non-human intelligence made) versus non genuine (human made) crop circles).

The pictogram is a clear depiction of our planetary system on 23 Dec 2012, two days after the official End of the Long Count Calendar – December 21, 2012. It is a clear selection of two groups: One group consist of thin circles and depicts the orbits of the Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars and Pluto. The other ones with bold circles consist of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. "They" insist that we pay attention on two things:

First: the first anomaly is in Pluto's orbit, NASA solar system live simulator is showing that Pluto should be on different location (picture at the right) which clearly depicts that this heavenly body will be influenced by outer gravitation from some passing body, planet or comet.

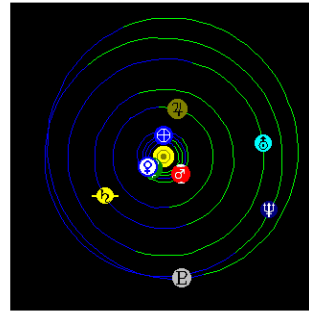

Second: the second anomaly is the splitting into two groups. Can this be understood as separation of our solar system on two groups, as result of extreme Sun's activity in combination with some extreme powerful gravitation of passing body or comet?

The message is perfectly clear – it's our solar system on 23 Dec 2012.

All this would not be so significant if 7 days after, on the 22 July, 2008 an update didn't appear. And what was on it, says absolutely everything we need to know!

22 July 2008 - Avebury Manor, Wilts, England

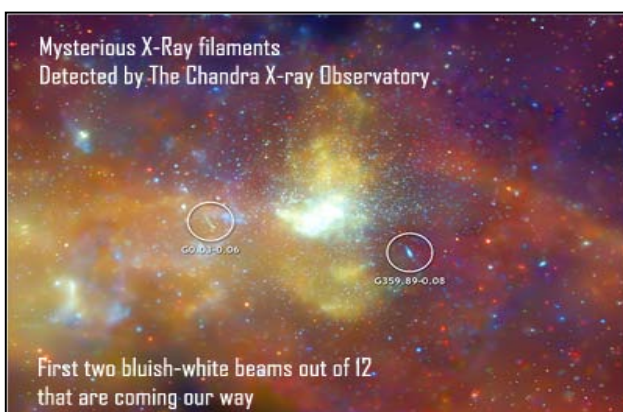

It indicates huge geological changes and movements in our solar system as a result of Sun's expansion in mass and strong gravitational pull from outside. The mass of the Sun is much bigger, showing us the maximal expansion size as a Red Giant and showing us that the planets Mercury and Venus will be completely assimilated.

The Earth with its companion (inside the crop design there is a dot in Earth's circle representing the Moon) together with Mars are staying in their orbits but dangerously close to the Sun. According to this, our solar system will never be the same!

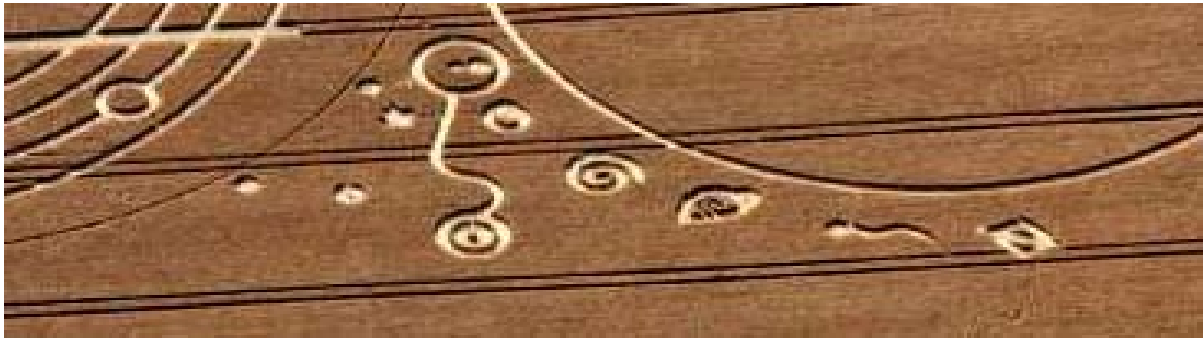

The large circle is the moon's movement around Earth during the year. Actually we are looking at the expanded view of the lunar orbit. There is a smaller circle with 11 rings and a dot that is bringing our attention to the number 12. This tells us that they are suggesting the 12th month of the Moon's movement around Earth. Our Moon will lie in Earth's sky close to a bright comet in the twelfth month (December) of 2012. The precise date will be Dec 13, 2012 when our Sun is in the constellation Ophiuchus and our Moon is new. (Explanation: our Sun at RA = 17 26 on Dec 13 2012 lies close to two stars in Ophiuchus). Now you know why Ophiuchus constellation is all over the ancient temples.

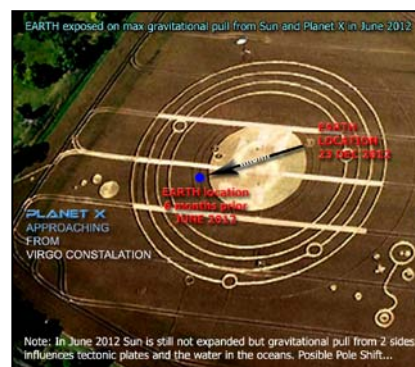

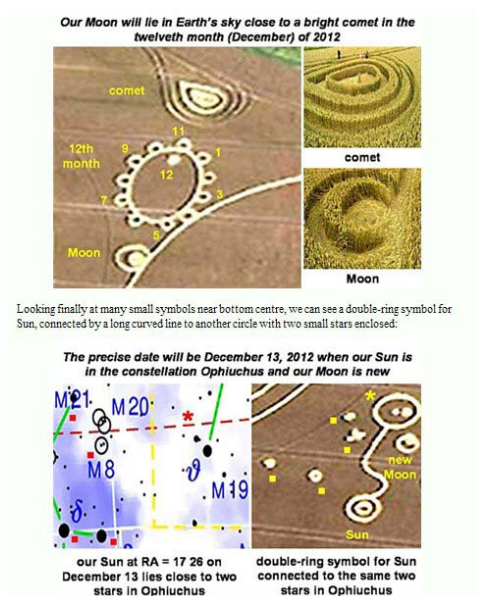

Nominal orbit of Pluto is disturbed by the huge combined gravitational influence of the passing celestial body and the Sun. Crop circle makers depict the new moon, which if checked on astronomy star charts will appear after Dec 13, 2012. On that same, exact date there will also be a comet visible from Earth in the night sky. After further analyses it was concluded that that comet is actually the first bluish-white beam of light out of 12 that will reach us, according to data extracted from other crop messages. Dec 13, 2012 will be the first time that people from Earth will be able to see on the visible spectrum the arrival of the first cosmic beam of bluish-white light from the galactic centre area. Since they travel very fast they will be here very fast, and will hit our planetary system on Dec 23 2012.

The smaller symbols from right to left are:

- Milky Way with depicted galactic plane;
- Cosmic snake symbolizing Nexus or Superwave (the carrier of the Designer's DNA mutation ultimate program - only one that is known in our universe) and shows the snake is coming "spreading" along the galactic disc;
- Snail in ancient Maya tradition is a symbol of the termination of physical Life and also the closure of a cycle, a measure that is completed. . .the final integration;
- The spiral represented the "life-death-rebirth" cycle of the Sun. At the end of the Aztec Fifth Sun our star will slowly start to expand until it reaches culmination on 28 March 2013 when outer layer will be released into space and only the core of the star will be left or the time when a New Baby Sun will be born (reborn) – The Birth of the Sixth Sun. The Birth of Era of Light.
- Next symbol is clearly depicting new moon, and the Ophiuchus star constellation which is in that exact place (close to the moon) in Dec 13 2012.

Before I go on, please understand that this letter contains confronting knowledge of major Earth change events. Sometimes this kind of information can be harmful, especially if you have lived with different life perspectives inside the "Matrix". If you feel that the provided information is too much to take or that you are not ready to know the truth I would kindly advise you not to read any further, continue with your life as before, delete this file and pretend that you never received it. Please know this: This information was not indented to frighten, but to awaken many to begin spiritually, mentally and physically preparing for the challenging period ahead. Its purpose is to aid the transformation process and to raise consciousness of the most important issues that are well known outside the public arena.

It is now obvious that we can not avoid the transformation process which as stated before is cosmic in nature. But what we can do is to work hard on the inner transformation by cleaning and harmonizing our essence and our bio-field. In other words lifting our own vibrational level and staying at the same level most of the time which will lead to a stronger radiation of psionic particles into the environment. Only after doing that, we can speak of eventual meditative connection, firing up the Earth's acupuncture energetic grid and eventual impact on the fractal structure of the Matrix. So the focus is raising consciousness and helping our planet to go through a smoother transformation phase. This can be achieved by reaching oneness with our planet and all the life on it. In other words, by creating strong and stable bio-psionic field of energy around our planet capable of receiving the powerful Nexus Energy (Cosmic Snake) without any harm.

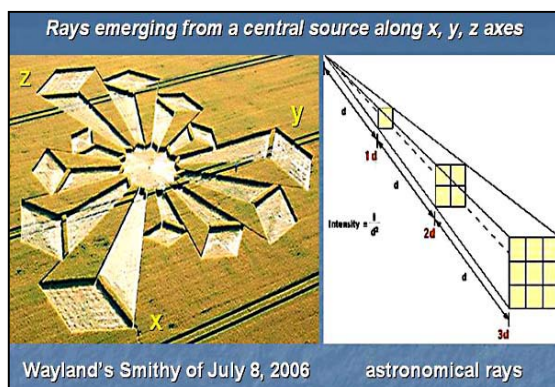

I will elaborate more on this in the second part of this letter, and extensively in the coming presentation. Before I can share with you info in that direction I need to explain to you a little further what crop circle makers are saying about the events that will be happening on the 3D realm very soon.

The detailed analysis that was conducted clearly indicates that high number of pictograms have “Aztec and Mayan symbolism” and “Quetzalcoatl connection”. According to the Aztec tradition, the history of the Earth falls into five successive ages or “suns,” each representing the temporary dominance of a different aspect of teotl. The present era, the “Age of the Fifth Sun,” is the final one. Like its four predecessors, the Fifth Sun is destined to cataclysmic destruction, at which time the earth will be destroyed by earthquakes and humankind will leave Earth.

Conclusion was made that the crop circle makers, are depicting the time measuring according to the “Long Count Calendar” and “Sun-Venus Calendar” exactly the same as ancient Mayas and Aztecs in Central America did long time ago. Both Calendars are clearly depicted in the crop pictograms that appeared in UK, in Silbury Hill in 2004 and in Woolstone Hill in 2005.

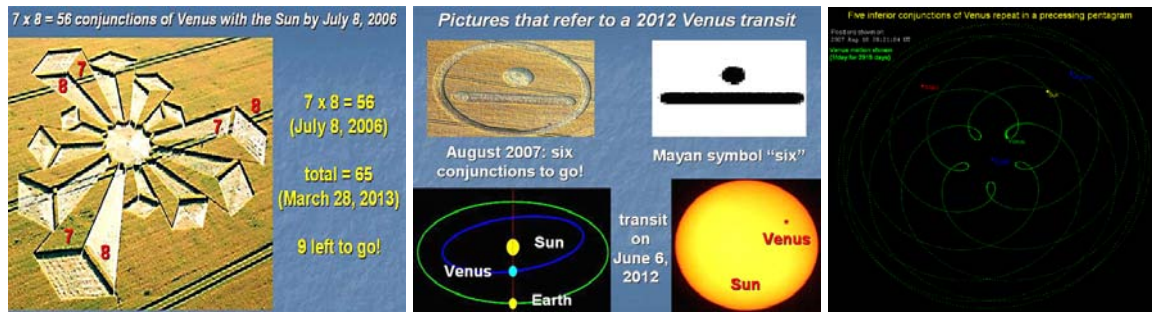

As we already know, The Long Count Calendar ends on December 23, 2012 (and not on December 21, 2012 as most people believe) which will mark the End of the Fifth Sun that started exactly on 13 August 3114 BC. Different from the first calendar, the Mayan Sun-Venus Calendar ends on 28 March 2013, which marks the end of the current 52-year Venus cycle that began on April 10, 1961 and more important it also mark the start of new 5000-year cycle of Sixth Sun.

The messages were perfectly clear, like in the pictogram that appeared 2006 in Wayland's Smithy. This pictogram clearly depicts that at the end of the Sun-Venus Calendar periodically emitted cosmic rays from the galactic core will arrive on Earth. The preliminary analysis of the pictogram that appeared on Wayland's Smithy 2006, had shown series of "astronomical rays" emerging from some central source in all three spatial directions x ,y or z:

Those rays have been drawn as "square" along their lengths, because the intensity of any astronomical wave or ray becomes weaker as it proceeds further from the source by a factor of distance-squared. What could be the central source of energies shown there?

The answer is completely clear – the Ultra Massive Black Hole in the center of the Milky Way known as Sgr A*. A ring of 12 stars surrounds Sgr A* in space, just like a ring of 12 points surrounds the empty centre of that crop picture. Every one of the three longest rays seems to contain a $7 \times 8 = 56$ grid of mini-circles within an open square end. They were showing us the time code, telling us when the longest ray will reach Earth.

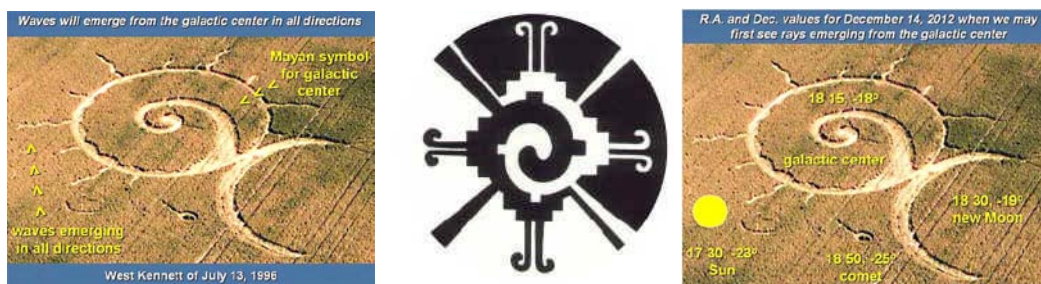

For someone to understand what “they” are trying to tell us, it is better that we firstly understand that every Sun-Venus conjunction lasts for 292 days, whether inferior (Venus between Earth and Sun) or superior (Sun between Earth and Venus). Ever since the pictogram appeared on July 8, 2006, two years ago, when there were still “9 left”, they constantly remind us that the countdown to 2013 has continued!

Then on August 12, 2007, the Mayan/Olmec number “six” appeared at Stanton St. Bernard. It was intended to tell us that “only 6” Sun-Venus conjunctions remained until Venus transit on June 6, 2012, or “only 7” until an end to their Sun-Venus calendar on March 28, 2013.

If the right peaces of the puzzle are combined we are starting to see the meaning of what “They” are trying to say. The crop pictograms clearly are showing an astronomical event that will happen between late 2012 and early 2013, between the ending date of Mayan Long Count Calendar and ending date of the current Sun-Venus Calendar – the arrival of some kind of cosmic rays from the Galactic Centre. Yet another pictogram from West Kennett (July 13, 1996) did seem to describe the same near-future astronomical event in a slightly more precise way, so we will study that one next. We can see the Mayan symbol for the galactic centre, waves emerging from everywhere (12 total), new moon close to the Sun and a passing comet or the arrival of the first of those beams.

Mayan symbol - galactic center

It becomes, obvious that those rays from the galactic center will arrive periodically according to their size and strength. Note: NASA had released many documentaries how cosmic rays affect DNA of life causing mutation for better or worse. In our case, the last and the biggest cosmic ray of all from the “Nexus Event” (the arrival of the energy of the Cosmic Snake), will be the one that will complete the reprogramming of the DNA of the organic life forms in this system. It will arrive exactly on 28 March 2013, when as we mentioned earlier, officially is the “End of the Sun-Venus Calendar”, and the beginning of the Age of the “Sixth Sun”!

What this means?

If we push our sharp logic to the maximum, we are looking at the Event that involves the bathing of our planet and the biology upon it in gamma ray energies projected from the Galactic Centre. In other words, reactivation of the dormant DNA...or reactivation of what mainstream science refers to as 97% junk DNA material. It means as soon as the bluish-white beam of light touches you, you will remember who you were in the past, all the assimilated knowledge will be back together with all the powers of your consciousness. Amazing...we are so lucky to be here in this time and space.

It will be the triumph of compassion and intelligence over violence and ignorance. This is to be achieved by the actual transmutation of human genetic material, our DNA, when it is bathed in galactic light emanating from our own Sun, acting as transducer of the Galactic Centre itself, passing directly through the Earth.

As of June 2008, three full orbital cycles of Venus (large white numbers) remains until the end of our current Mayan Sun – Venus calendar in 28th of March 2013. Any full synodic cycle of Venus takes 584 days or 1.6 years, hence there will be $3 \times 1.6 = 4.8$ years until March 2013. Likewise, five half orbital cycles of Venus (small blue numbers) remains until Venus transits the face of our Sun in June 2012. Any half synodic cycle of Venus takes 292 days or 0.8 years, hence there will be $5 \times 0.8 = 4.0$ years until transit on June 6, 2012. This is the same 52 or 104 – year calendar that's the Olmecs, Mayans or Aztecs used long ago in central America. Five days later at Stanton Bridge on July 4, the Mayan number "three" appeared, once again to remind us that only three full orbital cycles of Venus until their calendar ends on March 28th 2013.

Another important message about the expansion of the outer layer of the Sun appeared on 27.06.2009 Milk Hill Stanton, St Bernard, Wiltshire.

Funtunfunefu-Denkyemfunefu (Siamese crocodiles) >> UNITY - ancient symbol of democracy & oneness despite cultural difference.

Despite the fact we have different cultures we are ONE. This Truth can be seen only when a being reaches a development of fourth chakra. When the fourth centre is open, the consciousness sees that everything in cosmos is part of the same source and is ONE.

The time for conflict is over and it is time for peace and balance. On greater scale, humanity will experience this when North becomes South during the next Solar maximum at the end of 2012. Again there is clear depiction that Sun will expand in mass. If you see all this with the eyes of your mind you will see global changes in this 3D reality, but if you see with the eyes of your heart things look completely different. During this Event Humanity will realize that only Love is the answer and that everything else is illusionary. The same day and few days after the Milk

Hill Stanton, St Bernard, Wiltshire crop design appeared, there were few other crop designs depicting different extraterrestrial races, their written language and most of them had a circle where third eye should be on the forehead. Also there was arrow pointing out from the extraterrestrial head showing clearly that they are transmitting messages so we will understand and prepare and also that they are observing us all the time. I can not go far into this at this moment, much more will be covered in my presentation but what I want to point out is that Humanity has to open up to the fact that we are sharing this planet with many other life forms and that there is oneness despite cultural differences. It also has to open up to the fact that our planet is changing, since current cycle is coming to its end and that the ones that choose the path of Light and Peace await evolution and upgrade of DNA.

What Are We and DNA structure

Before we can understand more clearly what our role is in this entire 2012 scenario, we need to go through few others aspects of our existence. Let's start with understanding what we are, what is our pure essence, what is our bio-energetic structure and our subtle bodies, how all that is connected to RNA/DNA and especially how RNA/DNA is going to be influenced by the cosmic energy that will arrive in late 2012.

WHAT ARE WE?

We are an Intelligent Life Force in the Universe and our pure essence is the Consciousness.

Our Consciousness is capable of multidimensional presence. It has its own bio-energetic field that people usually know as auric field. Besides the biological host that we have, we also have so many other energetic hosts, bodies or vehicles, if you will.

Those “energetic carriers” can provide the Consciousness to be present in different dimensions. One energetic host or subtle body have a suitable density and speed of vibration of only one dimension or plane of existence, otherwise our pure essence can not be in that dimension inside that particular energetic host or body.

At the moment most of humans are operating on so called double helix functionality which means we are using only 3% of our DNA genetic material and all the rest 97% of the genetic material is inactive or dormant. Mainstream science calls it Junk DNA, supposedly its there for nothing and we have no use of it whatsoever...which as so many other things presented by mainstream science is completely incorrect. That 97% of the genetic material is disconnected at this moment but still undamaged and can be reactivated. In fact, all the rest of the energetic bodies we have can be accessed and controlled if that genetic material becomes active, along with all the energies and abilities that goes with every one of them. In other words, every one of those bodies has different abilities, different type of interwoven energies and capable of different performance.

In order that you can understand this properly I will explain this in this fashion:

Scientific community had split the composition of our Universe to Normal Matter ~ 4%, Dark Matter ~ 26% and Dark Energy around 70%.

Normal matter contains everything we see on the visible part of the Universe including super-clusters, clusters of galaxies, galaxies, stars, planets, biological life forms etc...or if you prefer different approach: it consist of heavy elements 0.03%, neutrinos 0.3%, stars 0.5% and hydrogen/helium around 3.2 %.

Now, picture all those layers: “Normal matter”, “Dark matter” and “Dark energy”, into one single large Cube.

On the bottom put the Normal matter as most dense: super-clusters, clusters of galaxies, stars, planets, chemical elements, biological life and everything that can be seen from our perspective inside the cosmos. Above that layer put Dark matter: invisible dimensions even more filled with energy and larger variety of life forms; and at the top you put the last layer “Dark Energy” where energy is strongest and directly influences any further dynamic movement in the creation process of this Universe. Universe is alive, intelligent and fully conscious of itself and it's still following dynamic pulsation of fractal contraction and expansion. That dynamic pulsation of contraction and expansion is orchestrated from above, from the layer mainstream science calls Dark Energy, and despite the fact that, that terminology is wrong because that energy is definitely not dark...the better term would be Invisible Energy.

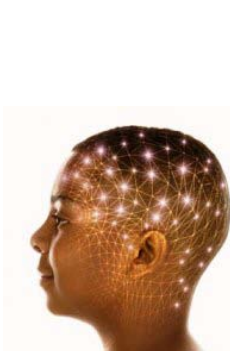

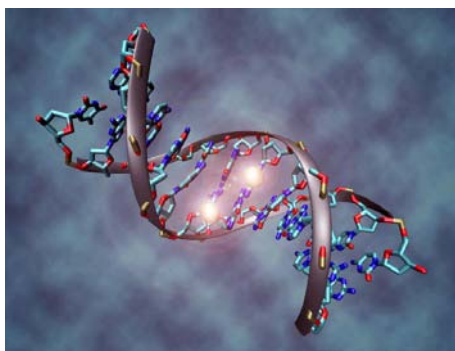

Anyway, observe that Cube as mix of all of that. If you zoom in, the Cube has different densities from bottom to top and other way around. It allows streaming and penetration of energetic particles with different speed depending on the density or in the location in the Cube. On the bottom the density is high and particles move slower because of that density and how you climb towards the top the particles move extremely fast since its becoming less and less dense.

All those densities are completely different dimensions. Separate but still connected in the same time. Old models of understanding are holding the perspective of 7 huge dimensions in this Universe that have different densities, but personally I do not see any reason why there can not be an infinitive number of dimensions outthere. In fact, there are lot more then just seven planes of existence and I will explain this in more detail in the presentation.

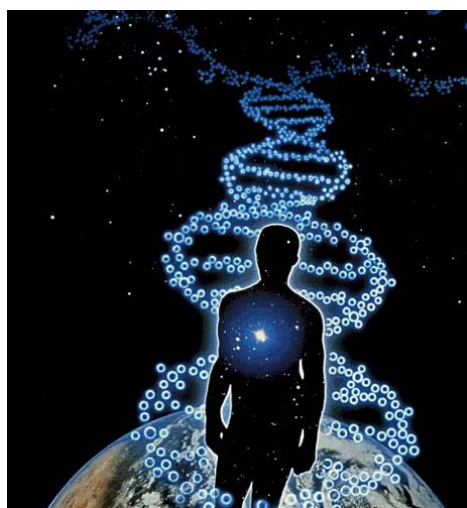

To the best of my knowledge, our pure essence has potential to be in most of those dimensions if not in all of them using a suitable vehicle locked in our dormant DNA potential.

At the moment we function on double helix functionality which is only sufficient that you can see and read this text and to experience it to a certain level...and let's say relatively low awareness of the astral plane in the form of the lucid dreaming, short out of the body experiences or near death experiences. The most input is taken from the five senses and that's all that most of us can reach and experience. That's all that those 3% of active genetic material can provide...a low quality of existence.

Despite the fact its only 3% of the active DNA, most of humans are still using the astral body during the sleeping time, completely unaware that they are in the one of their subtle bodies and completely unaware that they are in the other dimension – astral dimension.

Controlling your astral body and conscious controlled out of the body experiences will be also covered in my presentation and I believe its good to mention that I will be doing also seminars and workshops for astral projection in Brisbane soon, teaching whoever is interested in those rare arts. I have extensive experience in the subject with more then thousand students worldwide.

As mentioned before in the rest 97% of the genetic material we have so many other carriers that if activated we can reach deeper into the universe. The closest dimensions are so called etheric, astral, mental and causal dimension. To simplify, the physical dimension is most dense, the etheric layer is the frontier between mater and antimatter, the astral is less dense than the physical but denser that mental and causal dimensions. The higher you go, or the further you go from this dimension...the conditions change, the density is different and speed of vibration is different. If you travel in your astral body you can observe the astral dimension but you can not observe the mental and causal dimension etc. Every next dimension you are in extends your abilities, understanding, it brings you more extended perception and wisdom if I may say. The more you climb up the more you understand yourself and the purpose of your existence in the Universe. The more you learn and grow the more you become aware of your responsibility and what your task is or how you can help in the Great Divine Plan.

It's not hard to understand that the higher you climb through dimensions you need more and more active DNA. For the consciousness to be capable to be consciously present very high in those realities, it needs fully activated DNA structure. It needs 12 strains DNA functionality or 100% active DNA genetic potential. Now, another important part:

When a human being physically dies

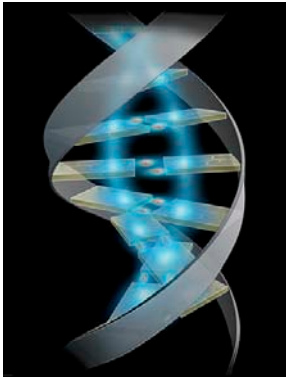

When a human being physically dies, that does not mean that the DNA is destroyed. It means that the DNA stays with consciousness because it has many subtle bodies that are attached to it, and which the consciousness can use as vehicles for moving through the higher dimensions of the Universe. The only part that fades when the event we call physical death happens is the harmonic that matches the physical vehicle.

The higher DNA harmonics are still with the consciousness because as I said earlier is capable of multidimensional existence or capable of moving through different dimensions using suitable vehicles. Once again, the astral body matches the astral frequency, mental body the mental frequency or plane of existence and so on.

In other words, today DNA and the consciousness are interconnected because the subtle bodies are interlocked inside the double helix. Apart from tiny DNA physical harmonic that is slowly disintegrating as the physical body starts to fall apart in time, the rest of DNA stays intact and departs with the consciousness. In the moments very near to the physical death, when the consciousness realizes that the time for departure is near, certain natural bio-chemical process begins allowing some further activation of DNA structure, probably around 3% more to be able to provide relative good awareness of the astral dimension and relative good clarity of the astral vision. When that happens, most people see that they are now in some transparent body and that their senses had drastically increased in quality. They are able to neutralize the Earth's gravity by conscious thought command, pass through walls and physical obstacles, able to fly, reach space, communicate telepathically etc.

The problem that exists on Earth, and I will explain this in more detail on the presentation, is that in the event when a person physically died, the consciousness that had moved away from the physical host, stays with double helix functionality despite it has changed the environment from more dense to a less dense plane of existence. In some cases, few more percentages are added to those 3% active DNA but still it's only enough for the conscious presence on the astral dimension. All this is a huge science that I will teach whoever feels its ready on my seminars.

Even when through the process known as incarnation, when the consciousness returns back in the physical realm of existence and takes another biological host it's still keeping the same double helix functionality...the same potential. It's like your vehicle can go very fast, let's say 30.000 km/h but for some reason you are only allowed to go 3 km/h. The potential is there but dormant, asleep.

Unreachable and useless, in this moment. Not to mention the complete dependency on the five senses, that provides extremely limited perception of surrounding reality. Perhaps all this is far out from your default model of understanding, people do not speak in the news about those things, but please hear me out. It's very important that you receive this info. In fact, in my perspective there is nothing important than this, especially now when the time is so short.

Summarized, the more DNA is activated the more we can reach towards other planes of existence and fully conscious.

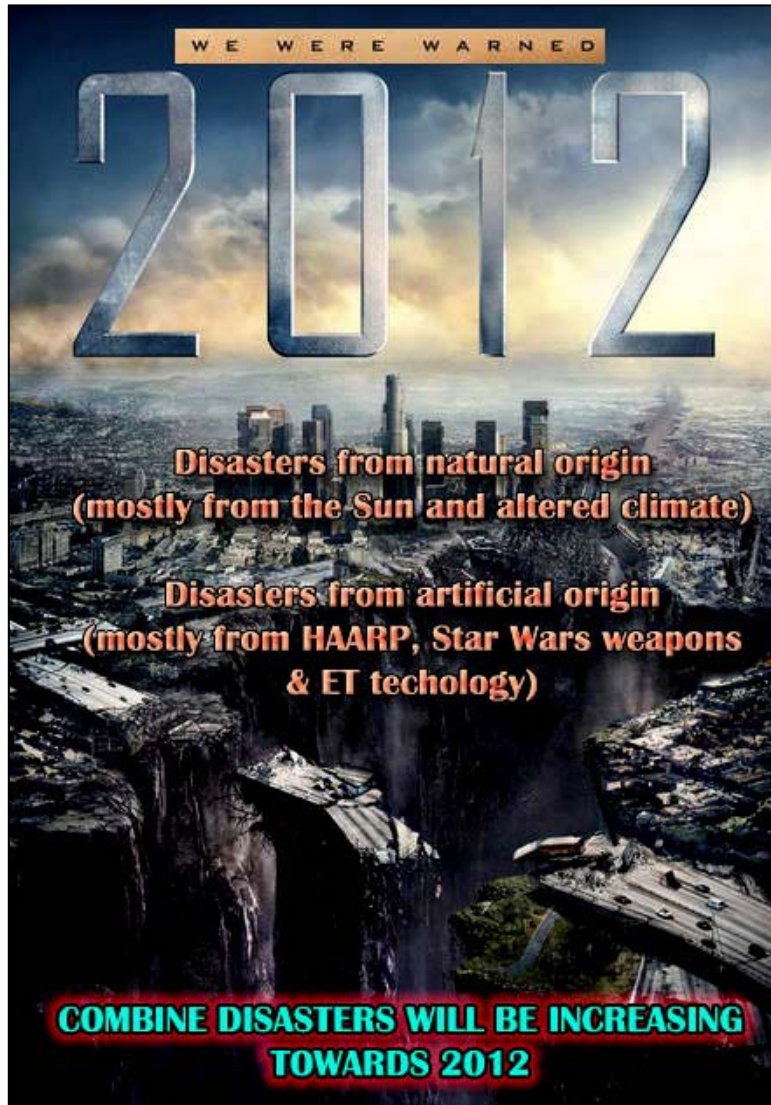

The arriving cosmic snake, energetic wave known as NEXUS is so powerful that it causes mutation of the DNA structure...once you are touched by the bluish-white light, all those 97% dormant genetic material will awake and reactivate, all the memory of who you were in the past, all your accumulated knowledge during your incarnations, all your abilities and powers will be regained. You will be able to see and understand the big picture, you will become functional again and you will be safe. Finally you will be able to take care of yourself.

The only problem that those humans known as "Light Workers" are concern, is that the Dark Forces that are also present on this planet are completely aware of the approaching energy and what that energy is capable of doing to the RNA/DNA of life. If not stopped they will try to reduce human population to such extreme scale that only one/tenth of the population will remain on the physical dimension.

How the game will be played by the Dark Force

The plan is to use natural disasters and artificially made ones, using technologies like HAARP and similar to achieve reduction of the human population on the physical dimension.

Here is the logic...As soon as most of the humans will loose their biological bodies, they will awake in the astral dimension and since the consciousnesses will still have only double helix functionality, it will be a kind of shock for them. It will be as you were sleeping close to the edge of a swimming pool and someone had suddenly pushed you inside the cold water. Imagine the surprise you will have and that it will take a few seconds at least before you realize what is going on. The plan is that when immediate astral awakening will took place, the consciousness will definitely be not used to that kind of awareness, not used to the astral plane and definitely not aware of the potential of the astral body...so they are going to be an easy target for the negative extraterrestrial groups that are very familiar with the astral dimension.

After the catastrophes that will take place in the physical dimension, if the negative ETs want to be successful, they need to act during the first moments of shock and agony. They have probably less then a minute to do this, to take advantage of billions confused consciousnesses that have no idea where they are and what is going on, and to trap them into energetic containers. After they are stored into huge energetic containers they will be taken far out of this space region via star ships.

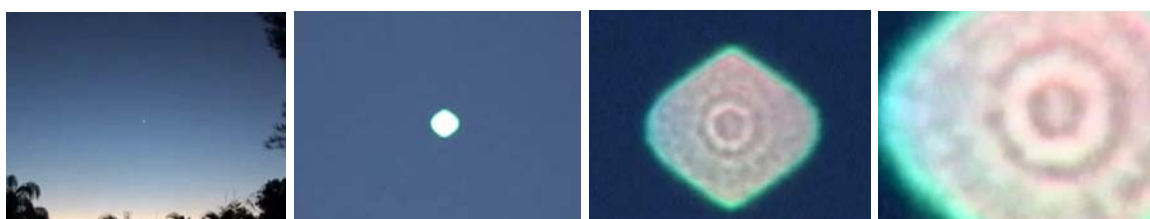

Perhaps, it will come as a shock to many of you, but at this moment there is a real war for souls and the UFO activity is greater then ever. And with only double helix functionality we are in most unpleasant situation and almost like siting ducks. Perhaps you will learn astral travel soon and take a look for yourself what is going on in the closest dimension.

At the moment here on Earth there are three sides: one side consist of biological/non-biological species of Light, the second one consist of biological/non-biological species of Darkness and the third side consist of neutral ones which do not want to get involve in Earth's inhabitants' karma. Every each of us has a choice to choose side.

The Forces of Light are fighting for a mass awakening and mass gathering, making tremendous effort that we join in meditative oneness and protect ourselves and our planet by creating an astral shield of energy in the form of Flower of Life.

They only way that Dark Force can win over humanity is to move the humanity out from the reach of the coming beams and preventing further mutation of the RNA/DNA human structure. If the Light Workers and other positive ETs that are around us and watching us, are not successful and this scenario still happens, remember this words when the time comes, don't stare into floods, earthquakes and terror down below that you see from the astral dimension, you have not much time to become aware that your physical body is gone and scenario that you have read in 2010 took place. Stop panicking and concentrate on going fast towards the center of the Milky Way galaxy. Take a strong and fast astral flight and push the consciousness to maximum without fear.

The beams are not far away so you will not need to travel far and as soon as you see gigantic approaching beam of bluish-white light, go straight into it. Once it will touch you, the DNA change will be completed and you will be safe. But you have to remember that you have max 30 seconds to become aware of what is going on and move your pure essence in your astral body out of the astral space of Earth before the negative entities use advanced technology to trap it. Remember max 30 seconds to escape the planet, and to direct yourself towards the galactic center of Milky Way. It's very important that you got this clearly.

In case the Dark Force will be successful, while the consciousnesses of billions of previously humans will be travelling to other systems, they will be kept almost in a dream state, completely unaware of what is going on. Certain percentage that has more active and dynamic consciousness and those few additional percentages of the DNA structure had been awoken, will face deliberately created hologram like they are flying through dark tunnel with the light at the end, and once its crossed they will face familiar environment, towns, villages, houses, buildings, streets, humans, loved ones, land and blue sky and everything else that perception will identified as earth-like environment. Of course in reality it will be a hologram...to a Christian, mother Marry and Isus will appear, to Moslems, Hindu, Buddhist and the rest more or less religious followers, others suitable figures will become visible...After consciousness are taken to different planets they will be put into another genetically double helix compatible host and manipulation for food, energetic feeding and crossbreeding can continue for a very long time. If we do not wake up from the dream, start paying attention what crop circles actually means and what we have to do to avoid all this.

Dark intelligent life forces lives on our moon, the call them fast-walkers, shadows that moves extremely fast (what you are seeing on the above four images is not a craft but living shadow entity that has high rank in the Dark Force hierarchy – at least thousands of them are detected on the moon, leaving the moon, coming to Earth and going back to moon again)

Trust my words that many of the Extraterrestrial groups have the knowledge and capacity to do it easily. And they are already doing it since the process had already started. What some people experience during the so called alien abduction experience is just a game to what some of those negative groups are capable of doing. And the bigger problem is that most of the elite politicians are already implanted with micro-devices and completely under control of the groups.

Another Shadow biological/half-etheric creature photographed by Apollo (Moon); -- Ancient record of negative ET (Egypt); -- Atemp of physical alien abduction (Mexico)

As my friend David Icke stated, the elite world politicians we see in the news, are not chosen by people and election process, but they are previously chosen by their bloodlines. As most that are part of high Masonic Lodges they have absolutely no emotions whatsoever about what they are doing to others and absolutely no compassion. They do not feel any guilt at all. They just follow orders not aware what the real controllers in the background are planning to achieve. It's obviously that it's not about the money or control or even not a race for gaining extraterrestrial technology. Ruling Elite already have unlimited amount of money, they print them and own the banking system, they have already much of the back-engineered extraterrestrial technology and they already control everything in this matrix at least what human societies are concern. So it's something much bigger, something that we are going to talk about.

Note: Only the ones that are in the certain planetary zones will not be affected, since even if you had lost your physical body your pure essence is save in your astral body. They have two options, to stay inside the triangle zone (if they have this information and they do not panic) or take a strong and extremely fast astral flight towards the center of the Milky Way galaxy in order to intercept the bluish-white beams of light). Either way, once touched by the light of the Creator, the DNA will reactivate and its done - you are safe.

This is just a bad joke right?

I wish it was.

The most important factors within the vaccines are intended to reduce Earth's population and that is why they are targeting the long term sick, children and pregnant women. What then of those who do not fall into the categories in their first wave? These others are particularly feared by the Illuminoids because they have health, intelligence and potential to resist the so called New World Order. The use of nano-particles in a shot for this category has a dual purpose. It is intended to insert the much feared "chip" in people that can then be tracked and controlled, and generally used as slave labourers, skilled and otherwise. All populations across the globe will be targeted thus, they hope.

But, there is an even more secret reason for the intention to introduce this vaccine to all groups, surviving the vaccine or not, and that is to do with curtailing the ongoing mutation of Human RNA/DNA, first noticed in all global populations from the mid-1980s onwards.

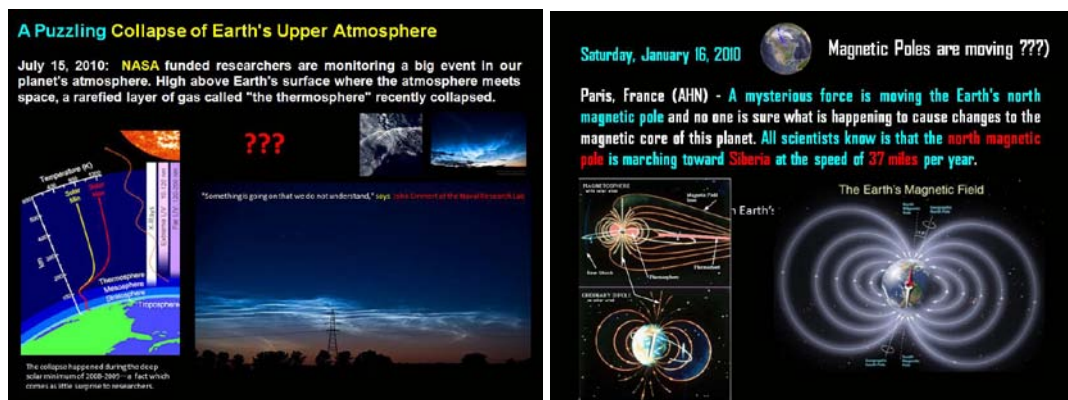

But before we touch that important subject we need to understand few things about how cosmic rays penetrate into our solar system and to what scale they influence the DNA of life.

Cosmic rays penetration into Solar system

Like Earth, our entire solar system has its own atmosphere, called the Heliosphere. It's a "protective bubble" that surrounds the Sun and all of the planets as our system travels through space. One of its functions is to block the penetration of the cosmic rays, cosmic dust, and all sort of interstellar material.

The boundary between this heliosphere and the interstellar medium is known as Heliopause. Like our Earth's magnetosphere, the movement of the heliopause creates a rounded "head" and a narrowing "tail". During the last solar maximum it suddenly manifested anomaly, it stopped to function as before. It's completely changed dynamic allowed and are still allowing cosmic dust and cosmic rays to enter our system. First the heliopause collapsed and recently it was discovered that Earth's thermosphere collapsed too. Not to mention that in 2009 scientists confirmed that Earth's magnetic poles are moving away from their previous locations at the rate of 37 miles per year. The movement rate will surely increase rapidly as a consequence of the major changes that are taking place inside our Sun and approaching energy. Another important factor for such behaviour of the magnetic field could easily be the gravitational influence from the passing celestial body close to Pluto. In fact the gravity of this celestial body has a major role in the changes of the speed of the Earth's rotation its magnetic field.

Interesting article appeared recently: <http://www.allheadlinenews.com/articles/7017531445>

“..A mysterious force is moving the Earth's north magnetic pole and no one is sure what is happening to cause changes to the magnetic core of this planet. All scientists know is that the north magnetic pole is marching toward Siberia at the speed of 37 miles per year.

Whatever it is, it is unlikely to stop. So people will need to make allowances when they pull their compasses out to orient themselves, scientists say.

Scientists first found the magnetic north pole in 1831 and it pretty much stayed put until 1904 when it started moving northeastward at about 9 miles per year. However, in 1989, it sped up more and in 2009, scientists confirmed that it was moving at 37 miles per year toward Russia...

Everything is changing rapidly, earthquakes, volcanos, floods; the climate is out of control. People are dying every day in great numbers all around the globe. Around 2000 people lost their lives in the floods in Pakistan and more than 6 million people were left homeless. Whole cities and regions, destroyed completely. As 2010 started, we are seeing similar scenarios everywhere on the planet.

Despite the natural weather anomalies, there is solid evidence that high technology is in use to induce even more disasters...Unreal. The oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico is only one example. I just wonder what was done to us so that we become so blind and ignorant.

These images are just three out of many that are showing solid evidence of what was the cause of the oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. The first massive explosion occurred five seconds after the image on the left was shot. Other two images are showing clear view of deck/damage by the laser beam. Who did it? Still unknown but it is a clear example of a mega disaster from artificial origin. Disaster which consequences are yet to come. In stead of working all together and using the best of technology into constructive ways and how to deal with the upcoming changes the technology is used for dark purposes.

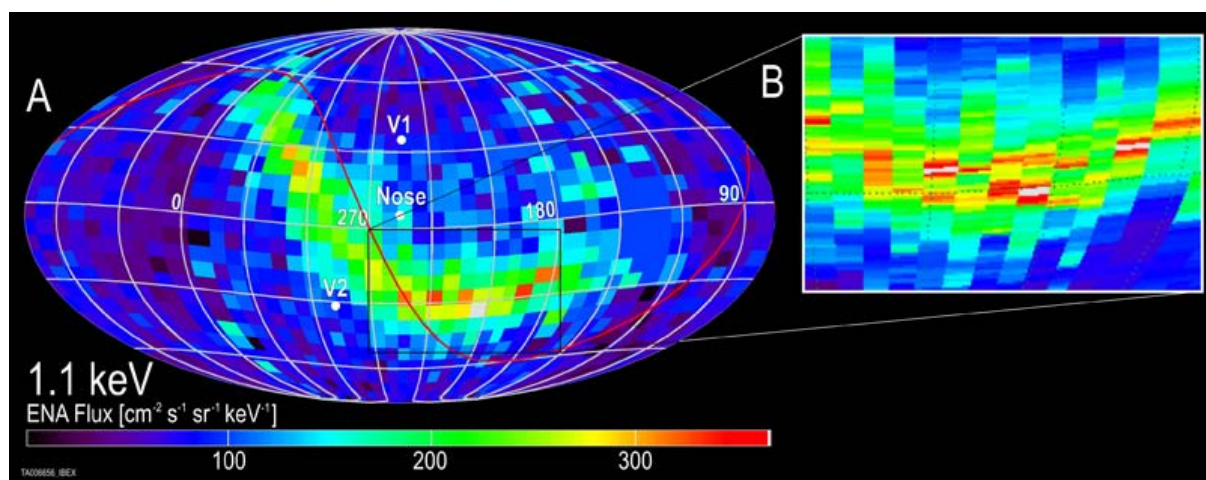

Anyway, until recently, astronomers believed that our solar system was a region relatively free from cosmic dust. The cosmic dust and frozen material of space were kept outside this protective bubble. This was confirmed when the IRAS and Ulysses spacecrafts showed infrared images of the solar system, surrounded by wispy clouds of cosmic dust that increased in density just beyond Saturn.

So if cosmic dust is surrounding the heliopause, what would make it suddenly penetrate the heliopause and enter inside the heliosphere? And how would this coincide with the previously unseen long solar minimum in 2008-2009 and almost enormous solar activity that we are seeing from the beginning of 2010?

Not long ago, thanks to new surveillance technologies lunched into the space, it was confirmed that something is definitely disrupting the heliopause from the outside, impacting it and drawing cosmic dust inside with it and energizing the Sun. The energy of such an impact would be immense. The most logical place to look for such enormous released energy is at the center of The Milky Way Galaxy. The measurements of cosmic dust streaming inside the heliopause have steadily increased to almost three times its original size since the last solar maximum in 2001.

During the solar maximum of each 11 years cycle, the polarity of the Sun shifts - North becomes South and visa versa. This brief period of magnetic instability allows some cosmic dust to enter the heliopause because the Sun's "shields" are reduced. But once the new polarity is established, the Sun usually quickly blocks the dust. This time (2001) it didn't happen.

Cosmic dust has been streaming in from the Galactic center direction and astronomers are at a loss to explain why. This is the first time something like this has happened, at least in the time frame of our Sun monitoring.

WHY THIS WAS THE CASE?

Something happened during the last solar maximum in 2001.

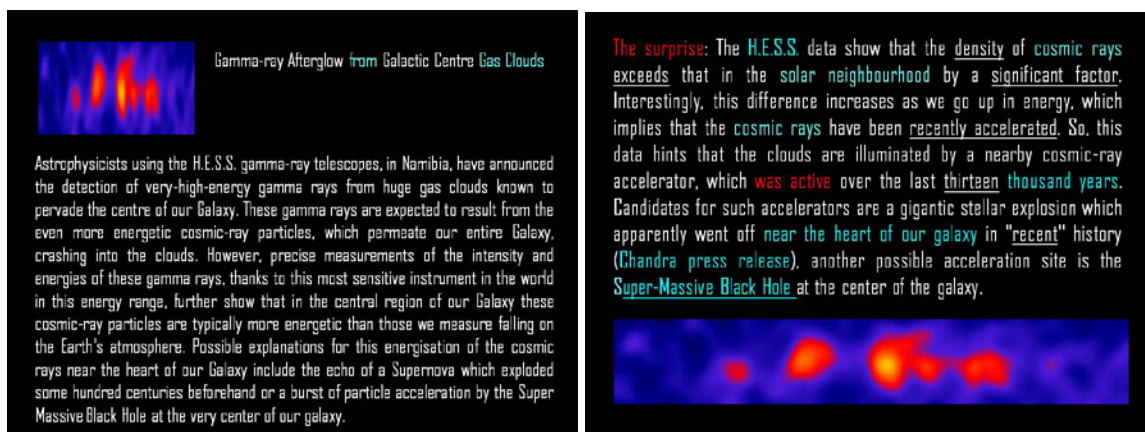

The protective shield around our solar system for some reason became less effective and the galactic dust from outer-space continued to penetrate inside. It's still penetrating. Its penetrating in big time, disrupting if I may use that word the "default" behaviour of our Sun. What Sun is doing in 2010 and in the previous two years is far out from anything we seen so far.

It is becoming obvious that there is some unknown connection between our star and the super massive black hole of the Milky Way. It is also becoming obvious that our solar system is already experiencing the invasive energy from the exploded galactic core as we move closer to 2012.

The recent data shows that dramatic and potentially deadly effects can result from solar flares and coronal mass ejections. Substantial data suggests that an event, similar to the one anticipated in the "2012 scenario", occurred not so long ago in Earth's history and was recorded by ancient humans. This event appears to have lasted for several years in duration and was responsible for the abrupt end of the last ice age as well as a substantial culling of the human population.

The surprising findings of my good friend Dr. Paul LaViolette (PhD), supported by other research, suggests that the extreme solar event corresponded to powerful radiation coming from the center of The Milky Way Galaxy and that it was associated with gamma rays and cosmic dust. Recent observations have shown a dramatic increase in gamma ray energy in the Galaxy's equator.

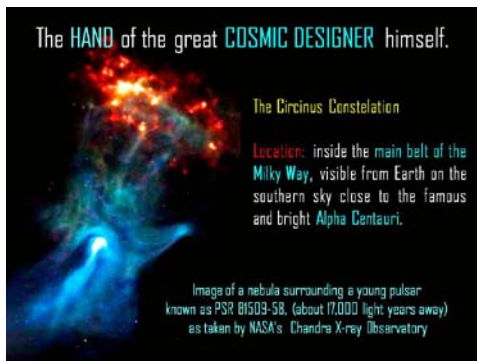

We are talking about a Superwave of energetic particles (cosmic snake) with unusual properties that are coming our way. That same energetic wave of unknown composition has the power to change everything that we see around us, including us. If small amount of cosmic rays that are already reaching us are capable of DNA mutations its not difficult to comprehend what extreme amounts of cosmic radiation can do. Perhaps some of you that are into the genetics would say...yea right, the genetic mutations are happening because we are consuming genetically manipulated food. No, genetically manipulated food is to stop the DNA mutation that is happening naturally as a result of new codes that arriving with the cosmic rays. I will explain this in more detail in my presentation.

I guess you must have got the message till now; we are facing a Mega Event in just two years time. Maybe for some, this is only a 26,000 years old deadly gamma-ray outburst from the Sgr A*, something extremely dangerous to be reckoned with.

However, for the open minded...it's a lot more than that. It will be contact with the COSMIC DESIGNER Himself. It is a supreme program from the same COSMIC DESIGNER that created all the planets, stars, galaxies, clusters and super-clusters that we can see. It's our opportunity for freedom and evolution.

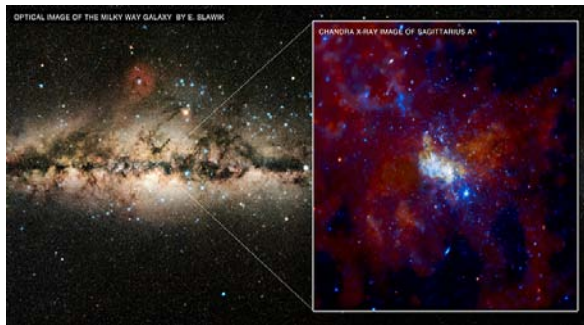

Cosmic Designer's bluish-white beams of light will change the DNA composition of everything they come in contact with, but to the best of my knowledge it is extremely important that the emotional part of the pure essence that is touched, is clean and positive in nature as much as possible.

Why Bluish-White beams of light?

Scientists have found that the core of an active galaxy can shine brighter than the galaxy itself. That is, cosmic ray electrons breaking away from the galactic core, close to the speed of light, produce a bluish bright light, so bright, that it masks the life of galaxy spiral arms and surrounding masses of stars. Difference in distance detected – those two are moving extremely fast

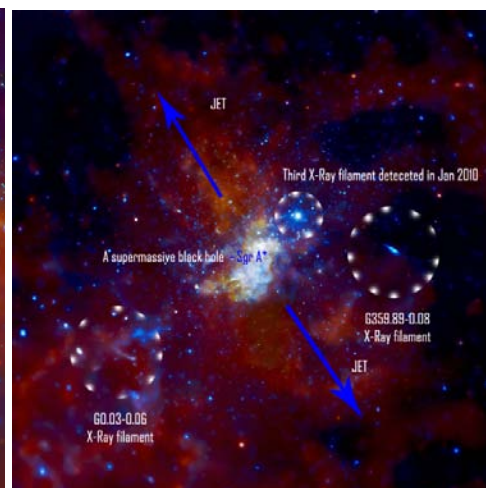

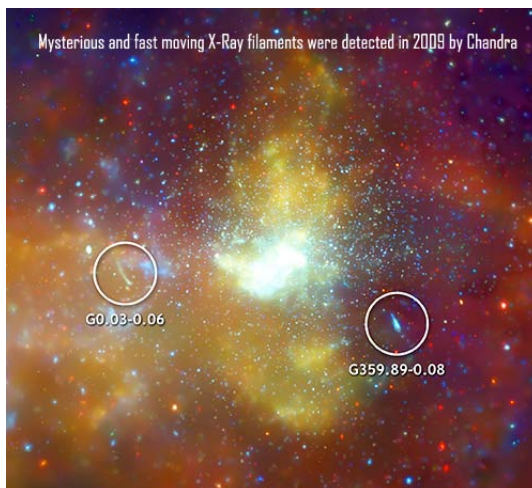

Since our solar system is currently at the location of a joining point between the Sagittarius Dwarf galaxy and The Milky Way, the arrival of cosmic rays will certainly affect us.

Since in visible spectrum, it wasn't possible for scientists to see directly in the galactic core because of its intervening dust clouds, they had to scan with x-rays which allowed them to see right through the dust clouds. If the explosion took place, most of the blue light from the galactic core explosion that came from the cosmic ray electrons emitted from the core should be visible with x-rays scan. Simple as that.

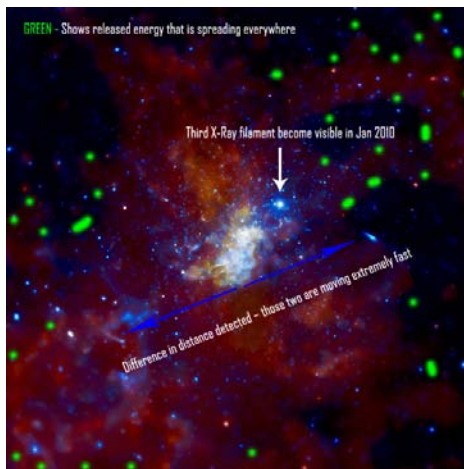

Were they detected?

Affirmative.

The first two so called mysterious "x-ray filaments" were detected in 2009 and then the third x-ray filament that has bluish-white appearance is detected in January this year. Chandra X-Ray Observatory is still not releasing new images on which we can easily calculate the speed of their movements. They are enormously big x-ray filaments and are the first three out of twelve that will be detected and that reach us, changing our DNA structure and the world as we know it. The only official statement that NASA gave was that they are moving extremely fast and they have no idea at this point what is the cause of it.

That is...officially of course.

Off the record...they are aware of real situation. They provided few video files of the Sgr A* explosion on their official website - the released Jet and the released energy that is spreading along the galactic plane. They done it mostly to show others that are in the know, perhaps also to a few that will figure out and find the info useful, but definitely not for the majority since the masses does not have the sufficient knowledge to understand what exactly they are looking at and what that actually means for life on Earth.

During the 26,000 light year journey to us, these powerful cosmic ray electrons would continuously generate a beam a bluish-white light.

As crop circle makers have obviously shown, soon after they become visible to us on Dec 13, 2012 when our moon will be yang, the Superwave of cosmic rays will start to penetrate the protective magnetic field of our solar system. When time comes, as soon as they penetrate inside the heliopause they will cause a network to form, of faintly luminous cobweb-like filaments stretching out from the sky.

It does not take a rocket scientist to figure out that as result of the penetration of those cosmic rays our RNA/DNA is already changing. We are mutating, and there is a great awakening process. Many children that are born everywhere express telepathic and psychokinetic abilities, are able to astrally project and communicate with ETs. Just in Africa there are cases of albino children that are born completely white while their parents have black skin biological host. Humanity is under surveillance and different kind of genetic programs by many extraterrestrial species. It is going on for thousands of years back but only in the last two decades we are becoming more and more aware of their presence and activities.

Children on the left: Albino children number increasing world wide especially in Africa. The three middle images are showing new born baby that is half-human/half extraterrestrial and it was born in Mexico last year. Similar cases are happening everywhere but they are heavily suppresses by the public media and the mothers are usually humiliated and they do not want to attract public attention and people to know about it. The genetic programs conducted by different ET groups had become more complex then ever. Today it's a real mess.

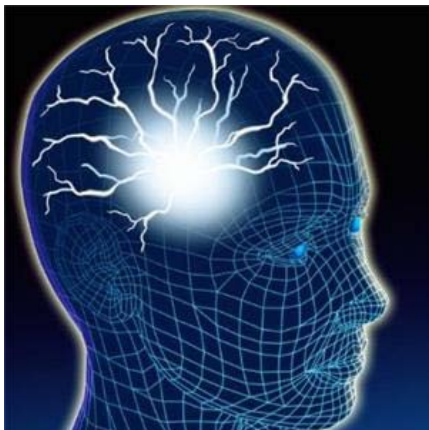

Anyway, usage of fluoride, aspartame, genetically manipulated food, vaccines and many other tools are only to slow down the mutation process. To slow down the awakening and the evolution of human race. At the moment it's a kind of mess on our planet since many cultures have different agendas. Our governments are not doing us a favour by denying the evidence that we are not alone, that we are not controlling the land, water, air space of earth and definitely not the solar system.

Btw, are you aware that the famous double-helix DNA discovered by Watson & Crick, has a central area thought to be evolutionary “junk,” but is actually a growing third strand, increasingly communicating with the other two strands?

The potential of the light-encoded filaments in these strands to trigger a rapid metamorphosis into a twelve strand RNA/DNA is of great concern to the Illuminati Elites, because once activated, it will make the human being a totally new type of superhuman being. A being with a fully utilised brain (currently, even a genius only uses one tenth of his mental capacity.) A changed endocrine system, a raised healing rate, an integrated and fully functional seven-chakra system operating on the aetheric level and morphing into a thirteen chakra-system.

This natural process of super-evolution creates the “Novaman” species, a severe threat to the NWO power base, because such beings will be in natural telepathic communication with their fellows, on world and off. Their consciousness will be raised to superhuman perceptive levels, increasing psychic powers, currently latent, but growing. Such beings will be sovereign and have no further use for the drones known as Illuminati.

The desperate hope of the Dark Cabal (The Highest Ranking Cabalistic/Alchemic Body in the Illuminati Ruling Structure), is that the vaccine nano-particles will incorporate gene-splicing agents intended to effectively halt the receiving of Galactic (cosmic ray) signals and information packages activating the molecular mutation, by splicing the strand communications at cell level.

The secondary method being ramped-up, to prevent the Galactic signals getting through, is to change the frequency of the terran atmosphere, using sprayed airborne particulates that lower the intensity of the super-violet rays currently bombarding our planet and causing changes in human beings responsive to the energy input. At least a quarter of Earth’s Humanity is very responsive to these incoming rays and are mutating, at what the NWO consider an “alarming rate.”

The fact is that even now human race is changing fast, and the more DNA is becoming active and starts to form towards triple DNA structure. Since DNA is also antenna, it simple responds to the received signals that are directing the DNA molecule to reconfigure itself. That means that more and more of us will soon be in a position to resist the negative alliance when time comes. That is why we need to open up, to change our ways, to let go of old belief systems, to learn to use those potentials.

Summarized, Dark Force workers are in the rush to implement their insane project and NWO before 2012. Implemented New World Order will allow them One World Government and will provide them a legal power to use weapons to kill billions of people in the name of global peace and illusionary terrorism, and then trap billions of consciousnesses in the astral dimension inside huge energy-field containers, store them in large star ships and taken away from the approaching energetic wave. All that we see on shelves of major food stores is in order to prevent evolution of the human DNA and the return of psionic powers of the Consciousness. The sad part is that 99.9% of human population have absolutely no idea why we are forced to use genetically manipulated food at all?

Anyway why not do this now, openly? Why do not eliminate us all right now? Why waiting till the very end? Who can stop them?

They can not do this directly because there are others who are present here and are watching and will not allow such act. They are still standing aside, following the cosmic rule of not influencing into the evolution of other species, but helping us indirectly and guiding us through messages through crop designs.

Some of the species that want to help us are already communicating with people that had activated enough of their RNA/DNA potential or have been born with it and are able to pick up their telepathic transmission and to understand it properly. To the best of my knowledge, there are at least around few hundred people around the globe capable of direct communication with ETs including myself. If you wish I can help you to reactivate more of your DNA potential and connect with the ETs that are sending us messages via crop circles and the consciousness of mother Earth known as GAIA. All that in order that you become more in position to help avoiding the worst possible scenario mentioned previously.

It's not a taboo anymore that human physical body is well designed bio-computer. Apart from illusion and religious belief systems, human biological bodies are cloned bio-computers. Date of genetic design and by who ... is still unknown. The RNA/DNA testing clearly showed that biological vessels are artificially manufactured and are not naturally created. In fact most of the life everywhere in this Universe is genetically engineered.

Ancient Giants and DNA

A genetic research during the last 60 years showed that original functionality of a single biological host was far beyond imaginable, but for some reason today functionality of the same become limited only to 3-4% of DNA potential usage.

In order to answer the logical question, how our physical bodies got in that condition of such limited functionality we need to go way back in time when DNA was more functional than today.

If we look back in our past we will see that everything was gigantic. Trees were far bigger and higher, animals were far bigger, sea life was a lot bigger, birds were a lot bigger, insects were bigger also, and there were human beings that were a lot bigger than today tallest human being.

In fact the evidence of the excavated bones worldwide had shown at least five body sizes of humans.

In fact, if we look in our distant past, we see that not so long ago, just less than 13 thousands years ago on the face of Earth there were many giants, life forms that do not exist anymore today.

Creatures with four and more arms or legs, half humans – half animals, half humans – half fish, creatures that were here on Earth that came from the stars etc. In those times the humans were a lot different, there was even a race with blue skin, then a race with long ears and huge antenna that grown from the top of their head, creatures that in our understanding can be classified as angelic or demonic.

The Sanskrit texts are often speaking of humans with super natural powers building huge temples with using only psychokinetic powers and doing amazing things that are strange and difficult to comprehend even today. There are scripts and other evidence that are describing telepathic communications between yogis as some form of tuning into meditative oneness in order to influence the matrix or to take group astral travel to distant dimensions.

Summarized, the atmosphere in ancient times was a lot bigger which means there was lot more prana or life force in it. Simplified, the more prana means the more DNA in abundance.

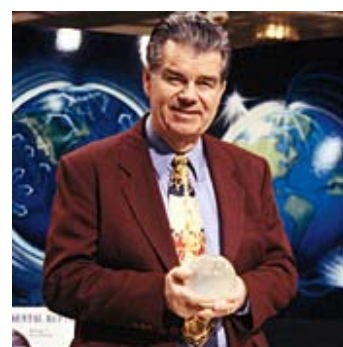

Today our atmosphere is a lot smaller, nothing grows that big anymore, and we see obvious fall in the DNA functionality.

Ref: NASA NEWS Sept 1st 2010 > Earth's High Atmospheric Layer Recently Shrunk to Historic Low > The Sun's energy output declined to unusually low levels from 2007 to 2009, during the recent prolonged solar minimum of scarcely a sunspot. At the same time, Earth's thermosphere (55 to 300 miles altitude) shrank more than at any time in the 43-years of space exploration. The results showed the thermosphere cooling in 2008 by 41 kelvin (about 74° Fahrenheit) compared to 1996, with just 2 K attributable to the carbon dioxide increase. The results also showed the thermosphere's density decreasing by 31 percent.

Whatever the cause was, ten etheric strands of the DNA molecule were disconnected from the endocrine system from our bio-computer. The endocrine system actually is connected with the bio-chemical processes that are activating the pineal gland, pituitary and thalamus. Those glands are directly responsible for many manifestations that can be classified as “higher sensory perception”.

After the Great Fall of RNA/DNA those glands shrink in size and lost most of their functionality.

In order to scientifically prove this observation, we can take as a reference the research of the archaeologist Dr. Carl Baugh who had artificially created the same conditions as present in the distant past and managed to induce gigantism. Dr. Carl is an archaeologist and also a Director of the Creation Evidence Museum in Glen Rose, Texas.

He proved that the environment in which we live with plants and other animals has changed from the environment thousands of years ago. He stated that the composition of the air we breathe has continued to change. For example, the concentration of oxygen found within the air has decreased over time. The climate, including temperature, humidity, rainfall, snowfall, and the like has also been changing. Whatever was the case, his research concluded that there was a decrease in atmospheric pressure, a decrease in the concentration of carbon dioxide in the earth's atmosphere, changes in the strength and orientation of the earth's magnetic field, and the change in the intensity and characteristics of the light cosmic radiation to which life on Earth was exposed. He invented and patented a 'Hyperbaric Biosphere' chamber to test Biblical claims regarding pre-flood atmosphere and magnetic conditions based on Genesis that states that life on earth was created 'perfect' and designed to live very long or even forever. It also states that after the Great Fall, all elements of which everything is made were degraded.

This "Hyperbaric Biosphere" patent allows for the ability to vary the mix of gases comprising the atmosphere in the chamber as well as to vary the electromagnetic field intensity, frequency and duration.

He was after what is called Optimal Genetic Expression – or the best of the RNA/DNA what organism can have.

Claims include;

- an oxygen supply and control mechanism for supplying oxygen to said chamber and maintaining a predetermined oxygen concentration of 22% to 30% of volume therein;
- a carbon dioxide supply and control mechanism for supplying carbon dioxide to said chamber and maintaining a carbon dioxide concentration in the range of 0.1% to 0.3% by volume therein;
- An apparatus wherein magnetic field coil is connected to a power generator for generating a controlled electromagnetic pulses at energy levels in the range of 1 to 5 Gauss and at a frequency in the range of approximately 0.5 Hz to approximately 30 Hz.

Dr. Baugh's experiments with his special hyperbaric biosphere have produced fascinating results that indicate potential methods to heal and/or rejuvenate people today. NASA has even requested Dr. Baugh's research and discoveries to determine their applicability to the space program.

Some examples include; extended life span of drosophila fruit flies up to three generations, molecular change of venom in copperhead snakes to a non-toxic state, accelerated growth of piranha fish - from 2" to 16" over a 2.5 years period.

It has been estimated by researchers at the University of Illinois that the atmospheric pressures thousands of years ago, could have been as much as 29.4 pounds per square inch, twice the current sea level pressure (14.7 psi at sea level).

- oxygen content would have been about 30% instead of the 21% we experience today
- an open wound could heal overnight under these conditions
- this atmospheric condition would support human life lasting several hundred years

In any case this is taking us to one conclusion. Today Double Helix DNA functionality is related to current life conditions. Nothing is gigantic anymore, but if you pay better attention of the world today you will start to see that DNA is changing again and more and more creatures are experiencing mutations in their species. As stated before, the upper layer of our atmosphere is disappearing that means that we will be exposed to cosmic rays even more. The more exposure on those cosmic radiations, the more DNA will react on those cosmic impulses and the more DNA change will take place. The truth is we are in the middle of a great shift in consciousness – a massive awakening.

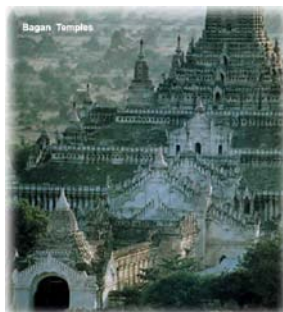

But in order to understand how we got in this state, we have to see back in time, but this time not with filtered eyes, prejudices or belief systems, but with unfiltered eyes. The best method is like you pull over the chess table, let all the figures fall down and then you start to put the figures on the chess table one by one. In other words, we need to start scanning into the past with new eyes. Forget about the history books, most of those had proven useless, full of perspectives and belief systems forced by the ruling elite. Reality then was a lot different and stranger than fiction.

Among the first conclusion when you observe the most ancient temples, is that most of them are made from granite, very tall and massive in size, very complex and very difficult to cut, shape and build without advanced technology and knowledge. The naked truth is that the granite was so heavily manipulated in those structures that make you spin in your head if you know what it requires that to be accomplished, at least with today's modern technology.

For example, in Lebanon there is a location 44 miles from Beirut with fascinating ruins. This place is called Baalbek and it is also mentioned in the Old Testament Book of Kings. These stones called Trilithon, are officially the most massive stones in the world that have been used for construction purposes. Despite the fact that some scientists consider that they weigh around 800 tons, the truth is, no one with 100% certainty can say how much they actually do weigh. It could be double or at least much more than 800 tons.

They are simply so big that we do not know for sure how much they weigh. These stones were somehow cut, shaped, and moved to Baalbek from a location some five miles away. Then they were lifted in the air, perfectly erected and connected so that you cannot put a paper or riser in-between each stone. How in the world, they managed to do that, is still unclear. In any case, one thing is sure - today "officially", we do not possess a crane which is capable of lifting those weights. Not even close.

Even to move a block of stone that weighs a lot less than one half of what Trilithon stone weighs, we need a team of construction engineers, at least two cranes with a combination of one or two helicopters. If we today cannot lift those stones, how was this achieved by the builders of Baalbek thousands of years ago?

Probably a combination of elephants and logs?

Today the strongest elephants can lift up to 500 kg max if they use their body weight, leaning backwards and are able to push a 25 tone block stone on wooden logs. This stands mostly for African elephants since they are stronger than the ones in Indonesia. For the record: the hardest logs will be smashed like butter under the pressure of 200 tone stone block.

No?

I didn't think so.

And not to mention that they were transported 5 miles and positioned side by side with such precision that, not even a needle can be inserted between them. There is no wooden log that we know of, that can hold such weights; even logs out of hardest wood would be very quickly crushed under the weight of a heavy 800 tone Trilithon stone.

So who were the supermen behind this breath-taking project? Surely the world is aware of their origins and history. Who were these people?

Unfortunately, however, nobody knows their names. Nowhere in extant Roman records does it mention anything at all about the architects and engineers involved in the construction of the Great Platform. No contemporary Roman historian or scholar commentates on how it was constructed, and there are no tales that preserve the means by which the Roman builders achieved such marvellous feats of engineering.

Why?

Why the silence?

Surely someone, somewhere, must know what happened. And herein the problems begin, for the local inhabitants of the Beqa'a Valley — who consist in the main of Arab Muslims, Maronite Christians and Orthodox Christians — do preserve legends about the origins of the Great Platform, but they do not involve the Romans. They say that Baalbek's first city was built before the Great Flood. They also say that the first city become ruins as a result of terrible conflict and was much later re-built by a race of giants. Bones of enormous proportions were excavated all over the area.

The official stories presented by leading media about how all those ancient monuments were build are ridiculous and absurd. Yet, the belief that that how it was done is still accepted by many that are still asleep in the ordinary matrix, not aware of the major manipulation that is going on. Even today, despite the few unsuccessful attempts, we are not powerful and skilled enough to duplicate the Great Pyramid of Giza with all its inner complexity.

Despite our impotence to admit that we are far away from the peak of the Evolution of life that once existed on this planet, there is a huge amount of evidence found all around the world. Firstly, there were so called "Men in Black" who were responsible for retrieving, hiding or destroying if necessary, anything that could serve as evidence of what exactly happened before on Earth.

Forgotten Past and Ancient nuclear conflicts on Earth and Moon

If you do not know what happened before, you do not understand why things are like they are; you have no clue what you are or why you have only this double helix functionality. They have destroyed this "Men in Black enigma" (backed up with thousands of testimonials worldwide in the last 60 years) with movies that reflect science fiction comic nonsense. Those movies are not even close to the real events. Today it's probably a group with a different name but with the same purpose.

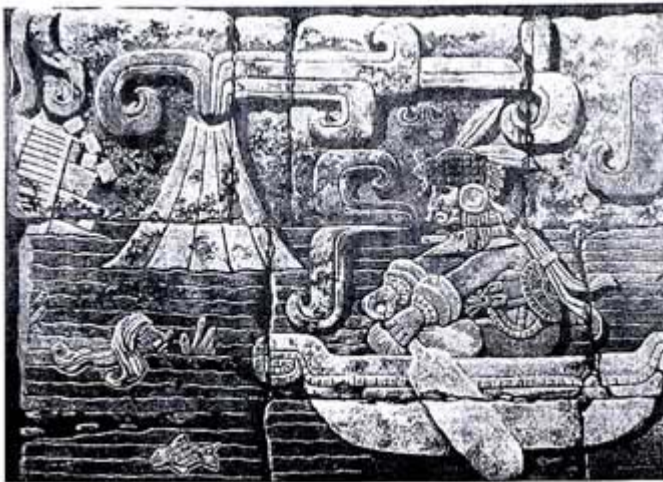

Anyway, that is why we must not be so ignorant about the knowledge and messages that the ancients have left for us. That is why it's extremely important that we study the ancient knowledge which is speaking about the beginning and an end of cycles that are of crucial importance for life on this planet. People who are not aware of their true history are lost and can be easily manipulated. On the other hand, to those members from so called "Elite" who are in possession of the real information what exactly happened in ancient times, that knowledge gives them a great advantage. It gives them huge space for easy ruling.

Every 26000 years our solar system passes through the 12 zodiac signs. Ancient people such as the Hopi, Egyptians, Cherokee, Apache, Mayans and other, were aware of this Great Cycle and had Calendars according to it. This Cycle is defined by many different occurrences in nature such as sun's orbit around the Alcion the central star of Pleiades. This cycle is broken down into five sub-cycles of 5125 years each. Every of those sub-cycles have their own Age. As mentioned before, the Aztec Calendar or Mesoamerican Sun Stone, depicted that each sub-cycle had been destroyed by the five elements.

The sub-cycle that we are currently in, is the AGE OF THE FIFTH SUN (3113BC – 2012AD) as explained in the crop circle section of this file.

5123 years ago in the year 3113BC, the Age of the Forth Sun ended. It was the time of the Great Flood that every ancient tradition is talking about.

MAYA STORY OF ESCAPE FROM ATLANTIS

The beginning of a continuous bas-relief frieze discovered in Yucatan, which suggests to a remarkable degree the Atlantean cataclysm. The above photograph describes a pyramid and temple collapsing, a volcano in eruption and the land sinking. The figure in the water suggests destruction of life by drowning. Many escaped as symbolized by the figure in the boat.

Some researches are stating that Mayan Time Keepers had left records that Earth has been through fire, earth, air and water and that time Earth will be altered through the final element ETHER and humanity will leave this planet for good.

All over the world in every native culture you will find stories of a Great Flood that wiped out much of humanity. There is no doubt that an unimaginable catastrophe, or more likely catastrophes, were visited upon the Earth between approximately 11,000 and 4,000 BC. The geological and biological evidence is overwhelming in its support of the countless stories and traditions which describe such events. They come from Europe, Scandinavia, Russia, Africa, throughout the American continent, Australia, New Zealand, Asia, China, Japan and the Middle East. Everywhere.

Some speak of great heat which boiled the sea; of mountains breathing fire; the disappearance of the Sun and Moon and the darkness that followed; the raining down of blood, ice and rock; the Earth flipping over; the sky falling; the rising and sinking of land; the loss of a great continent; the coming of the ice; and virtually all of them describe a fantastic flood, a wall of water, which swept across the Earth.

Old Chinese texts describe how the pillars supporting the sky crumbled; of how the Sun, Moon and stars poured down in the north-west, where the sky became low; rivers, seas and oceans rushed to the south-east where the Earth sank and a great conflagration was quenched by a raging flood. In America, the Pawnee Indians tell the same story of a time when the north and south polar stars changed places and went to visit each other. North American traditions refer to great clouds appearing and a heat so powerful that the waters boiled. The Greenland Eskimos told early missionaries that long ago the Earth turned over.

Peruvian legend says that the Andes were split apart when the sky made war with the Earth. Brazilian myth describes how the heavens burst and fragments fell down killing everything and everyone as heaven and Earth changed places. And the Hopi Indians of North America record that: "the Earth was rent in great chasms, and water covered everything except one narrow ridge of mud".

All of this closely correlates with the legends of Atlantis and Mu or Lemuria: two vast continents, one in the Atlantic and the other in the Pacific, which many people believe were ruled by highly advanced races. The continents are said to have disappeared under the sea in the circumstances described above, leaving only islands like the Azores as remnants of their former scale and glory. Atlantis was described by Plato (427-347 BC), the ancient Greek philosopher and high initiate of the secret society-mystery school network. To this day this secret network has passed on much knowledge to the chosen few while denying that privilege to the mass of the people. The Azores, which some believe were part of Atlantis, lie on the Mid-Atlantic Ridge which is connected to a fracture line that encircles the planet. This line continues for a distance of 40,000 miles. The Mid-Atlantic Ridge is one of the foremost areas for earthquakes and volcanoes.

Four vast tectonic plates, the Eurasian, African, North American and Caribbean, all meet and collide in this region making it very unstable geologically. Both the Azores and the Canary Islands were subject to widespread volcanic activity in the time period Plato suggested for the end of Atlantis. Tachylite lava disintegrates in sea water within 15,000 years and yet it is still found on the sea bed around the Azores, confirming geologically-recent upheavals.

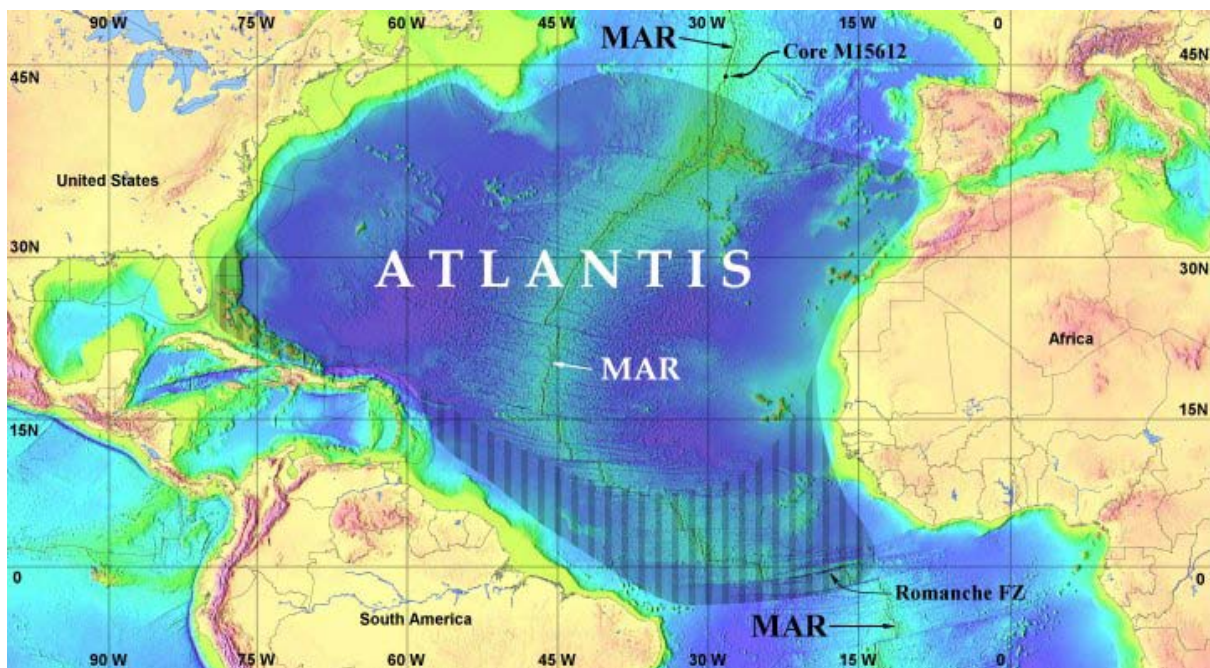

Other evidence, including beach sand gathered from depths of 10,500-18,440 feet, reveals that the seabed in this region must have been, again geologically-recently, above sea level. The oceanographer, Maurice Ewing, wrote in National Geographic magazine that: "Either the land must have sunk three miles, or the sea must once have been three miles lower than now.

The geological and biological evidence also suggests that the widespread volcanic activity which caused the sinking of the land in the region of the Azores, happened at the same time as the break up and sinking of the land mass known as Appalachia which connected what we now call Europe, North America, Iceland and Greenland.

Even their degree of submergence appears closely related. Similar evidence can be produced to support the view that vast continent of two great ancient cultures “Mu” and “Lemuria” now rests on the bed of the Pacific.

The so-called Bermuda Triangle between Bermuda, southern Florida, and a point near the Antilles, has long been associated with Atlantis. It is also an area steeped in legends of disappearing ships and aircraft. Submerged buildings, walls, roads and stone circles like Stonehenge, even what appear to be pyramids, have been located near Bimini, under the waters of the Bahama Banks and within the ‘triangle’. So have walls or roads creating intersecting lines.

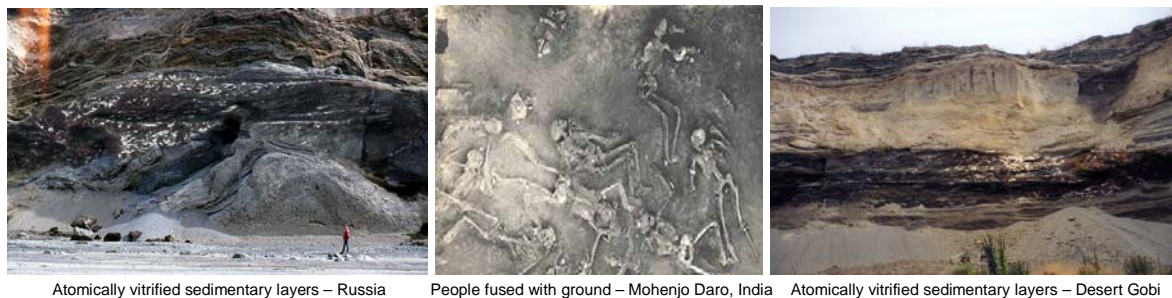

The Himalayas, the Alps and the Andes, only reached anything like their present height around 11,000 years ago. Lake Titicaca on the Peru-Bolivia border is today the highest navigable lake in the world at some 12,500 feet. Around 11,000 years ago, much of that region was at sea level!

Why are so many fish and other ocean fossils found high up in mountain ranges? Because those mountains were once at sea level. Recently so in geological terms, too.

There is increasing acceptance that the Earth has suffered some colossal geological upheavals. The debate (and often hostility) comes with the questions of when and why. These upheavals have obviously involved the solar system as a whole because every planet shows evidence of some cataclysmic events which have affected its surface, atmosphere, speed and angle of orbit or rotation.

There was certainly an enormous cataclysm on the Earth around 11,000 BC which destroyed the advanced civilisations of the high-tech Golden Age and that date of 13,000 years ago is highly significant and very relevant to the time we are living through now.

It is interesting to be mentioned that during an exploration of subsoil by the Russians and Chinese in 1927 traces of the ancient nuclear explosions were detected. Certain sedimentary layers had been atomically vitrified many thousands of years ago. The very same phenomenon can be observed today around nuclear test sites. Clear evidence of nuclear blast and people fused into the stone and soil is found in Lost City of Mohenjo Daro with measured radioactivity. Evidence that indeed advanced war took place in the ancient times.

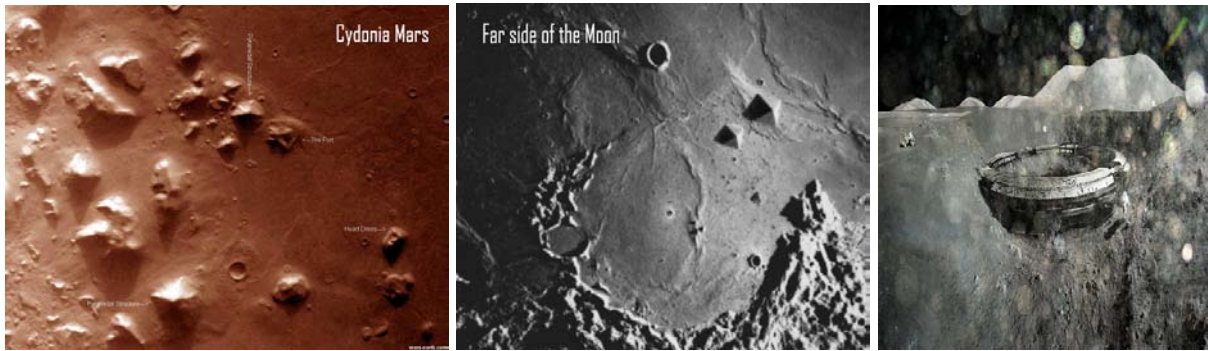

It's become obvious that we are not the first civilisation here on Earth and certainly not the most advanced one. The evidence had shown that the previous civilizations had spread all over the entire planet. More than 600 pyramids made of stone, earth and even iron.

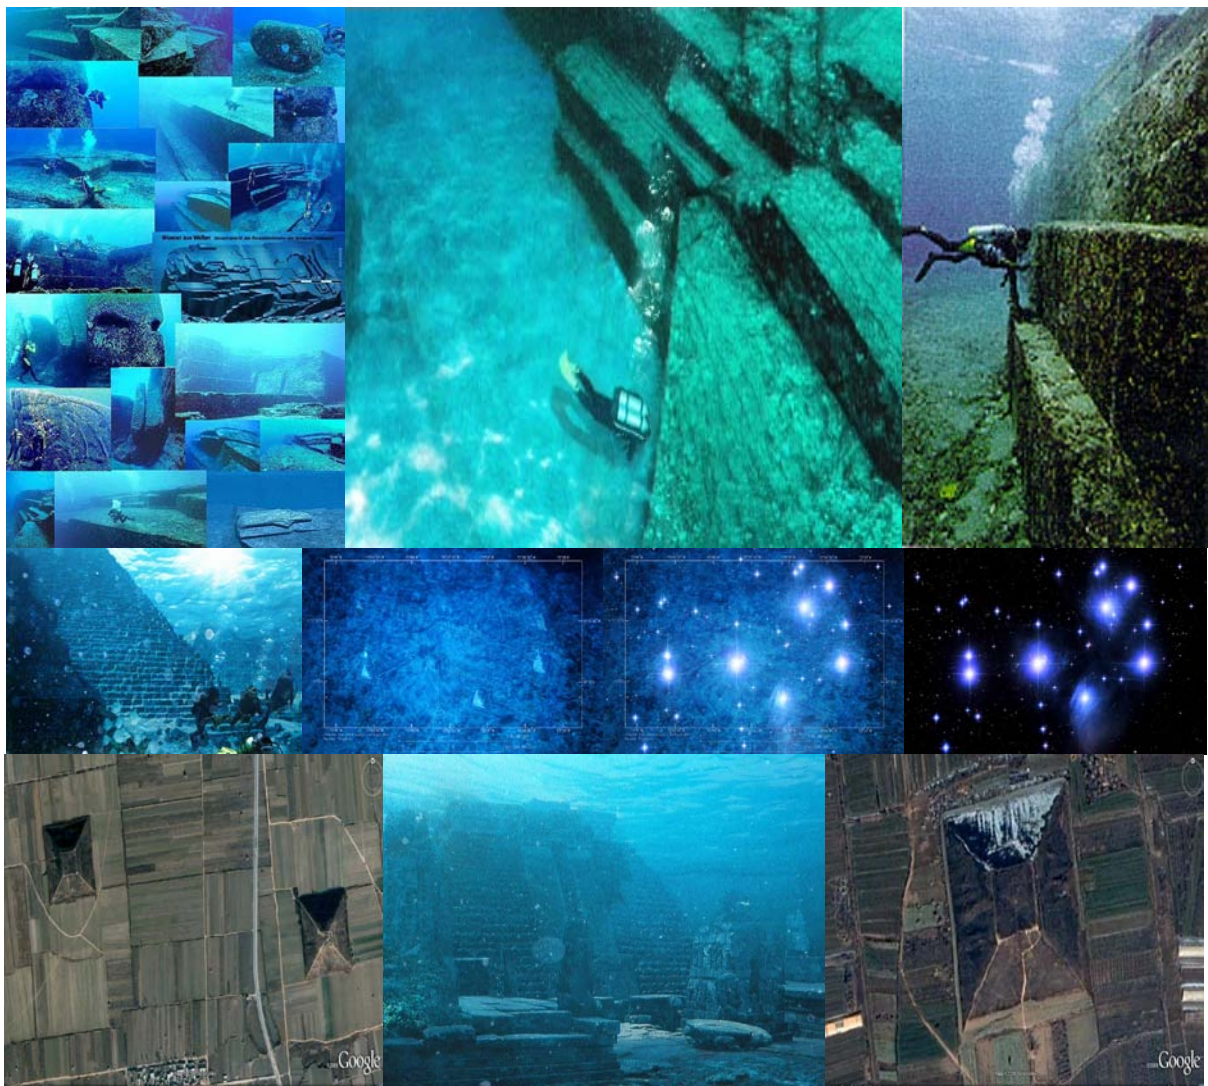

These pyramids are almost pointed in the same direction; all have the same proportion as number Phi and all situated on magnetic cross points of the planet. The same or similar structures were detected on the Moon and Mars. It is obvious that the previous civilization had the technology for interplanetary travel and beyond.

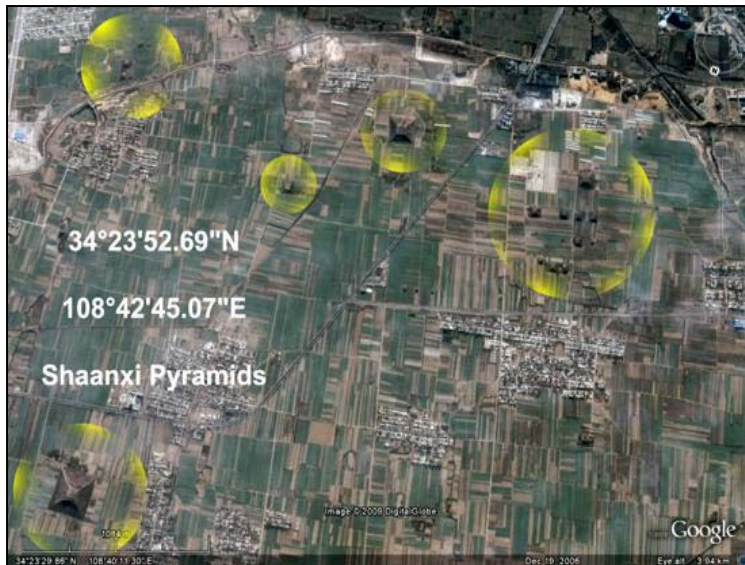

The most known three on Earth are found in Egypt, but the oldest and the biggest are in Asia. Many of them are submerged, but only two are publicly known. One is south of Japan at Okinawa and the other south of Cuba. These two were built in the same time - about 12,000 years ago.

In China (Shaanxi region) more than 70 pyramids are located in the same region, from which two are far bigger than the Great Pyramid in Giza.

In other words, our civilization is the fifth of the civilizations described previously. We are neither the first nor the last. At the moment we are living in the Era of Fifth Sun, which means our star had gone through white dwarf, yellow dwarf, red giant and again into white dwarf phases - four times in the past. Whatever caused the erasure of the previous civilization it was something very powerful.

There is plenty of evidence of a terrible Ancient War everywhere on Earth, Moon and Mars. In fact there are indications that the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter was in fact a planet in the past that for some reason was destroyed.

Not many people are aware but many craters on earth are surface scars from ancient nuclear blasts.

Baringer Crater, Northern Arizona desert, United States

For decades mainstream scientists have wondered how a meteorite powerful enough to have made Arizona's Barringer Meteor Crater (pictured) could have left hardly any melted rock in its wake. 1.2 km wide, 170 meters deep, with a rim 45 meters high. Not a single object found ever.

Not inside the crater, not miles away and not hundreds of miles away from the center of the crater either. It seems that the meteor that caused the crater of such proportions disappeared in thin air. No trace of meteor parts whatsoever. Of course... this is only a cover up story for the people. What we are looking at is one of thousands of craters from the ancient nuclear conflict. Many of those are still radioactive. People get sick when they get near them. Its all there...in front of us and we still do not realize what we are seeing.

Hindu epic poems “Mahabharata” and “Ramayana” are offering the best description of ancient atomic warfare one can find:

“...(it was) a single projectile, charged with all the power of the Universe. An incandescent column of smoke and flame, as bright as the thousand suns, rose in all its splendor...it was an unknown weapon, and iron thunderbolt, a gigantic messenger of death, which reduced to ashes the entire race of the Vrishnis and the Andhakas...the corpses were so burned as to be unrecognizable. The hair and nails fell out; pottery broke without apparent cause, and the birds turned white...after a few hours all foodstuffs were infected...to escape from this fire the soldiers threw themselves in streams to wash themselves and their equipment.”

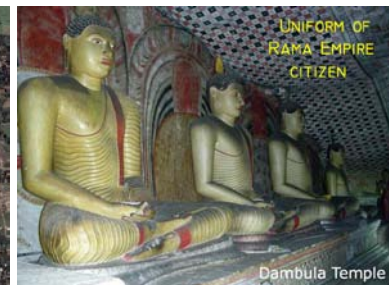

“The gods, in cloud-borne chariots...bright celestial cars in concourse sailed upon the cloudless sky.”

– The Mahabharata.

“...When the god Rama was threatened by a ‘army of monkeys’ he put a ‘magic arrow’ into action. This produces a flash of lighting ‘stronger than the heat from a hundred thousand suns’, turning everything to dust. The hair of survivors falls out, their nails disintegrate.

– The Ramayana.

Mahabharata is describing an atomic battle in which Arjuna is given a “celestial weapon” which he cannot use against humans “for it might destroy the world”, but he could use it against “any foe who is not human.”

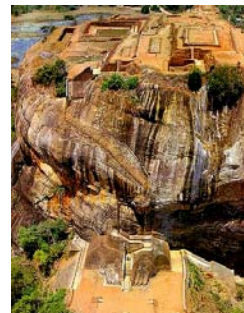

A researcher with the name David Davenport spent 12 years studying ancient Hindu scripts and evidence at the ancient site of Mohenjo-Daro, and declared in 1996 that the city was instantly destroyed 2,000 years BC.

The city ruins reveal the explosion’s epicenter which measures 50 yards wide. At that location everything was crystallized, fused or melted. Sixty yards from the center the bricks were melted on one side indicating a blast...the horrible mysterious event of 4000 years ago was recorded in the Mahabharata.

According to that text “white hot smoke that was a thousand times brighter than the sun rose in infinite brilliance and reduced the city to ashes. Water boiled...horses and war chariots were burned by the thousands...the corpses of the fallen were mutilated by the terrible heat so that they no longer looked like human beings...”

Sigiriya rock - Sri Lanka

Lions Gate ruins from the nuclear attack

From one of the oldest chronicles of India...the Book of Dzryan:

"Separation did not bring peace to these people and finally their anger reached a point where the ruler of the original city took with him a small number of his warriors and they rose into the air in a huge shining metal vessel.

While they were many leagues from the city of their enemies, they launched a great shining lance that rode on a beam of light. It burst apart in the city of their enemies with a great ball of flame that shot up to the heavens, almost to the stars. All those who were in the city were horribly burned and even those who were not in the city - but nearby - were burned also.

Those who looked upon the lance and the ball of fire were blinded forever afterward. Those who entered the city on foot became ill and died. Even the dust of the city was poisoned, as were the rivers that flowed through it. Men dared not go near it, and it gradually crumbled into dust and was forgotten by men. When the leader saw what he had done to his own people he retired to his palace and refused to see anyone. Then he gathered about him those warriors who remained, and their wives and children, and they entered their vessels and rose one by one into the sky and sailed away. Nor did they return."

In other words, both Hindu epic poems contain detailed descriptions of an age thousands of years ago when great god-kings rode about in their Vimanas or flying craft and waged war by launching powerful weapons at their enemies. The descriptions given of these weapons in the ancient verses—their force, the characteristics of their destruction and the after-effects—sound disturbingly modern.

The texts describe:

- The thunderbolt of Indra was endowed with the force of thousand-eyed Indra's thunder.
- The bolt of death measured three cubits by six. It was the unknown weapon, the iron thunderbolt of Indra, the messenger of death.
- The projectile was charged with all the power of the Universe.
- The Agneya weapon was capable of being resisted by none of the very gods themselves.
- The Brahma-danda or Brahma's rod was even more powerful.
- Though it struck only once, it smote whole countries and entire races from generation to generation.
- Adwattan let loose the blazing missile of smokeless fire.
- The missile burst with the power of thunder.
- The flying missile ruined whole cities filled with forts.
- The three cities of the Vishnīs and Andhakas were destroyed together in one instant.
- An incandescent column of smoke and fire as brilliant as ten thousand suns rose in all its splendor.
- *Clouds roared upward showering dust and gravel. Dense arrows of flame like a great shower issued forth upon creation, encompassing the enemy on all sides.
- The sky blazed and the ten points of the horizon filled with smoke.
- Meteors flashed down from the sky.
- Fierce winds began to blow, and the very elements seemed disturbed.
- The sun appeared to waver in the heavens.
- The earth and all its mountains and seas and forests began to tremble.
- The wind blew as a fierce storm and the earth glowed.
- No one saw the fire—it was unseen. Yet it consumed everything.
- As rain poured down it was dried in mid-air by the heat.
- Birds croaked madly, and beasts shuddered from the destruction.
- Animals crumpled to the ground, their heads broken, and they died over a vast region.
- Elephants burst into flame, running to and fro in frenzy seeking protection.
- The waters of rivers and lakes boiled and the creatures residing therein perished.
- Thousands of war vehicles fell down on either side.
- Whole armies collapsed like trees in a forest burnt where they stood as in a raging fire.
- Corpses were so burnt they were no longer recognizable.
- The gaze of the Kapilla weapon was powerful enough to burn fifty thousand men to ashes.
- The thunderbolt reduced to ashes the entire race of Vishnīs and Ankhakas.
- To escape the breath of death the warriors leapt into rivers to wash themselves and bury their armor.
- Hair and nails fell out.
- Unborn children were killed in the womb.
- Birds were born with white feathers, red feet and in the shape of turtles.
- Pottery broke without cause.
- All foods became poisoned and inedible.
- The land was afflicted by drought thereafter for ten long years.

There are too many details here that are frighteningly similar to an eye-witness account of a nuclear explosion—the brightness of the blast, the column of rising smoke and fire, the fallout, intense heat and shock waves, the appearance of the victims and the effects of radiation poisoning. More than half a century ago these ancient descriptions were considered mere fantasy—but with the advent of the Nuclear Age in 1945, suddenly the texts from ancient India take on a whole new meaning.

There are remains that strongly suggest that nuclear wars were indeed waged in the distant past. According to the Mahabharata, the Great Bharata War in which flying Vimanas and fiery weapons were used, involved prehistoric inhabitants along the upper Ganges River of northern India. Precisely in the region, between the Ganges and the mountains of Rajmahal, are numerous charred ruins which have yet to be explored or excavated.

Observations made in the nineteenth century indicated that the ruins were not burnt by ordinary fire. In many instances they appeared as huge masses fused together with deeply pitted surfaces—described as being like tin struck by a stream of molten steel. There are indications that the horrific war which brought about the fall of the prehistoric Rama Empire in India was once fought in the region of what is now Kashmir. Just outside of Srinagar are the massive ruins of a temple complex called Parshaspur, whose multi-ton stone blocks are scattered over a wide area. The configuration of the blocks is suggestive of a tremendous explosion having once destroyed the site. It is not without karmic significance that today the two modern southern Asian nuclear powers—India and Pakistan—are bitter rivals, and one of the elements of their contention is the disputed region of Kashmir.

Image on the right: One of the rare depictions of a survivor of ancient nuclear conflict. There are indications that some Rama citizens departed to space in order to escape the nuclear destruction in their vimanas and some of them went deep underground into the Agartha. Agartha is the underground kingdom that exists even today with the capital city Shambhalla. We are seeing a Rama survivor who has returned to Earth's surface when the conflict was over and when RNA/DNA was degraded. Actually a being with long ears is teaching the Sacred Knowledge of Rama Tradition to the beings (short ears) around him. Those beings depicted are actually our current double helix functionality biological bodies. Obviously it took many years before Rama survivors returned back to the surface again. After the conflict everything was degraded. Trees didn't grow that large, the atmosphere shrank, and everything lost the quality. Today Buddhist monks and Yogis are actually the ones that received the knowledge from the descendants of the Lemurian race that vanished long ago. That is why if you scan the Vedic and Buddhist Texts you will see they contain the Sacred Knowledge from the survivors of Rama.

Farther to the south among the dense forests of the Deccan are more such ruins which may be of earlier origin, pointing back to a war antedating that the Mahabharata, and which encompassed a far greater area. The walls are glazed, corroded and split by a tremendous heat. Within several of the buildings that remain standing even the stone furnishings have been vitrified. That is, the surfaces of the rock have been melted and re-crystallized.

No natural burning flame or volcanic eruption could have produced a heat intense enough to cause this phenomenon. Only a strong radiated heat could have done this damage. In this same region as this second group of ruins, Russian researcher Alexander Gorbovsky reported in 1966 the discovery of a human skeleton with radiation fifty times above normal levels.

In January, 1992 a news report was published concerning the discovery of a three-square mile area of radioactive ash in Rajasthan, located ten miles west of Jodhpur. The development of a housing project in this area had to be abandoned because of the high incidents of recurring cancer and birth defects.

The earliest form of Sanskrit found in India

Vedic India was part of the Rama Empire

A nuclear power plant recently built in the region was thought to be the culprit, but a five-member scientific team, headed by project foreman Lee Hundley, dispatched to study the mystery found a very different source. They eventually unearthed the charred remains of buildings thought to be at least eight to twelve millennia old which were once inhabited by perhaps as many as half a million people.

The prehistoric city had all the appearance—and the tell-tale radioactive residue—of having been destroyed by a nuclear weapon the scientists estimated was about the same size as that which destroyed Hiroshima in 1945. Archaeologist Francis Taylor, in a follow-up to this initial discovery, found historical wall engravings and texts in a nearby temple which depicted the local people as praying to be spared from the “great light” that was coming to destroy their city. The inscriptions appeared to have been copied from older sources going back several thousands of years. Taylor was quoted as saying:

“It’s so mind-boggling to imagine that some civilization had nuclear technology before we did. The radioactive ash adds credibility to the ancient Indian records that describe atomic warfare.”

In order to protect the local population, the ash and ruins were carefully covered over to barricade against the remaining radiation, and today only a length of thick concrete highway running through the area is all that can be seen. It may be more than coincidental that at the time the mysterious city was destroyed in Rajasthan circa twelve thousand years ago, there was also an increase in traces of copper, tin and lead in ice cores from around the world—indicative of huge amounts of pollutants suddenly being thrown into the upper atmosphere and circulated around the globe—as well as a dramatic increase in uranium concentrations in coral growths from 1.5 parts per million to over 4 parts per million. Paleo-climatologists have never been able to explain these increases as a natural occurrence.

The mighty Saraswati river and its mighty civilization are referred to in Rig Veda more the 50 times proving that drying up of Saraswati river was subsequent to the origin of the Rig Veda. Pushing its date of origin further back into antiquity. The satellite image clearly shows two river systems - the Indus River system and the controversial Saraswati dry river system, extending from Himalaya to the Arabian Sea. The Indus River in on the left outlined in blue and the Saraswati river basin is on the right outlined in green. The black dots are the many archaeological sites or previous settlements along the bangs of now dried Saraswati River.

The archaeological studies had shown that dry up of the Saraswati River following major tectonic movements or plate shifts in the Earth's crust. The primary cause of this drying up was due to the capture of the Saraswati River's main tribute areas. All do early studies based on limited archaeological evidence produced contradictory conclusions, recent independent studies show no evidence of a foreign invasion in the Indo-Saraswati Civilization and that cultural continuity could be traced back at least for a millennia. In other words, archaeology does not support the Arian Invasion theory.

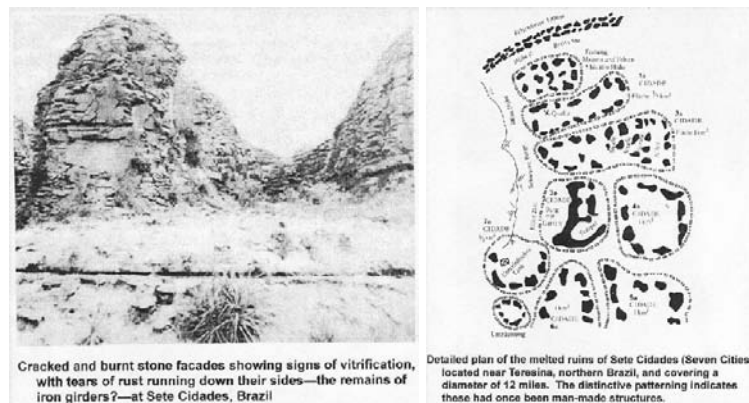

The evidence is pointing towards that that civilization ended as a result of nuclear conflict, which was heavily described in Mahabharata and other ancient texts. Marine Archeology has also been utilized in India of the coast of ancient pork city of Dwarka in Gujarat, uncovering further evidence and supportive statements in the vedic scriptures. An entire submerged city Dwarka – the ancient port city of Krishna was found underwater as it was described in the Mahabharata and other vedic literatures.

All these underwater excavations add further credibility to the validity of the historical statements found in the vedic literatures. A part from Dwarka, more than 35 archaeological sites in North India have been identified as ancient cities described in Mahabharata. Furthermore, the Vayumahapuranam describes great flooding that destroyed the capital city of Hastinapur forcing its inhabitants to relocate in Kausambi.

The soil of Hastinapur reveal proof of this flooding. The archeological evidence of the new capital Kausambi recently been found and it has been dated to the time period just after this flood. Summarized, from the Indo-French field study, we can definitely conclude that the Rig-Veda describes the geography of North India as it was long before 3,000 BCE. The clinching evidence is provided by the fate of the Saraswati River.

The civilization that dwelled in ancient land of Egypt was also involved in the nuclear conflict and also had flying technology in abundance.

Images on the ceiling beams New Kingdom Temple, located several hundred miles south of Cairo and the Giza Plateau, at Abydos. (At least 3000 year old)

There are many other clues regarding nuclear warfare. In Africa there are parts of a city that are vitrified, and the walls of rock are partly melted.

Sodom and Gomorrah can be compared with Hiroshima and Nagasaki. There is high probability that Sodom, Gomorrah, Zoar, Admah and Zeboiim were destroyed, creating the Dead Sea.

The list has no end. The more you dig and research, the more starts to spin in your head. Something is pointing that everything we been thought in schools is false. We have been misled.

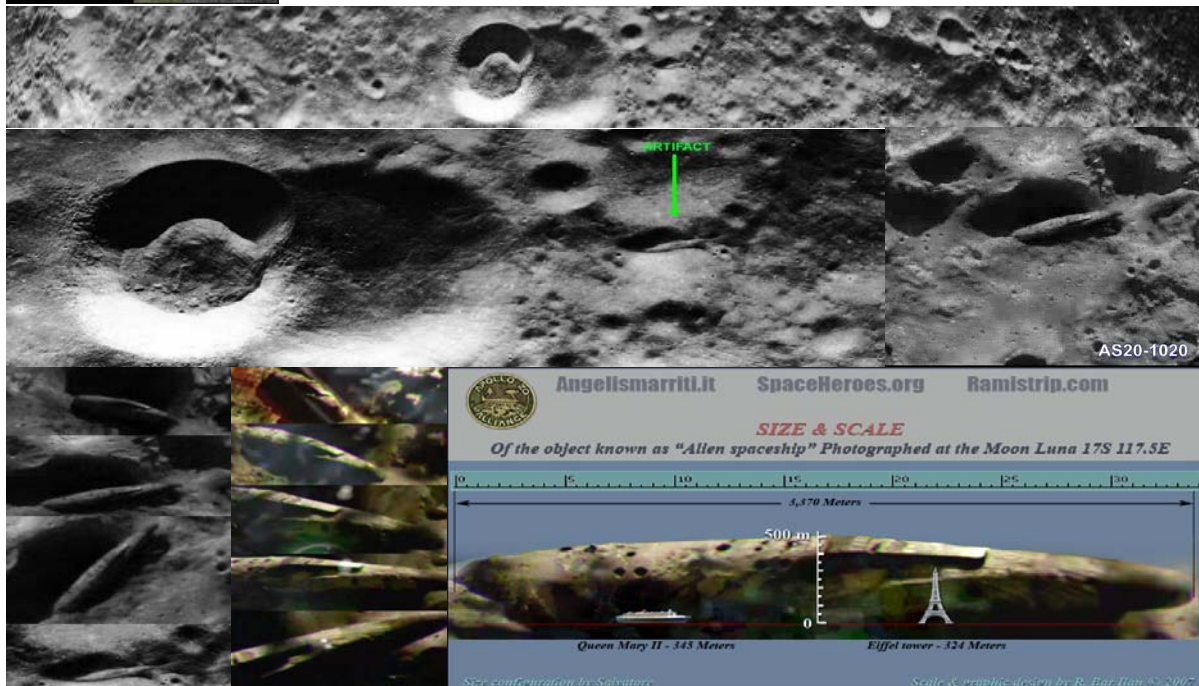

No matter how impossible it seems the ancient conflict was major. It was interplanetary!

Moon's surface is full of craters from nuclear blasts. The craters are so intelligently positioned that no doubt they are product of natural cosmic influence, meteoroids or asteroids.

Did some form of nuclear bomb exchange took place between the Earth and Moon in ancient times? Obviously it did.

There are ruins of artificial structures detected on Moon. Some are still intact and inhabitant by non-human life forms. One of the most important things that were found on the dark side of the Moon, was a wreckage of a huge vimana. The coordinates are 17° S / 117.5° E. It looks like the flying craft was taken down from laser fire.

More Towers and blurred structures

Mars is also covered with thousands of those mysterious structures. When we at Mars from an distance we will immediately notice that this planet had suffered extreme activity on its surface. A giant scar its obvious result of a collision with some other celestial body or something. Again this information is always filtered and never reaches public awareness to a scale it should. More about the found Moon and Mars bases will be covered the presentation.

Huge scar of Mars

ET base on Mars (still active)

The Vedic texts are also describing a war with the “gods” which gives you a clear perspective that those negative ETs that were present in those times never left. They are still here on Earth and other places of the solar system. They were here all along, but only now we have grown enough to detect their presence and to be able to understand the logic behind their actions. It took thousands of years so humankind had grown again to a point that we detect that we are under surveillance and that there are different kinds of programs that are conducted on us.

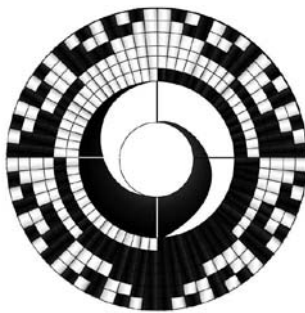

Some of the extraterrestrial races we been able to detect today, are the same “gods” that Vedic texts and other ancient writings are describing...along the description that they were in conflict with ancient humans. The only difference is that in those times the ancient humans were far more developed technologically and spiritually than we are today and had far more active genetic material that we have today. At this moment we have not much what we can use as defence so it is logical that we study their ways and to understand the big picture behind their action. It will be very helpful if many of us start to use their natural abilities as remote viewing and controlled out of the body experience. That will able more of us to be able to reach the astral dimension and to observe what is going on that plane of existence. As mentioned before, cosmic rays are hitting our planet in a rate we haven’t seen before so more and more DNA is becoming active. We can master those arts faster, unite into meditative oneness like ancients use to do it, connect to mother Earth and help in the smoother transition.

Our luck is that now we are approaching the time-sequence when the galactic bath of extreme energy will move through this region of space causing the mutation of all life forms taking us to a far higher quality of existence that what ancient people ever had. If we are successful and we still manage to learn our lessons on time, this extremely powerful energy will take us from the lower quality of double helix material existence to the energetic multidimensional existence of enormous power and access to knowledge.

Please have in consideration that I'm sharing all this with you wonderful people only because I believe we can make difference. I'm trying to describe to you as simple as possible so you will have a clear image in your head where we are standing in everything that we see around us. In reality the universe that we see is far more complex.

The universe, like the whole of the physical world, is actually a hologram - beams of light colliding to create the appearance of three-dimensional form.

It is like throwing stones into a pond and watching the waves collide and create patterns. In fact this universe is a hologram of 64 waves or time scales and this is why we have the 64 hexagrams of the I Ching, 64 keys of the Tree of Life, and the 64 codons of the DNA. The good part is that that all 64 of these waves are going to peak together in 2012. We are so lucky to live here and now. Incredible!

I will cover this in more detail in my presentation.

In order to show you the evidence that those ETs never left and they stayed here on Earth in their underground bases and their submerged bases I will bring to your attention few centuries old images of depicted so called UFOs.

(Image 1 & 2) The above painting is by Carlo Crivelli (1430-1495) and is called "The Annunciation" (1486) and hangs in the National Gallery, London. A disk shaped object is shining a pencil beam of light down onto the crown of Mary's head

(Image 3 & 4) - These images of two crusaders date from a 12th century manuscript "Annales Laurissenses" (volumes/books about historical and religion events) and refer to a UFO sighting in the year 776, during the siege on Sigiburg castle, France. The Saxons besieged and surrounded the French people. They both were fighting when suddenly a group of discs (flaming shields) appeared hovering over the top of the church. It appeared to the Saxons that the French were protected by these objects and the Saxons fled.

(Image 5) This image comes from the french book "Le Livre Des Bonnes Moeurs" by Jacques Legrand. You can find this book in Chantilly Condé's Museum ref 1338 ,297 part 15 B 8. Some people say that the sphere is a balloon but there was no balloon in France in 1338...

(Image 4) - This image is by Flemish artist Aert De Gelder and is entitled "The Baptism of Christ" It was painted in 1710 and hangs in the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge. A disk shaped object is shining beams of light down on John the Baptist and Jesus.

(Image 1 & 2) This painting is called "The Madonna with Saint Giovannino". It was painted in the 15th century. The Palazzo Vecchio lists the artist as unknown although attributed to the Lippi school. Above Mary's right shoulder is a disk shaped object. The image in the middle is a blow up of this section and a man and his dog can clearly be seen looking up at the object

(Image 3) - 1660. The illustration depicts a sighting by two Dutch ships in the North Sea of an object moving slowly in the sky. It appeared to be made by two disks of different size. The source for this account is one of the books entitled "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum" by Admiral Blaeu. These books were compilations of articles by different authors and consisted of detailed accounts of long engagements at sea, cartography information etc.

If you use the Google search engine and you do your own additional research you will find hundreds more. I believe you see where I'm going.

They never left for good. Most of them went into the space and returned after the Earth stabilized. There is more than sufficient evidence that our planet went through Pole Shift and flipped over. In the moment of imbalanced gravity the water in the oceans went out of control and flooded everything. Tsunamis were at least 4 miles high. All ancient traditions had left a record of the event in one form or another.

We been told lies and forced to believe otherwise for so long by a small group of rich people on the top of the ruling pyramid...that are not even human.

The ruling pyramid is all about special bloodlines. In most cases those special bloodlines are mix of human and reptilian genetics.

In fact everything revolves around secret societies held by these crossbreed individuals and their hidden agendas.

Not even one president is not elected by the people...but put on that function by the ruling elite because of his/her special bloodline.

Take for example Barack and Michelle Obama. They are the reincarnation of Pharaoh Akhenaton and Queen Nefertiti of Ancient Egypt.

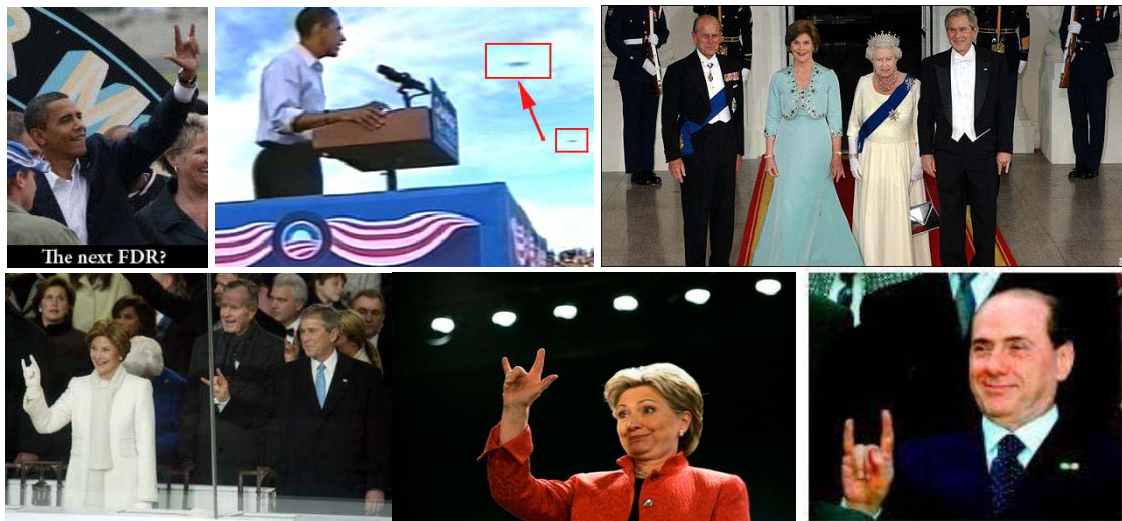

After the Great Fall their DNA degraded to double helix functionality too and their life force was travelling to the astral dimension and back few times until they arrived on the Earthly plane again in this time.

In ancient Egypt, the Goddess Isis was the personification of Wisdom and worship by many. Pharaoh Akhenaten changed the worship to himself as he proclaimed himself Amen Ra – “The Son God”. The word Amen at the end of the prayer originates from ancient Egypt and the worship of Amen Ra. In fact, Pharaoh Akhenaten in ancient Egypt was the source of the evil that had spread above this planet ever since. And now he is back to finish what he has started.

When you see they are showing this sign be sure that they salute to other members of the secret society and their secret agenda – that serves the Dark Side of the Force.

In fact everything revolves around secret societies held by these crossbreed individuals and their hidden agendas. All the rest is a movie for the people that are still with sleeping awareness and easy to manipulate.

There is a great evil among us and sometimes it seems that people are under some kind of spell. Majority of people act as they are asleep, not understanding what is going on, not able to think clear and they have become fully obedient as they are hypnotised. It's something similar to when cobra hypnotises her prey. People are blinded by the illusionary shine of the evil agenda. Blinded by the Great Deception.

Crop circle makers oppose that great deception and understanding their information is our only chance in this moment. We need to unite with them and with others that are on the side of the Light. We need to wake up people. In order to do that we really need to start getting some good and solid info. And I mean clean info not destroyed or manipulated in any way.

Again I'm facing a point where big question appears in my consciousness – should I withheld information from you, because that information can harm you or push you out of your comfort zone?

And again inner guiding force that is driving me in the creation of this file is pointing is that information has to go out and reach as much as possible more people, so the deception will be revealed. Once when that is done I will explain how to deal with it in order that evil becomes powerless and can not reach people anymore.

This is going to be bizarre...but to the best of my knowledge is the truth.

You can find remains of dark creatures everywhere in the world, showing us that life on this planet was a lot different from we are been told. Some of those have no human origin at all and are the so called “gods” that Mahabharata, Ramayana and other ancient texts are speaking about.

Even today, when most of the people likes to call themselves “civilized” we are forced to believe that we need kings and queen to rule above us because of their supposed royal blood, while in reality it has nothing to do with royalty but because those individuals have a dark blood line that stretches from the ancient times. As in the ancient times, most of the creatures that are present today on the Earth plane have to drink human plasma in order to sustain the human appearance and not to undergo a process known as shape-shifting.

Proof...where is proof for such extreme claims?

Everywhere. Here is one:

Title: Queen Elizabeth I and a Serpent

Portrait of Elizabeth I reveals she held serpent where a posy now appears behind the enigmatic smile: National Portrait Gallery to display 16th century work which has given up its secret after 400 years. Detail from the portrait of Queen Elizabeth I showing the outline of the coiled serpent she originally held. Photograph: National Portrait Gallery/PA

Scientific detective work has revealed a mysterious coiled serpent in the hands of Queen Elizabeth I, which was painted out by the artist shortly afterwards, in a portrait at the National Portrait Gallery. It has also been revealed that this portrait of the queen, which has not been on display at the Gallery since 1921, was painted over an unfinished portrait of an unknown sitter. The revelations about this painting and three others of the Tudor queen will form a new display, Concealed and Revealed: The Changing Faces of Elizabeth I, from 13 March at the National Portrait Gallery as part of the Making Art in Tudor Britain project led by Dr Tarnya Cooper. The portrait of Elizabeth I with the serpent (NPG 200) was painted by an unknown artist in the 1580s or early 1590s.

Degradation over time has revealed that Elizabeth I was originally painted holding the serpent, the outline of which is now visible on the surface. Paint analysis has shown that the snake was part of the original design, painted at the same time as the rest of the portrait, and Elizabeth's fingers were originally clasped around the snake (as seen in the artist's impression). At the final stage of painting a decision was made not to include this emblem, and the Queen was shown holding a small bunch of roses instead. It has also been revealed that the same portrait was painted over the unfinished portrait of an unknown woman. X-ray photography shows a female head facing in the opposite direction and in a higher position than the queen. The eyes and nose of the first face can be seen where paint has been lost from Elizabeth's forehead. The identity of this original sitter remains a mystery, but the unfinished portrait was very competently painted and appears to be by a different painter. This discovery confirms that sixteenth-century panels were sometimes re-used and recycled by artists. The unknown woman appears to have been wearing a French hood, fashionable in 1570-1580s, suggesting that there may have been a period of a few years before the panel was re-used for the portrait of Elizabeth I.

You are seeing that it's nothing royal about the Queen Elisabeth I bloodline but only darkness. Before she was murdered-sacrificed, (Note: she was killed in the special place and time according to sacred astrology) Princess Diana was speaking that she had seen inside the royal house people doing shape-shifting into reptiles. She was describing horrible events where the skin of the member of the royal family turns green and then it starts to take a snake or alligator appearance until it loses the human look completely. And she is not the only one that was claiming such things. Many other people had seen things that are too afraid to speak about, and most of them were connected to "royal" family or had work for them.

The British Royal Family is the key in this entire scenario because that bloodline originates from the most ancient bloodline which carriers were member of so called "Brotherhood of the Snake".

That is why I have attached the image of the Queen Elizabeth I so you people can see the evidence behind it.

It is also important to you understand that till this day, every single United States president, with no exception, has a direct bloodline relation to British Monarchs. On Dec 20th 1993 George Herbert Walker Bush was knighted by the queen of England as a The Most Honourable Order of the Bath for his leadership in the Gulf War. Does this sound inappropriate when American president kneel before the queen of England in a ceremony that symbolizes the legions?

In summary, a race of interbreeding bloodlines, a race within a race in fact, were centred in the Middle and Near East in the ancient world and, over the thousands of years since, have expanded their power across the globe. A crucial aspect of this has been to create a network of mystery schools and secret societies to covertly introduce their Agenda while, at the same time, creating institutions like religions to mentally and emotionally imprison the masses and set them at war with each other.

The hierarchy of this tribe of bloodlines is not exclusively male and some of its key positions are held by women like in the case of Hilary Clinton. But in terms of numbers it is overwhelmingly male and therefore better to be referred as the Brotherhood. Even more accurately, given the importance of ancient Babylon the more accurate term would be "Babylonian Brotherhood".

The present magnitude of Brotherhood control did not happen in a few years, even a few decades or centuries: it can be traced back thousands of years. The structures of today's institutions in government, banking, business, military and the media have not been infiltrated by this force, they were created by them from the start. The Brotherhood Agenda is, in truth, the Agenda of many Millennia.

It is the unfolding of a plan, piece by piece, for the centralised control of the planet. The bloodline hierarchy at the top of the human pyramid of control and suppression passes the baton across the generations, mostly sons following fathers. The children of these family lines who are chosen to inherit the baton are brought up from birth to understand the Agenda and the methods of manipulating the 'Great Work' into reality.

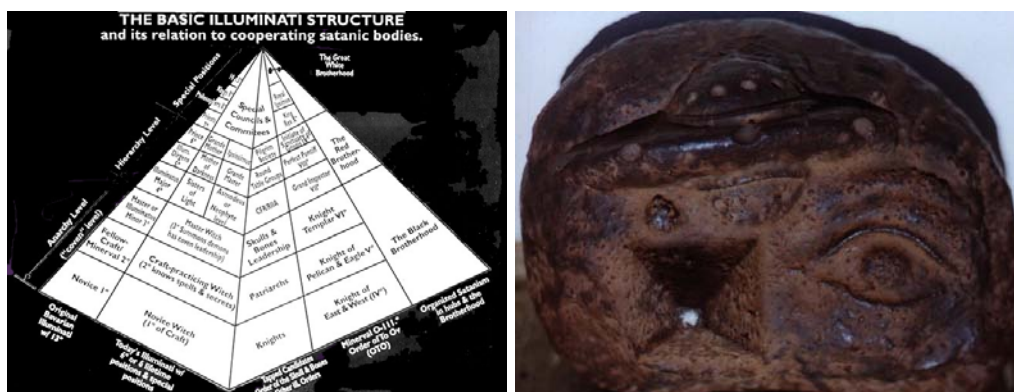

Going back to Egypt – the land of his previous incarnation

Advancing the Agenda becomes their indoctrinated mission from very early in their lives. By the time their turn comes to join the Brotherhood hierarchy and carry the baton into the next generation, their upbringing has moulded them into highly imbalanced people. They are intellectually very sharp, but with a compassion bypass and an arrogance that they have the right to rule the world and control the ignorant masses who they view as inferior.

Any Brotherhood children who threaten to challenge or reject that mould are pushed aside or dealt with in other ways to ensure that only 'safe' people make it to the upper levels of the pyramid and the highly secret and advanced knowledge that is held there. Some of these bloodlines can be named.

The British House of Windsor is one of them, so are the Rothschilds, the European royalty and aristocracy, the Rockefellers, and the rest of the so-called Eastern Establishment of the United States which produces the American presidents, business leaders, bankers and administrators. But at the very top, the Dark Cabal which controls the human race operates from the shadows outside the public domain. Any group which is so imbalanced as to covet the complete control of the planet will be warring within itself as different factions seek the ultimate control. This is certainly true of the Brotherhood.

The Illuminati is a very secretive group of occult practitioners who have been around for thousands and thousands of years and are using the Jewish Dark Cabala as one of their guidelines to oppress the rest of the population.

Summarized, 13 Illuminati bloodlines rule this planet from the shadow. Here are the names of those 13 families:

1. Astor
2. Bundy
3. Collins
4. DuPont
5. Freeman
6. Kennedy
7. Li (Chinese)
8. Onassis
9. Rockefeller
10. Rothschild
11. Russell
12. van Duyn
13. Merovingian (European Royal Families)

The following families are also interconnected with those above:

1. Reynolds
2. Disney
3. Krupp
4. McDonald

Also, in addition to those four families, there are hundreds of others that are more remotely connected to the main 13 Illuminati bloodlines. Although significant, they are not mentioned here; they are considered less powerful and less "pure" by the 13 Elite Bloodlines.

All of those are satanic and worship the Dark Side of the Force. No exceptions. So now you will see for yourself who is driving the bus behind the scene and where.

Now, things are getting more and more bizarre. I have to keep on going because Matrix is ready to recognize the cold truth.

Those 13 Illuminati bloodlines have more or less shape-shifting ability and some drink human plasma on regular basis and some from time to time. They rule above humanity which is still asleep and still comfortable with the current type of social structure, often obeying without any question, giving all the sovereignty rights.

The Secret Societies have been present in the history of man for a very long time. It all started thousands and thousands of years ago with the "Brotherhood of the Snake", a secret society that goes back all the way to the time of Garden of Eden and old Sumer.

I personally don't have any information how many of those shape-shifting reptile beings are out there. It looks they are many and that they have infiltrated in many institutions. For some reason Fox Television is a good place for those, since the majority of the video evidence comes from there. Probably because it is run by the Illuminati bloodline person. The frames of the above video footage of Reptilian Reporter FOX NEWS is just one of so many.

If you want to see more just go to the http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=v-ks_BNMhHM or just search the archive data of live news of Fox television and you will be able to trace the videos by yourself, download the file and analyse with some software for video analysis.

Those half human – half reptile beings seems to be controlled by at least four ET groups, probably implanted and influenced telepathically. (da se najdat uste prikadni slike)

The hybrid bloodline that concerns me personally is the type like Chris Angel. That bloodline possesses tremendous mental power, that he uses in black purposes. He has at least 20% of active genetics that allows him impressive psionic abilities. He is hiding under the profession illusionist, which of course is only cover up for his performance. Unfortunately I have seen clear evidence that he is connected with Dark Cabal and he has also direct contact with the negative ETs.

One of the flying crafts that negative ETs use regularly is depicted above (image 1) or (image 3 bellow). If you see a flying craft of that shape – run as fast as you can.

Anyway, the ET group that uses those types of crafts is not on the top layer of the controlling pyramid. The next step in the ultimate controlling pyramid, belongs to the creatures in the lower astral plane and then finally is the Ultimate Evil Force that is almost powerful as the Creator Himself.

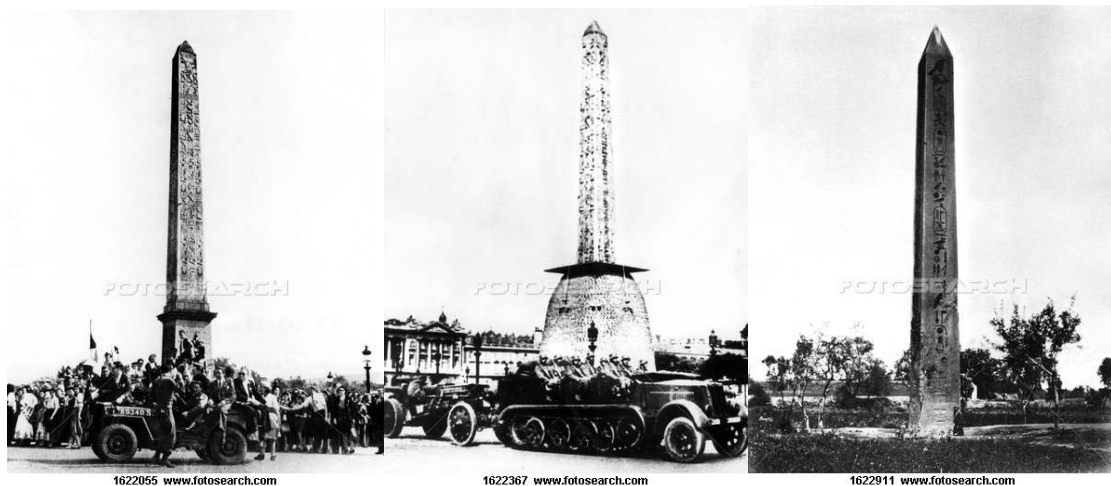

9/11 event was a lot more than people realize. The Twin Towers, were used as Two Pillars to open a gate to the lower astral plane. In order to succeed in the opening and to open a window directly to hell, they had to create a major sacrifice. The 9/11 was the inside job and Nano-thermite Explosives were used along the heavy back up from UFOs. I will cover this subject in better detail in my presentation.

We have reach a point in time where we need to understand what its going on the face of the planet Earth, and what can be done about it.

As mentioned before, everything revolves around secret societies and their agenda. In recent times everything began As regards our Era everything in reality started just before WWII. Hitler had broken certain taboos in regards occultism and secret societies.

He sent expeditions everywhere and he broth back to Germany powerful artefacts from everywhere.

As part of the secret society he helped in the creation of Nazi special organization with code name "Ahnenerbe". The special organization was assigned for secret research of many things, among which for archaeological and anthropological research, during one expedition in Afghanistan found a berried flying craft thousands of years old. The flying craft had disk shape and on the surface appeared to be undamaged. That flying object was VIMANA and fit very well into the description in the in ancient texts. It was the first of so many that Ahnenerbe succeeded to collect worldwide. People have to understand that Hitler, due to this discoveries which he took highly seriously, was about to open a Pandora box which any of the governments around world does not wish to close afterwards.

As mentioned before, Hitler was related to the Illuminati bloodlines, he was initiated in secret doctrines, and his visits to Tibet were very frequent. After using force against the Tibetan monks he learned about many other secret localities where ancient technology and artefacts are still preserved. The Nazi secret organization made a contact with survivors of ancient civilizations, olders on ancient technologies like previously described Vimanas.

One must understand that the study and understanding of the several recovered prototypes were the absolute priority to insure Nazi domination over the sky. The Allies in parallel, focused on mastering the atom and creating the first nuclear bombs. These secret bases were the centre of all research supervised by the Nazis. In one of those bases worked Victor Schaubergger – father of Nazi UFOs.

Schauberger was part of the Vril Society in charge of anti-gravitational research. He died in 1958 in Texas, while working under the protection of the United States on the improvement of his own flying sources which as since become American.

The first challenge was, to carry on and even complete the Nazi research in great secrecy.

The military had come up with more efficient pattern than secrecy. Making people that they did not exist was not the right solution and clearly insufficient. Discrediting enemies and frightening the population by systematic misinformation proved far more efficient. UFOs and humans with parapsychological powers, belonged to the movies, television and collective paranoia and not to the rial world and scientific study as shouldn't be the case.

Once WWII was over, and Nazi technology was systematically plumbed both by Russians and Americans. Most of the German rocket scientists that were Nazi were taken to US and all their previous records or past was erased. In the same time NASA was created.

Summarized, what WWII is concern, the German scientists were the first that had the secret flying machines to visit the moon, but when the conflict was officially over that technology was taken mostly by Americans and Russians.

The development of such technology is at full run today and its ongoing process. People that were working in the sensitive military positions were witnesses that secret societies made direct contacts with at least two extraterrestrial groups. The Treaty was about exchange of technology in return of secret abductions of certain small percentage of human population. The reason was stated that those groups will do genetic check ups on the abducted individuals, all the memory will be erased of such event and the individual will be brought back safely and unharmed.

This is the time when famous M12 group was created, which again all of the members were specially selected because of their bloodline. Things become difficult very soon, because it become obvious that the extraterrestrial groups are not respecting the Agreement and they are doing far more abductions that agreed upon. The real nightmare began when they find out that many of the abductees are actually implanted with micro devices that transmit and receive electronic signals.

The situation becomes critical and that was the time when all of the major parties on earth decided that this is a planetary issue. There was an union accomplished on a very high level and that commanding body become known as Shadow Government.

From the contacts with the extraterrestrial groups the Shadow Government learnt about the coming of extreme changes that will culminate in 2012-2013. The decision was made that humanity must survive the even and that the best option is to build the unground world. Huge amounts of funds were generated from illegal actions in order the main underground centers to be build. Around the main bases hundreds of smaller underground bases were build and underground network started to form. This is still ongoing process and to the best of my knowledge, the network is almost complete and all the areas on Earth are covered.

This has been one of the most hidden secrets but still thousands of workers in the construction phases were testifying about direct contact with non human entities. So many were describing huge levels underground, bases miles deep, and as deeper you go, the humans has less clearance to go. In other words, they are preparing big time for more then 60 years and we on the surface have absolutely no idea what is going on bellow our feet.

The only reason the underworld was build because of the expansion of the Sun and the gravitational influence from the passing celestial body near our solar system.

The asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter is already gravitationally affected by this passing body and we will start to experience direct hits from the passing asteroids.

Analysing the strategy they pull through public media, it can be detected that info is starting to come out, still in the covert form but clearly indicating that military is preparing for something major in 2012. Today almost there is no one that didn't hear about the 2012 in one form or another. Most feel that all this nothing more then another new age nonsense, the date in 2012 will come and go and nothing will happen as usual.

I have point out again this is something very real, real as it can be and it is coming soon. We need to prepare physically, mentally and most important spiritually. I have taken this biological host 37 years ago in order to help people in the awakening process. Sometime the awakening requires speaking about things that are bizarre and terrible and hard to believe. I can assure you that everything that is put into this file is with the purpose to awaken and help humanity. Not to frighten or harm, but to show the real world, the real situation on this planet. If we do not see what the problem is...we are lost and we will never solve the problem.

It was mine to pass this information which to the best of my knowledge is the truth and nothing but the truth. Some of the information is gathered from other sources that from my own experience are valid. Everything that you have read in this file and a lot more will be covered in my presentation and unbreakable proof and video evidence will be shown. Afterwards whatever you do with the information, it's your choice.

Luckily the beings of Light are also here. They watch everything and they are helping as much as they can.

And how do I know all this?

My personal experience with ET

Till the present day I had numerous contacts with ETs that I described in my book "Extraordinary Powers in Humans". The ETs had showed me what is going to be like just before the expansion of our star and the arrival of the energetic pulse. They have also showed me what we need to do as humanity. They had showed me the next step.

I recall that things started to take an unusual direction after I was taken at seven years of age. I was taken many times in later years, but this was the first one I recall. Very soon after I was taken, during the nights (sleeping time) I started to become very conscious of myself. It was not rare to find myself floating above the roof of my house looking everything from bird perspective. Flying above my neighbourhood was my favourite thing to do. Almost always I was able to detect that some strong source of light is somewhere behind me watching on my every move. It wasn't scary, but in contrary, it felt protective in some way. I didn't pay much attention to it since flying and jumping above roofs was much more interesting to me. That lasted for many weeks.

Sometimes, strange manifestations like hearing thoughts of others but especially of my mother, hearing so clearly conversations of people that are hundreds of meters away from me, sensing danger if some other kid wanted to hurt me etc., were very active for few days and then all those weird abilities were gone. I did not know what to make of it at the time, I was still a child, no one seems to talk about the similar stuff and all those experiences started to fade away.

My mother was pressuring me that she will take me to the doctor to check it out what is going on in my head, after one incident took place. It was evening time, she was ready to put me into my bed for sleep when her friend called her and invited her for a coffee. I remember that she responded to her that she is very tired and that she wants to go to sleep, but her girl friend was very persistent and convinced my mother to go and visit her for short.

Anyway, I end up playing with her son for more than a half an hour, and in one moment I strongly felt that something is wrong and image of my bedroom become frozen in my consciousness. I started to pull my mother's hand and screaming at her that there is something wrong with our house and that we have to go back immediately. My mother was not very superstition person, she started to laugh at me, but after she saw in my eyes that I'm persistent and she decided to check it out. It was winter at the time, there was no snow but it was still very cold and she turned electrical blanket on to warm the bed for me.

Most of the times from what I can recall, she was putting electrical blanket and my duvet less was usually enough before she remove it, but for some reason when her friend called her for a coffee she forgot that she turned on the electrical blanket. I had no idea that she turned the electrical blanket on since I was playing in the other room. That happened almost 30 years ago and electrical blankets were not so safe at the time. The moment we come to our house, the smoke was coming from my bedroom and the cause of that was that electrical blanked caused a fire. Luckily the neighbours come quickly triggered by my mom's screaming and the problem was solved with one big giant hole in the electrical blanked and my duvet.

The event ended ok but to my mom it was a final proof that something weird is going on with me. She became very concern about me. What was happening was way beyond her experience and it became obvious that she has a difficult time dealing with it.

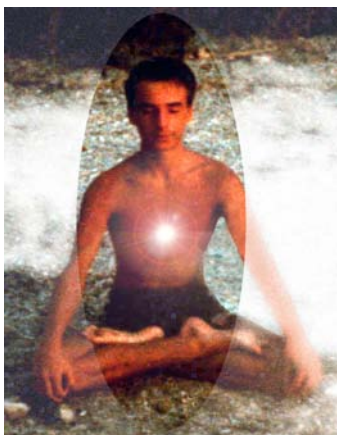

As every mother who encounters situation of her child that she is not able to handle, she started to threaten me that if I do not go back to normal like every other kid that she will take me to hospital. I knew that she was serious, and that mysterious force started to fade inside of me.

Things got quite for a while but everything changed up side down when I reached teenage. Inspired by my uncle, I started to train in the ancient arts at the age of fourteen.

The top most secrets of Yoga and Buddhism came so naturally to me that many times I felt that I already knew most of the knowledge in some mysterious way. People that knew me at the time noticed that I was interested in all the incredible powers that Yoga masters and Tibetan monks had demonstrated and that I was training hard to develop them.

As a result of long years of practicing meditation, I started figuring out the mystery of their way of life. I felt compelled and focused to obtain the knowledge that was once considered the norm in ancient civilizations. Thus, I meditated six hours a day and started to discover my inner potential. I became attracted to all psychic abilities, but particularly to the extraordinary ability called astral projection.

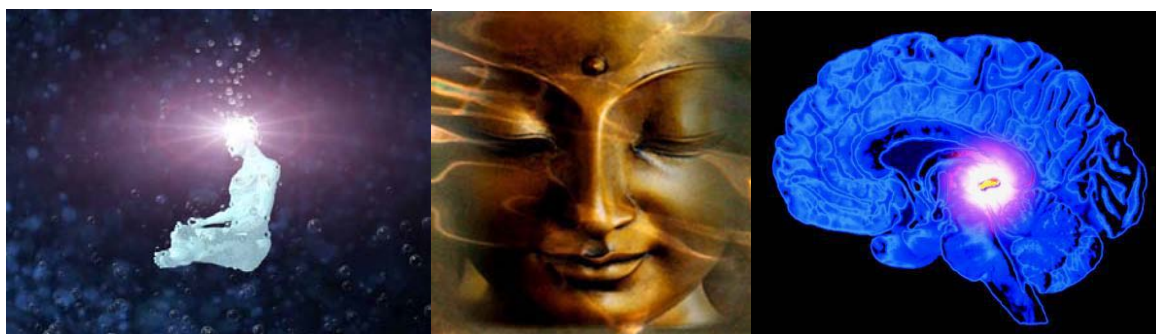

Pane Andov

Very soon my abilities increased to such high levels that I was able to stay out of his physical body for many hours fully conscious. The new and mysterious world that was opening in front of me made me realize that reality was not what it seemed to be, but something completely different.

Rapidly, I began to understand that humanity was under some kind of experiment by a few E.T races and that the truth was hidden from us. One by one, the missing pieces of the mosaic started to fall into the place and I was starting to see what was going on.

Very soon my abilities increased to such high levels that I was able to stay out of his physical body for many hours fully conscious. The new and mysterious world that was opening in front of me made me realize that reality was not what it seemed to be, but something completely different.

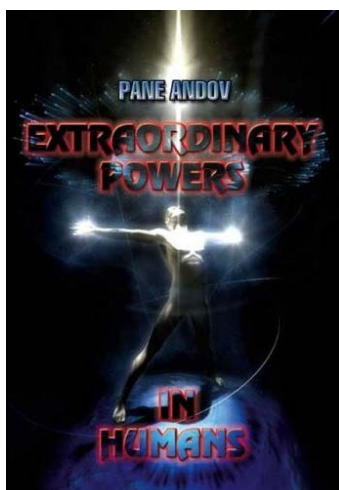

Rapidly, I began to understand that humanity was under some kind of experiment by a few E.T races and that the truth was hidden from us. One by one, the missing pieces of the mosaic started to fall into the place and I was starting to see what was going on.

At the same time, I felt great sorrow with the realization that I couldn't share my observations and conclusions. The average level of astral development was so low at the time. If I touched a subject he could hurt someone and demolish his whole belief system. Take for example this file. How many of you will have difficult time coping with some parts of it?

Instead of sharing what was going on in the higher dimensions, I started to work on finding solutions to the equation called – humanity. After many years of contact with E.T intelligences, I had finally understood what was going on and had seen what was coming in the future and how some of what is coming could be neutralized.

I'm totally aware that there is a little time to utilize what I have seen and recognized as a solution to our current situation, since we are very close to the end of the Great cycle which in our way of time measurements falls on 23 December 2012.

During the last 20 years I have passed huge amount of knowledge to thousands of people World Wide. With all of them I had developed unique soul connection. I have opened thousands of doors, changed people lives and perspectives, brought higher quality of life to many.

I'm also the author of the book "Extraordinary Powers in Humans" that deals with development of psionic abilities, their understanding, control and utilization in constructive ways. My approach does not suffer from any limitation and I comfortably move from the most advanced ancient knowledge to modern UFO phenomenon and extraterrestrial multidimensional presence.

Preview of the book can be found here:

My trainings usually start with basic of relaxation and meditation, teaching the student to meditate in the right way. Then slowly advances towards more progressive altered states of consciousness as clairvoyance, remote viewing and controlled out of the body experience.

During the years I earned my nickname "Astral Walker" - he who can enter the astral plane and walk among the stars...

There will be Presentations and Psionic Workshops in Brisbane and Gold Coast soon. If interested, please provide your contact details at psionic.course@gmail.com (put subject presentation or psionic development).

I hope you will allow me the chance to help you to become an Astral Walker too. To be able to be of more help to Mother Earth and to be able to accomplish the things that you feel deep inside that you need to do. I can teach you so many useful things, and help you in so many ways.

What do we need to do?

A part of everything, I believe that we have a short time to figure out what we have to accomplish in order that we go through a smooth transition.

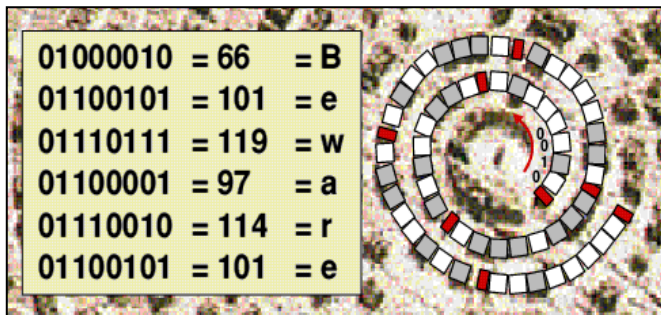

In order that we understand what we need to do as humanity, it would help a lot if we decode some of the relevant crop circle messages. The one that mysteriously appeared on August 15th, 2002 - Crabwood Farm, Hampshire in UK, can certainly shine a light in that direction.

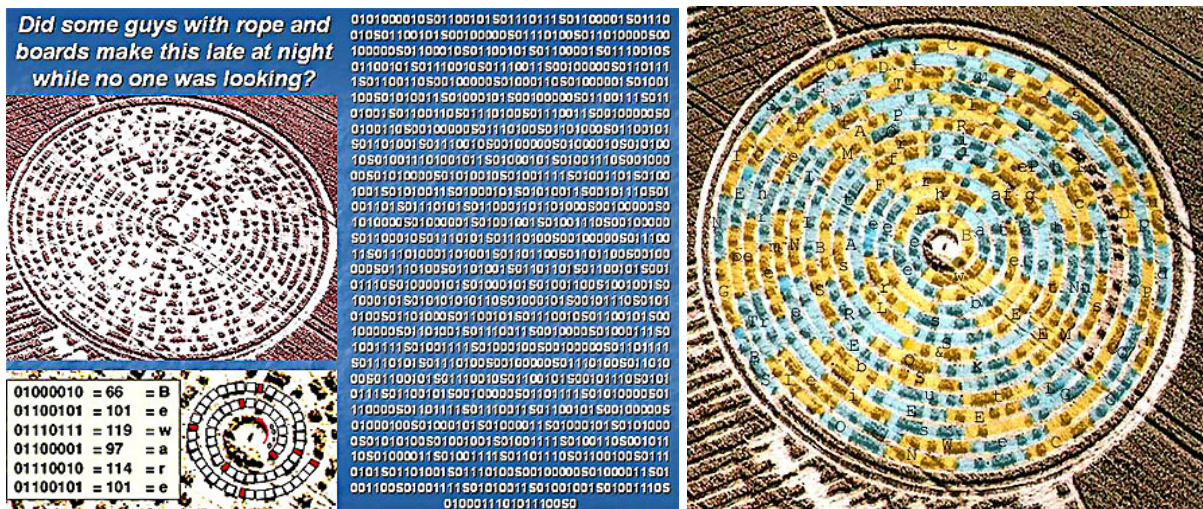

It clearly shows an extraterrestrial being with 3 UFOs in the background, some kind of disk with encrypted message.

Perhaps the ETs thought if humans had reached technological development that enables them to use smart computers and to burn and read data on CDs...lets burn them one. Despite how funny the previous sentence appears in my personal opinion this message is very important and contains a warning to all humankind. And a serious warning!

But is someone listening? First, let's start with the disk.

A spiral of 8 bit binary encoding in hexadecimal form with English alphabet letters represented by ASCII character sets used by computer programmers since the 1960s. To translate the code, you have to start at the center and spiral outward, counter-clockwise.

Deciphered, it reads:

"Beware the bearers of FALSE gifts & their BROKEN PROMISES. Much PAIN but still time. There is GOOD out there. We OPpose DECEPTION. Conduit CLOSING [bell sound]"

The line "Beware the bearers of FALSE gifts & their BROKEN PROMISES" stands for the depicted negative extraterrestrial beings that had established direct contact with the representatives of Shadow Government more than five decades ago. According to the released top secret M12 documents in 1954, the President Eisenhower was approached by two different races of extraterrestrials.

One race was referred as Quetzal and the other was simple called a "Gray Collective".

The "Quetzal" extraterrestrial race is actually responsible for the delivery of most of the crop circle messages. Many of the mysterious lights, orbs and shiny flying crafts seen above crop fields around the globe, belong to the Quetzal race. This race is here to help us in these sensitive times we live, to make sure the Earth is not destroyed before the powerful energetic wave arrives and the reactivation of the RNA/DNA of life takes place.

In other words they are some form of guardians to make sure that the cycle is running properly and according the laws of nature.

During the years, there were many reports of their flying crafts engaging in combat with the ones that belong to Gray Collective, even with ones that are in the possession of the Shadow Government. It become clear that some kind of conflict is going on and that there are groups that are not resonating with total destruction of everything. It is obvious that some of the groups are trying hard to protect the planet from any use of destructive technologies, human or non-human origin. In the last few decades, there were many cases with serious nuclear reactor issues inside the Nuclear Power Plants. UFOs appeared from nowhere, fixed the problem and disappeared again. There are military reports that they have neutralized and deactivated nuclear missiles in flight too.

So the good part is that someone is watching over us that we do not hurt ourselves with our toys. Even better news is that despite Quetzal race there are other positive oriented extraterrestrial races that are visiting Earth and our solar system.

Conduit CLOSING [bell sound]"

Many other benevolent races are here too, watching with full attention and curious what will be the final outcome for humanity when the Great Cycle is going to close on Dec 23 2012. Many of those races are trying hard this cycle to be a success from the spiritual point of view. Quetzal race and few others ET groups had delivered clearly many times that humans need to change their ways, they need to stop being ignorant and to start to work on their own spiritual growth and development. Most important they stated that we need to learn to live together in peace in goodwill and with the harmony with the planet Earth. In other words, they are here to help us, but we have to walk the road and climb the stairs, they can not do it for us...it's simply not the proper way.

The Quetzal race are conduit closing of the Great Cycle which means they are assisting the light that is incarnated in human biological bodies, trying hard the information to get through to ones that are able to hear and see. It is my personal obligation to help in the process and that is why I have arrived on this planet. I seek no rewards for what I do and I do what I do because I believe is the right thing to do.

The messages that "Quetzal" are delivering are often very complex, perfect in geometrical and mathematical sense. Some messages are delivered in a form of binary code systems and some are simple delivered on ancient languages as Aztec, Mayan, Olmec, Egyptian, Indian and other. They were the ones that have been watching and guiding us for a long time, helping us in so many different ways.

Usually when they enter our dimension, they shrink the size of their flying crafts to a just basketball size and fly over the crop very low so they will be not visible to the radar. Once they move in the other dimension or they simple go beyond our atmosphere they regain their original size. They do this in order to protect their selves and to avoid eventual conflict. The moment Shadow Government's radars and satellites detect them, there are helicopters and fighter jets released to chase the balls of light and to take them down. Unfortunately, there are some reports that in few occasions their flying crafts were taken down by powerful lasers from satellites. What I'm trying to say is that they are risking a lot just to draw beautiful images in crops for us and we really need to start to appreciate their help. At least we can push our intelligence to maximum and try to decode what the messages are actually saying.

Btw, Quetzal is one of the races that established a form of telepathic-astral contact with me. It's only because my RNA/DNA was altered by them when my physical carrier was at the age of seven. To the best of my knowledge there are at least 200 more individuals in different parts of the world capable of direct communication too, and have similar altered genetics too. Good news is that with constant arrival of powerful cosmic rays, more and more genetic material is mutating, it becomes more active in human bodies and consciousness starts to experience great awakening.

But is it going fast enough?

“Quetzal” are very concern about our destiny because the great cycle is almost complete and there are things that needs to be done before time runs out.

Much PAIN but still time.

What do we need to do, before time runs out and cycle closes?

I will explain this in more detail shortly but before we move to that section, let's complete the line: Beware the bearers of FALSE gifts & their BROKEN PROMISES.

2.The other extraterrestrial race that President Eisenhower was approached by in 1954 was named a “Gray Collective” or simple “Grays” because of their dolphin type of skin with dominant gray colour. This race had shown to be very aggressive, negative and deceiving.

This race has overtaken the control of the entire political and military establishment of planet Earth. They have implanted the political/military elite and they control human society through them. Using the world media those implanted individuals were forced to create a deception of unimaginable proportions...a deception that needs to disappear soon, otherwise humanity will face a mage-scale catastrophe with consequences far beyond the physical existence.

Since the bloodlines of the members of the World Ruling Elite (or more precise: 13 Illuminati families all related and all part of the same secret society) are actually half-human/half-reptilian they contains genetics that are easy to manipulate by the Gray Collective. The evidence had shown that because of their half-human/half-reptilian genetics the members of the World Ruling Elite have no sense of morality or compassion what they are doing to others.

Evidence that surfaced in the last 30 years, had also shown that those bloodlines controlled by the Gray Collective are able to shape-shift form human to green colour reptile life form and back. Will go in more detail about this on my presentation and provide evidence for such claim. The micro devices inside their bodies are driving those political-military individuals into taking actions that are catastrophic for all humanity and the planet itself.

Think about 9/11, Haiti earthquake, Oil spill in Golf of Mexico etc and you will see that is true. So for those that are in the know I will just say, Grays control the Reptoid forms and not the other way around. For the record those Reptoid forms have genetics that allows them to shape-shift. Unfortunately, the problem goes deeper since the Earth is constantly visited by so many ET groups and some of the cosmic renegades or cosmic criminals if you will, have joined the “Gray Collective”.

Anyway, representatives of Quetzal told President Eisenhower to beware of the Grays because they will deceive him and humanity in whole. They offered to help humanity in the spiritual development so the cycle will successful, but before that can take place, Quetzal race asked in return, all nuclear weapons in all countries to be deactivated and destroyed.

“There is GOOD out there. We OPpose DECEPTION.”

Not wishing to give up nuclear weapons, Eisenhower decides to ally with the “Gray Collective” for a promise of high-tech military technology, but he is deceived.

Back in 1954, why would those Greys have offered Eisenhower new military technologies, in exchange for the right to abduct humans and harvest livestock? Eisenhower could never have imagined modern advances in genetic engineering, so he would have been at a profound disadvantage when dealing with them. Why else would visiting greys wish to abduct humans (thereby collecting tissues, sperm or eggs) while harvesting livestock (in a more lethal fashion), except to collect the materials needed for experiments on hybridization?

I believe now these lines are clear: “Beware the bearers of FALSE gifts & their BROKEN PROMISES. There is GOOD out there. We OPpose DECEPTION.”

Quetzal are warning us again about the depicted ET group that is messing with human genetics, abducting humans and livestock and use them in so many different evil ways. As presented in the file, the Gray Collective are here for thousands of years and they were the same “evil gods” that ancient humans got in conflict with.

Summarized, the Shadow Government that represents all of Earth’s countries had made a mistake in 50s selling humanity for exchange of military technology. Of course the Gray Collective had never respected the signed Agreement and the Shadow Government realized that a catastrophic mistake has been made. A mistake that we all need to rectify before time runs out.

Image in the middle: The "Gray Collective" standard appearance

Image on the right: Their Flying crafts (If spotted run avoiding any kind of contact is high recommendable)

Perhaps some of you will recall this line from the 1977 Vrillon message:

The New Age can be a time of great peace and evolution for your race, but only if your rulers are made aware of the evil forces that can overshadow their judgments!

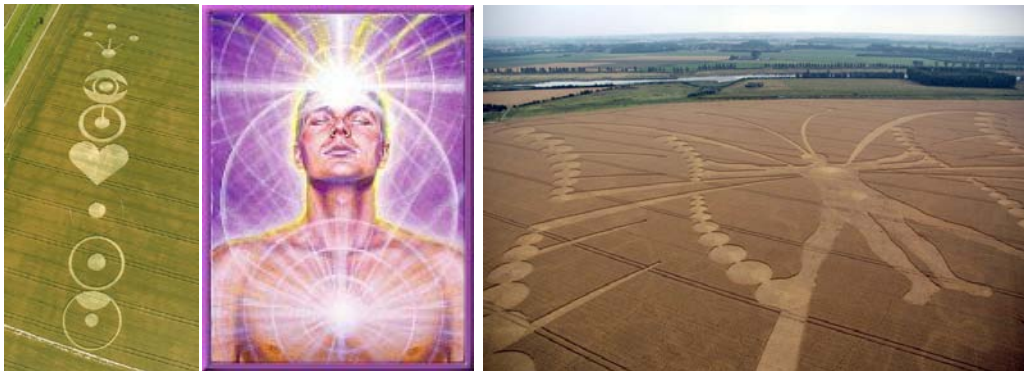

In our world today, we are witnessing many evil agendas resulting in a negative direction. It has become obvious that we cannot trust our governments anymore. They are controlled by the negative ETs and they are forced to follow Gray Collective agenda, and do not care about us and our planet Earth.

That is why, we all have to understand the true nature of our existence, that we are in fact consciousness inside a physical body and that we can influence our environment.

For a consciousness that is still asleep inside the matrix, all this will seem like heavily loaded SF story, but for the consciousness that is awakening, that is still able to feel and to think clearly; still free and unpolluted inside, it will come as most important information ever. It will resonate so deeply inside the spiritual heart because simple it's the truth.

In fact, everything that was shown to you in this document is to serve for better understanding of the situation on this planet, what is the main problem, who is causing it and what can be done about it. Its about how we can change the situation that humanity is in. Most people will say that current situation on Earth is unrepairable and that things went too far for something to be done, that in order everything to be back in balance it need a total reset of civilization, but that is not my perspective. And certainly that is not the perspective of the Quetzal race and all other races with spiritual orientation that are around us. We didn't come here for nothing. It's hard, but that's ok, nothing that we didn't expect, we just need to regain the inner balance again; we need to stay focused, to take the necessary steps and we will finish the cycle successfully.

There is a Light at the end of the Tunnel and there is HOPE!

HOPE is the source of greatest strength of Humanity. Hope generates emotion, emotion generates power, power generates action, action generates a change inside the matrix.

You just have to keep in your head that your inner divine self will protect you from any evil, and just keep on walking. Once the energetic wave that was released from the Milky Way's core reach us, it will be done, we will become beings with cosmic awareness again and it will be accomplished. It will be like waking up from a long dream.

Therefore, the main objectives of this document is to achieve synchronization of the consciousness of humanity with Gaia (i.e the consciousness of our Planet), to activate healing energies with the intention of heal ourselves and our planet, to reactivate the necessary minimum of the genetic material to we will become compatible for the arrival of the Nexus – The Cosmic Designer's Energetic Wave!

Now let's deal with the line: Much PAIN but still time!

The first logical question is: still time for what?

What do we have to do before it's too late?

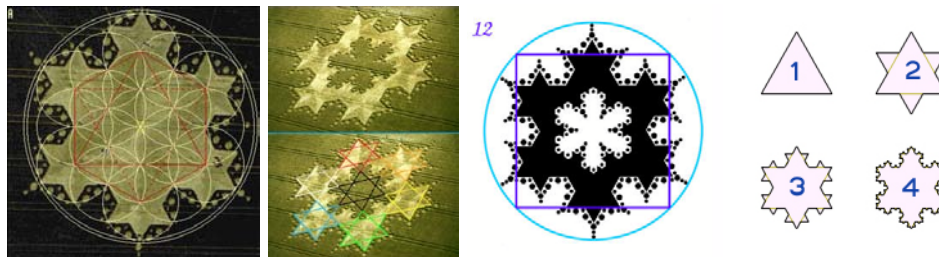

In 2002 when the message was delivered, it was much pain and now we are in 2010 there is still pain and even less time. But we will get there!

If we study the crop circle phenomenon, we will see that in most occasions they are showing us and teaching us about fractal structure of the matrix. We are seeing clear depictions of fractality, Star of David dividing into smaller and smaller stars of David, and that goes to infinity. Or if you want to observe the fractal movement differently, bigger pentagrams dividing into smaller and smaller pentagrams...the same goes into infinity.

Basic Mandelbrot Fractal

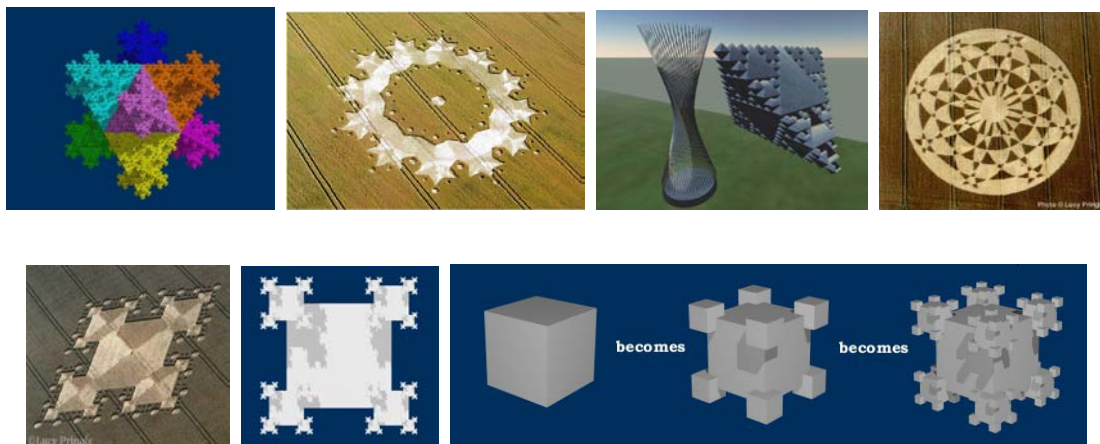

July, 1998 Milk Hill, in Wiltshire, England (Koch Fractal)

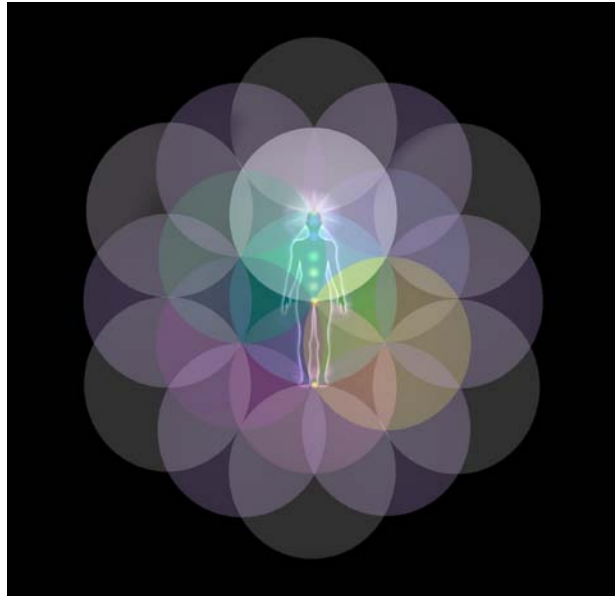

Midle trianglual egg form where Koch's Fractal emerges

Note: In 1905 Helmig Von Koch, a mathematician, conceptualized the mathematics of the "fractal," seen as the outer outline in these drawings. On Aug. 8, 1997 the Quetzal race gifted to the people of Earth the symbol in the center. That this symbol was never seen by mathematicians prior to its appearing in the fields of England. This symbol is the seed, the flower of life, and is the egg from where Koch's Fractal would emerge.

They are showing us the fractal structure of the Matrix! Or should I say better, they are teaching us about the fractal nature of the five elemental matrix and how it can be accessed and even changed. If you run a computer program of fractal division, it will run forever, but what I want to say is that if you make a change in the parameters somewhere along the fractal movement it will continue to follow that change to infinity. Imagine standing in one point in space and from there on one side everything is contracting towards the infinite small and on the other side of your standing point everything is expanding to infinitely large. At that movement, no matter if we are talking about contraction or expansion of matter, is done in a fractal fashion. Literally everything in this universe obeys those geometrical and mathematical laws. Everything vibrates, pulsates, contracts and expands; even our energy field vibrates and pulsates according to our breath and our state of consciousness. Everything flows with energy, it's one giant ocean of energy, and we are all part of it.

People would usually say, ok we see that they are referring to fractals but what fractals have to do with us or anything in particular that is connected to our reality and our current situation?

Everything! That's the main Key!

They are showing us that Consciousness can shift fractal structure or in other words Consciousness can change reality. The stronger the consciousness is the stronger is the impact on the surrounding matrix and the bigger is the chance for the drastic change. Consciousness manifests thoughts and those thoughts release energy into the fractal structure of the matrix. If they are neutral they do more or less change but the bigger changes appear when thoughts have emotional charge because the fractal structure is sensitive.

Which brings us to the - Emotions!

Emotions are actually the ones that are carriers of the psionic power that can influence the fundamental fractal structure of our matrix.

Especially the emotion we call LOVE!

Simplified: Consciousness + Thoughts/Intent + Pure Emotions + Meditative Oneness = The necessary rise of the vibrational field of our planet!

Why all that? It is very important how the planet will vibrate when the powerful energy wave arrives. The beings that live on Earth are releasing thoughts and energy into the vibrational field of the planet. If the vibration is low the powerful energy can do harm to the planet and its inhabitants, if not it causes evolution.

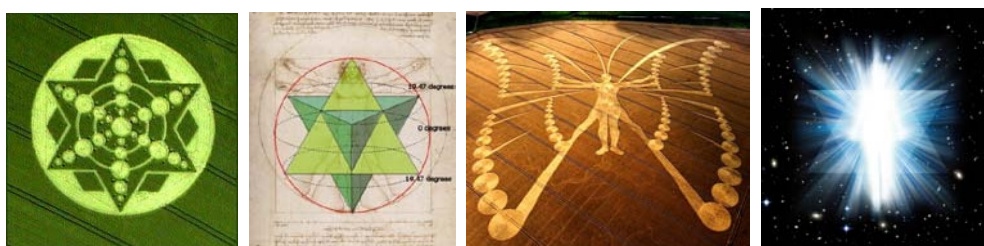

Quetzal has delivered many times that humans need to build a Flower of Life Astral structure inside their aura.

When that is done, we need to spin the spheres clockwise from the outer observing point or counter-clockwise from our standing point inside the central sphere.

When that also is accomplished we need to create a spin of the star-tetrahedron inside that structure and move our consciousness from our physical to our light body! But this is impossible without clean and pure emotions.

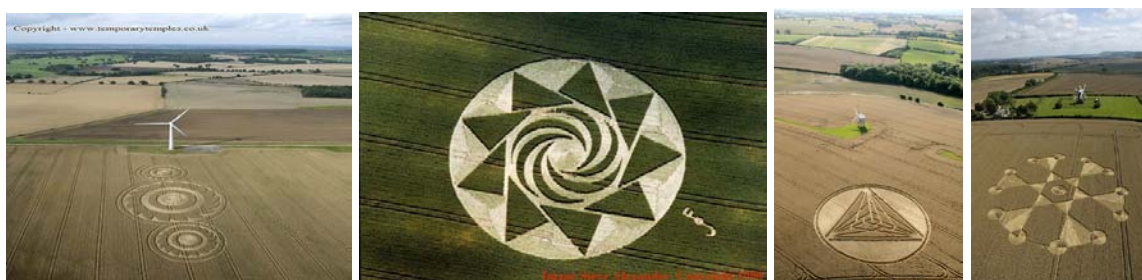

Of course we do not need to do anything and everyone has the choice what he/she will do with this information. I'm just showing you what they are saying and what they feel it is extremely important that we learn and do. I will teach people how to create the whole structure inside their auras and how to breathe properly on my seminars soon and I will also cover this to some degree in my presentation. The point is if - not done properly, the meditation is useless. If done properly – it triggers activation of latent genetic material.

One other important thing that Quetzal passed to me, is that crop circles that are delivered by them contain drivers that will instal special software in our brain. I will just say that we can easily compare our brain with computer processor. Our biological body is a bio-computer and the brain is the processor of that bio-computer, if you will. Like every computer, our brain need software and that software is imbeded in our RNA/DNA.

Because of the basic double helix functionality, our brain operates on limited level, but in case the right software is installed it will start to operate on a extended level. In other words, to become more telepathic, clairvoyant and etc, we need the necessary drivers to be installed into our brain.

Those drivers are imbeded in some of their crop designs, but they clearly showed in numerous ocasions that in order to work we need to use software to spin the diagrams depicted in the crop fields. Usually the ones that needs to be spun are delivered near windmills with the hope that humas will figure it out that the design needs to be spined.

In fact if people joing into meditative oneness inside the genuine crop designs and they start to meditate with thousands in order to connect with the crop circlce makers, the humanity will achive the next step. Quetzal are in position to help us activate our spiritual potential to whole new level, but only if humanity chosese to. Staying with old makeup people will end in some of the 3D scenarios but if people open up, let go of fear of unknown they will face extreme progress. When I say extreme progress, I mean extreme progress.

Take for example this testimony of Valerie Cox which is only one of so many.

Recently she wrote on one of the facebook pages that serve for people to report new crop circles and something unusual.

This is what Valerie wrote:

Just to report that on the night this crop circle was made myself and my two sons were camping at the Barge Inn in Honey Street. At approximately 1am we all saw a very bright light high in the sky almost the size of the moon but brighter. This reduced in size quickly after a few seconds to look like a satellite and flew... off to the side behind a cloud. A few minutes later two very bright flashes like low level lightening lit up this field. The next day we went off to see this crop circle that had been reported that morning and realised that we were standing in the exact field that we had seen the light.

We didn't take any samples. Simply did a lovely meditation in there. There was also another I visited earlier this year at Cley Hill nr Warminster. It was the 3D cross formation. Four of us went and on the way there 2 of us felt strangely sick on the walk towards the formation. Whilst in there 3 of us did a short meditation and all of us independently saw swirling patterns whilst we had our eyes closed rather like a spirograph design. No one thought it was important at first until we discussed it on the way home in the car and we all said that was what we had seen. That was also very strange, I thought possibly we had been influenced by circular designs of the crop circle however this was a square formation. The visualisations were very clear and pronounced!

In general, my perspective is that genuine Crop Circles are gift to all humanity. Crop Circles contain multidimensional messages and 3D images visible only when they are spun at high speed. In 2009 I joined forces with a friend of mine that works for NASA and we used a combination of special, ground breaking software in order that we produce a unique video to capture more than 30 frames per second at high resolution. We discovered that combination of sound frequencies and the digital extraction of their geometric designs spun at high speed, influence the consciousness in unbelievable ways.

Anyway, as we are approaching the ending of the cycle in 2012, more and more human beings are starting to wake from a long dream. They start to remember, to recognize what is going on and the reason why they are here.

My seminars are actually a transformation tools. They contain huge amounts of theoretical and practical knowledge that enables people to become more telepathic, able to do astral travel and able to achieve contact with higher intelligences.

After all that was present before you previously, now it becomes clear why they said: Much PAIN but still time!

It means that humans have to realize that they are in fact infinite consciousness with extreme powers and that if they unite into meditative oneness they can influence the fractal structure of the matrix, separate from all evil and become ready for the evolution that awaits between Dec 23 2012 and March 28 2013.

It means, we as humans have to gather into meditative oneness, thinking of the same outcome, and release a powerful field of energy that will heal our planet and lift the vibrational frequency.

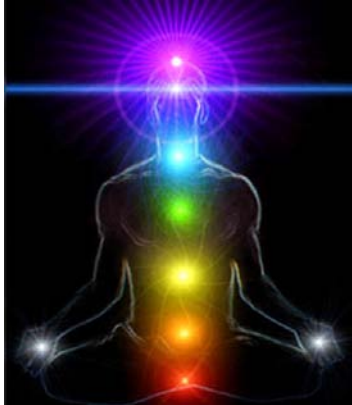

Another line from the Vrillon 1977 message:

“...We come to warn you of the destiny of your race and your world so that you may communicate to your fellow beings the course you must take to avoid the disaster which threatens your world, and the beings on our worlds around you...”

I believe their message makes sense. It will make sense only if the heart is open. For the closed heart everything looks like doom and gloom, while in reality it's not the case. We are at the end of a Great Cycle and we need to play our part as humans.

I feel that the time for conflict is over and that we have to move towards a new paradigm in our evolution as a race. If we look around us, we can see that everything is changing at great speed. Our Sun and the entire solar system are changing rapidly on every level. Humanity is changing. We are awakening from a long and deep sleep and are starting to see the bigger picture i.e. that we are spark's of infinite manifestation in the Universe.

In summary, this is an attempt to synchronize as many people as possible, particularly those already participating in spiritual groups around the world and who are practicing meditation.

A singular, meditative stream of consciousness carries enough psionic power to influence the basic structure of the Matrix for the benefit of the whole of humanity. Collated from the research of many respected scientists, but mostly from the respected Dr. Masaru Emoto, we now know and have factual evidence, that human vibrational energy, thoughts, words, ideas and music, affect the molecular structure of water. It is the same with rest of three earth elements plus ether. If we can alter the fractal structure of five elements we will be able to do the necessary change and awake 7 billion people from the magical spell of the Dark Side of the Force. Humanity has to understand that this is not about me, you, mine, yours...its about one for all and all for one. The naked truth is that we are all ONE but our five sense limitation is blocking our view to see it and to feel it. In my perspective Humanity is worth to save and we need to do our best in order to awake as many as possible, until we are so many that we will be able to do this.

This is the ultimate message that E.Ts are delivering to us. This knowledge and information has and is being transmitted by E.T's via "crop circle" formations. It is up to us to decide whether we will take their messages more seriously or whether we will discredit them.

The result of that decision will affect us all...

Final Word

I will leave you with the full message that was delivered back in 1977.

The message is what I resonate with and where my heart is:

“...This is the voice of Vrillon, a representative of the Ashtar Galactic Command, speaking to you. For many years you have seen us as lights in the skies. We speak to you now in peace and wisdom as we have done to your brothers and sisters all over this, your planet Earth.

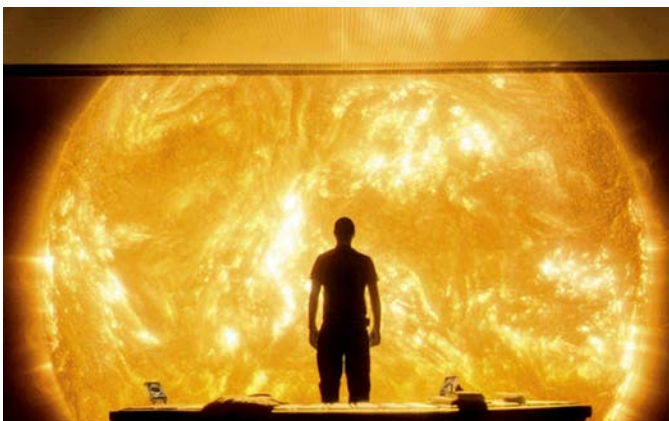

We come to warn you of the destiny of your race and your world so that you may communicate to your fellow beings the course you must take to avoid the disaster which threatens your world, and the beings on our worlds around you.

This is in order that you may share in the great awakening, as the planet passes into the New Age of Aquarius.

The New Age can be a time of great peace and evolution for your race, but only if your rulers are made aware of the evil forces that can overshadow their judgments.

Be still now and listen, for your chance may not come again.

All your weapons of evil must be removed. The time for conflict is now past and the race of which you are a part may proceed to the higher stages of its evolution if you show yourselves worthy to do this. You have but a short time to learn to live together in peace and goodwill.

Small groups all over the planet are learning this, and exist to pass on the light of the dawning New Age to you all. You are free to accept or reject their teachings, but only those who learn to live in peace will pass to the higher realms of spiritual evolution.

Hear now the voice of Vrillon, a representative of the Ashtar Galactic Command, speaking to you. Be aware also that there are many false prophets and guides operating in your world. They will suck your energy from you - the energy you call money and will put it to evil ends and give you worthless dross in return.

Your inner divine self will protect you from this.

You must learn to be sensitive to the voice within that can tell you what is truth, and what is confusion, chaos and untruth. Learn to listen to the voice of truth which is within you and you will lead yourselves onto the path of evolution.

This is our message to our dear friends. We have watched you growing for many years as you too have watched our lights in your skies. You know now that we are here, and that there are more beings on and around your Earth than your scientists admit.

We are deeply concerned about you and your path towards the light and will do all we can to help you.

Have no fear, seek only to know yourselves, and live in harmony with the ways of your planet Earth. We of the Ashtar Galactic Command thank you for your attention. We are now leaving the plane of your existence. May you be blessed by the supreme love and truth of the Cosmos..."

I Love You All

APPENDIX A

In 2007, the History Channel from FOXTEL had released series of documentaries that illustrate something extraordinary: extreme expansion of our Sun and that some of the elite NASA scientists have wild predictions about the next solar maximum in 2012. Of course on the end of each documentary they had to “explain” that there is no need for panic or concern since that is an event that will happen billion years in the future.

The name of the American documentary television series was “The Universe” and has covered the latest scientific research conducted by NASA. The show features computer-generated imagery/computer graphics of astronomical objects in the universe and interviews with scientists who study in the fields of cosmology, astronomy, and astrophysics.

The focus was about the connection of the supermassive black hole (Sagittarius A*) with the rest of the galaxy, especially with our solar system. And finally, the evidence that Sgr A* exploded 26 000 years ago and that powerful burst of energy was released. In other words, a powerful energetic pulse created by explosion of Sgr A* started to travel away from the galactic centre 26 000 years ago, spreading towards the corners of the galaxy.

Because of the distance, it took that long for the pulse to spread so far and to get so close to us because our solar system is on the very edge of the Milky Way some 26000 light years away from the galactic center.

Many documentaries of mentioned American television series had shown the expansion of our Sun in great detail. In order to show the public how that expansion is possible, NASA scientists had gone through extensive explanation of the most complex dynamics of our star, sunspots, CMEs, solar wind, solar min/max...and so much more just to tell us what the Sun is capable of doing if something alters its inner dynamic.

NASA scientists were persistent to tell the viewers that our star is enormous source of heat and energy and that just one direct hit of 100 Tesla radiation Super Flare is capable of destroying our ozone layer and killing every living organism on the planet. Just ONE Super Flare, not to mention if Sun expands in size and goes through what is known as Red Giant Phase.

APPENDIX B

Our Sun is a type of star known as a Yellow Dwarf. “Yellow” because of the colour of the surface, and Dwarf because it’s small for a star. But from different perspective, it’s huge - since inside its boundaries you can fit 1000 Earths.

The Sun is the Super Power of our solar system. It consists mostly from Helium and Hydrogen superheated into plasma that burns at millions of degrees. Inside the Sun, Hydrogen atoms are flanged together by immense pressure to form Helium atoms. In this fusion process, the resulting atoms are less massive than the ones that created them. The missing mass is given off as energy. Each second, inside the Sun, six hundred million tonnes of Hydrogen are fused into five hundred ninety five million tonnes of Helium. That five million tonnes of mass lost in the process, is converted into energy equal to one billion one megaton hydrogen bombs exploding in the same second. This happens every second inside the Sun. In other words the Sun is powered by nuclear fusion.

It has a surface temperature of 10.000 degrees Fahrenheit and that generates 380 billion billion megawatts of Power. Nothing on Earth is capable of producing such amount of energy. The Hoover Dam in Nevada generates only 280 megawatts. We are talking about 380,000,000,000,000,000 megawatts of power – just in one second.

From the latest data, we understand that the Sun had gone through 4 reset points. Our star is too small to go out in a bang. In other words it’s too small to erupt in Supernova. Stars the size of our Sun, do a peculiar thing. The hotter they get the cooler they get from inside.

As the Sun’s hydrogen fuel starts to dissipate, our star will start to cool very fast and gradually it will collapse under the force of gravity. Energy from this collapse will start heating the core again to hundreds of millions of degrees. It will get so hot again that it will start to burn helium. Under the extra heat of the helium the Sun will expand into a monstrous plasma orb called a red giant. It will get so big that it will engulf the entire orbits of Mercury and Venus. It is due to happen during the next solar maximum in 2012.

The Sun and the Earth have unique relationship between each other. Much of that is based on the ideal distance between our planet and the Sun. If the distance between the Earth and Sun increases the planet will become too hot and it will no longer be suitable for biological life forms but if the distance decreases the planet will become a frozen world. In other words, the distance of the Sun directly impacts the planet’s climate.

As previously presented, in this moment Sun is burning Hydrogen into Helium but when it reaches a phase of maximal burning it will start to burn Helium into Carbon. That’s when things are getting hot inside the Sun. That is the point when Yellow Dwarf starts to expand and it becomes a Red Giant.

When the Sun becomes a Red Giant it will grow at least 30 times its own size. It will swallow Mercury and Venus. The luminosity of the Sun will increase at least 1000 times. That's going to make Earth so hot that the outer crust will start to melt. As the Sun gets closer its heat will boil the water in the oceans. Only some portion of the water will remain in the underground cavities. In the case of the Australia's safe zone – the Triangle Area that I will speak of in my presentation, the unground water from the Great Artesian Basin will help sustain life in that area.

The Sun will start expanding slowly.

The Expansion Phase: The Hydrogen in the core of the star has all been used, and the fusion of hydrogen in a shell around the core starts. This makes the sun swell up: Its radius becomes about 40% larger and its luminosity twice as bright. In the process of becoming a Red Giant it will become much cooler but not for us. Despite the fact it will get cooler and the colour will change from Yellow to Red, it will still be incredibly hot and capable of evaporating all the oceans on the Earth in when it comes into the closest point. The boiling and the evaporating process will be complete in just few minutes.

Water is essential for life. If the Earth loses all its water, organic life will disappear.

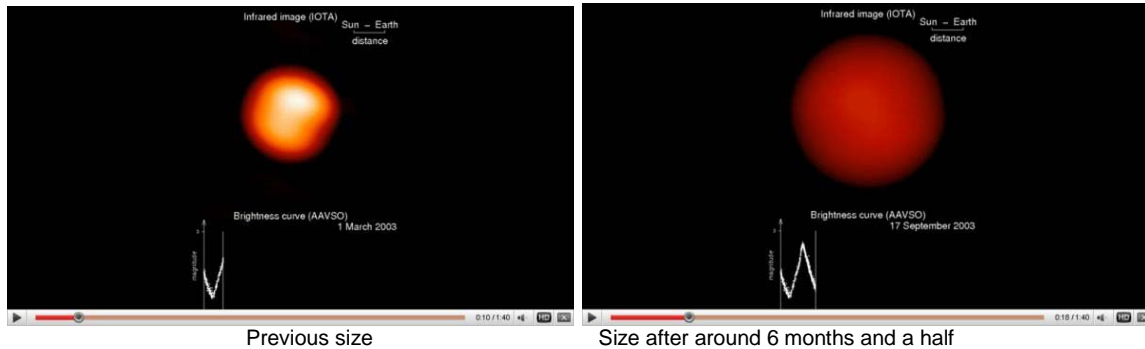

As a Red Giant does, the Sun will fluctuate in size before it collapses into a White Dwarf.

Mainstream science defines the last of the growing process of a star from the start until it reaches maximum size takes billions of years. In reality evidence showed that process of Yellow Dwarf star turning to Red Giant, releasing the outer layer and finally becoming a White Dwarf - can happen in few months time.

The proof of that is everywhere in space.

Take for example the Chi Cygni - a star similar to our Sun (but much bigger) that was observed going through Red Giant Phase in 2003. About 550 light-years from Earth, Chi Cygni has swollen in size to become a red giant and very large...Moreover, it has begun to pulse dramatically in and out, beating like a giant heart. New close-up photos of the surface of this distant star show its throbbing motions in unprecedented detail. Chi Cygni pulsated once every 408 days. At its smallest diameter of 300 million miles, it became mottled with brilliant spots as massive plumes of hot plasma roiled its surface.

As it expands, Chi Cygni cools and dims, growing to a diameter of 480 million miles - large enough to engulf and cook our solar system's asteroid belt. This star behaviour clearly demonstrated Red Giant Phase and gives unbreakable proof that it does not take billion years for a star to grow drastically in size but just a period of months.

If you like you can check the evidence on this link:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hhMeu...layer_embedded

Summarized, Chi Cygni is much larger than our Sun which has diameter of only 860,000 miles, and that is why it experienced such expansions and contractions. In our case, our precious star does not have the fuel or nuclear energy to manifest such behaviour, but it will go into a few months expansion phase. The culmination as mentioned before will result with releasing the outer layer into space.

The Earth will be moved from its nominal orbit. As the Sun is swelling it also begins to lose its mass. It will lose mass more rapidly than its losing in this moment. The logic is simple – getting less massive means less hold or pull on the Earth. In other words, the planet will start to move further out into a larger orbit.

It's going to be a kind of race between growing Sun (growing heat from the star) and Earth moving little away from that fire that is getting too hot.

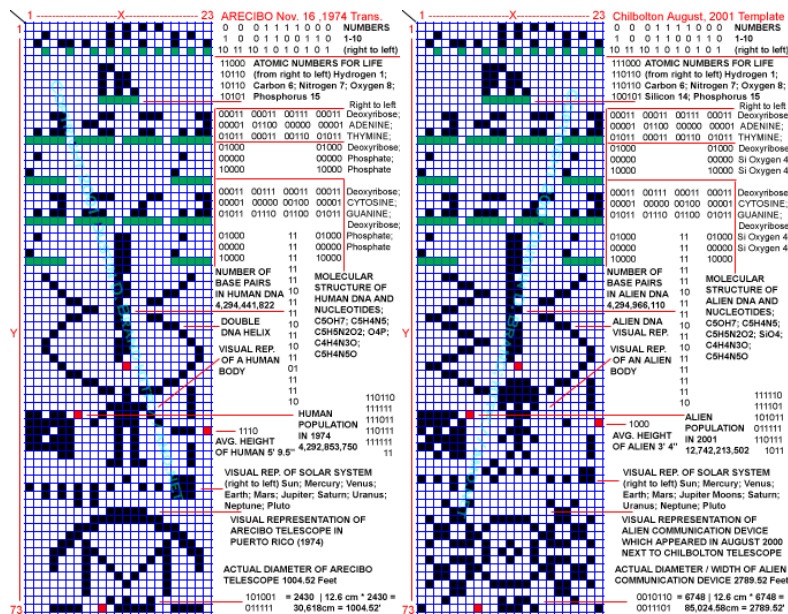

For life to develop anywhere, carbon organics have to be present, water seems to be an essential ingredient. As mentioned before, it is very important for you to understand that Sun had gone through this same process 4 times. That is why ancient Mayas had era of the First Sun, Second Sun, Third Sun, Fourth Sun and now according to their Long Count Calendar we are living at the very end of the Fifth Sun. In fact only few really understood what Mayan Long Count Calendar actually is counting.

When the Red Giant phase had reached its maximum and the extreme hit and solar storms had formatted almost everything in 3D realm in its near distance, the outer layer of the star is ejected into space distributing again all of the essential elements, including Hydrogen, Oxygen, Carbon, Phosphorus, Nitrogen etc. H₂O forms again and life that survived the Event can go on. Everything starts from beginning again.

APPENDIX C

Before I go on, I feel the need to show you at least one race that is creating so called crop circles. I believe most of you know what is depicted on the upper images. For you that don't know I will try to simplify in few sentences. We made contact - with extraterrestrials that is - this is one of their responses. It all started in 1974, before SETI (The Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence) was even formed (1984), but at the beginning of the Arecibo project. At this time, upgrading the Arecibo station in the US Territory of Puerto Rico was done with the help of Frank Drake and Carl Sagan. The most interesting experiment in 1974 with Arecibo however was it's 3 Terawatt narrowband transmission of a "human template" in the direction of the M13 globular star cluster which consists of 300,000 stars and is in the constellation of Hercules. The journey of the human template message from Arecibo would take 22,800 light years to reach Messier 13. It took a tiny fraction of that to receive a reply however.

The human template, originally sent in 1974 by Arecibo is shown to the left. With the help of Richard C. Hoagland, in 1971 templates were added to United States spacecraft, but the human template transmission in 1974 was sent at the speed of light and in binary form. The blank space in the image represents a binary 0 and the solid blocks represent binary 1's.

The Arecibo message included, among other things, the binary equivalent of the numbers 1-10 showing a "base of 10" identifying our math system and a way to decipher the message. Below these numbers identified the most common atomic numbers in life that we knew at that time. We transmitted our atomic numbers for Hydrogen, Carbon, Nitrogen, Oxygen and Phosphorus. We didn't stop there and added the molecular formulas for our human DNA (Deoxyribonucleic Acid).

In 1974, we knew the estimated number of nucleotides in our DNA, and we transmitted those as well and you can also see our "Double Helix" DNA Strand. We also sent, as the human race, our average height, and a rough proportional representation of our bodies. The population of our planet earth, which in 1974 was estimated as 4.29 Billion Humans was also transmitted. For the source of the transmission, planet Earth, Arecibo, we sent our solar system identifying the third planet from the Sun - Earth - just under our feet. Also with the source was the Arecibo Telescope, with it's diameter.

Expecting the transmission to take 22,800 Light Years might have been an exaggeration when, in reality it may reach life much earlier. In fact, the transmission has now travelled nearly 27 light years from Earth (156 trillion + miles) - towards M13, and has passed the distance of the closest star from our Sun which is 4.3 light years away. It takes only approximately 1 minute to reach Mars travelling at light speed for perspective, or 1.23 seconds to reach the moon.

Response arrived at Chilbolton Telescope, England on August 13, 2001, and evening of August 18 or 19th. The transmission was received in the form of 2 crop glyphs next to the Chilbolton Radio Telescope run by the British Government in England.

Extraterrestrial Atomic Numbers for Life - The atomic number for Silicon (14) is inserted in it's correct position in the list of atomic numbers for life, just before Phosphorus (15). This is an indication of intelligence and knowledge of the human periodic table.

Extraterrestrial Molecular DNA Structure – Triple helix DNA functionality – they have more evolved biological hosts than humans have. The atomic number for Silicon depicted. This is an indication that their skin is more dolphin type and similar colour to dolphins.

Extraterrestrial Body Grid Area - The extraterrestrial body equals 3.30 Feet, or 3 Feet 4 inches which is compared to 5.78 feet for the human or 5 feet 9.5 inches. There are significant changes to the alien body visual representation. Extraterrestrial body is smaller, and the head is bigger.

Extraterrestrial Solar System Changes – They live underground and underwater on Earth usually invisible to our perception, mostly on Mars and also on four moons of Jupiter.

Extraterrestrial Population in 2001 - The binary number converted to decimal values 12,742,213,502 or 12.74 Billion. From other sources at least one third lives on Earth, majority on Mars and the rest on bases on four moons of Jupiter. Is it not funny to search for other intelligent forms of life in the cosmos while we have them on the Earth and we share the planet with them and others that we start to become aware of? Anyway, just for the record in the original Arecibo message that was sent to space in 1974 there was a binary value of 4,292,853,750 or est 4.29 Billion in human Population of that same year. Today we have human population of 7 Billion.

Please have in consideration that we are talking about one intelligent race. We will cover this subject on the presentation in more detail.

APPENDIX D

Before we can take for granted the crop messages and how they are related to released energy from the galactic center of the Milky Way, Red Giant Phase of our Sun in 2012 and upgrade of the DNA molecule, Ancient Calendars and a lot more, we need to see and understand without any prejudice what exactly the phenomena is.

One of the essential characteristics of crop circles is that they appear to have been formed by some form of electromagnetic energy created by intelligent source that is able to control it to a very high degree.

Some eighty eyewitnesses as far flung as British Columbia & Australia – have reported crop circles forming in under twenty seconds; these witnesses describe sightings of incandescent or brightly-coloured balls of light which either precede a crop circle or are actively involved in its creation: in some cases shafts of light have descended onto a field and swirled the crop into a geometric shape in less than fifteen seconds. Such reports are often described by farmers.

There has also been many reports of a very distinctive sound that is heard when crop circles are being formed. In genuine formations the stems are not broken but bent, normally about an inch off the ground and near the plant's first node. In special cases, the stems are bent six inches from the top of the seed head. Such features defeat the hoax argument, since a plank or garden roller is required to flatten the crop to the ground, resulting in clear damage to the plants.

The plants appear to be subjected to a short and intense burst of heat which softens the stems to drop just above the ground at 90 degrees, where they reharden into their new and very permanent position without damage. Plant biologists are baffled by this feature, and it is the singlemost method of identifying the real phenomenon.

Hoax - manmade

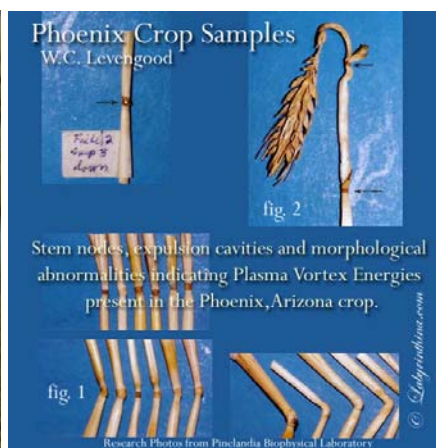

Genuine - real phenomenon

Is there a connection?

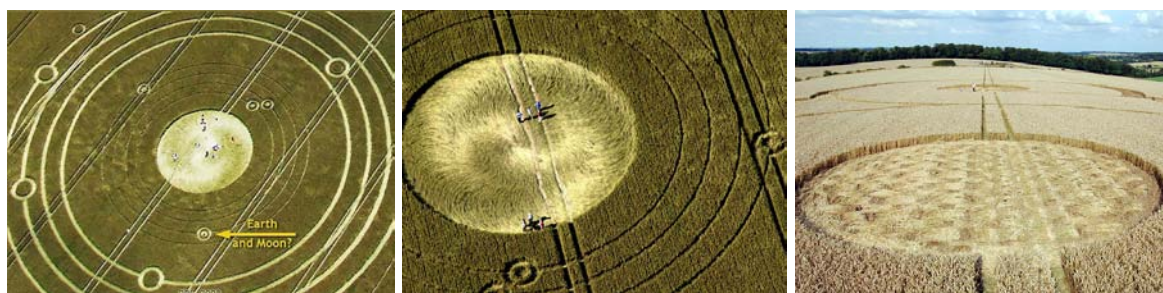

Research and laboratory tests suggest that infrasound (sound below 20 Hz) is capable of producing such an effect: High-pressure infrasound is capable of boiling water inside the stems in one nanosecond, expanding the water, and leaving tiny blowholes in the plant's nodes. The pressure applied also causes the water to steam, and it is reported by farmers that when they stumble upon a new crop circle they see steam rising from within the design. This process creates surface charring along the stems.

There are reports of many incidents where all sorts of electrical and mechanical equipment has malfunctioned precisely when taken into a crop circle, and then resumes normal functions as soon as it is removed from the immediate vicinity of the crop circle. The engines of aircraft flying over crop circles have even been known to experience malfunction. The stem of the plants within a crop circle are bent in a manner which cannot be explained by conventional science. Crop circles have appeared in wheat, canola, barley, rye and linseed as well as many other cultivated crops. With a number of these crops any attempt to bend the stalk will result in it snapping.

However all plants in a crop circle have the stem permanently bent, and yet apart from that they remain alive and well. As regards the walls of crop circles, “this force is capable of incising pictograms containing over a thousand elements with surgical precision, covering areas of up to 150,000 square feet, and with such unerring accuracy that ‘curtains’ of wheat one stalk wide are sometimes all that separate one circle from another. The perimeter walls resemble the seamless curve of a drum, and where inward-curving walls meet inside a design, the central point can be defined down to a single stalk.” From this description it is abundantly clear that the force that creates these crop circles has to include precision laser beam technology.

The floor of crop circles consists of plants that have been flattened, but are otherwise undamaged and unharmed. The flattened plants can be woven into complex spirals and swirls, and there can also be several layers of densely interwoven stalks resembling interrelated wave patterns.

Generally any attempt to pry the interwoven plants apart will destroy them. The flattening process can also exhibit extraordinary selectivity. Different species of plant can be left standing amongst an otherwise flattened crop. The selectivity can even extend to plants of the same type and age which are left standing amidst flattened crop.

Laboratory analysis has revealed the crystalline structure of the flattened plants has actually been changed by some force. Even more significant is the fact that the DNA is considerably different from the plants that have not been flattened. In other words this force that has flattened the crop had the exact vibrational frequency necessary to modify the information patterns in the DNA.

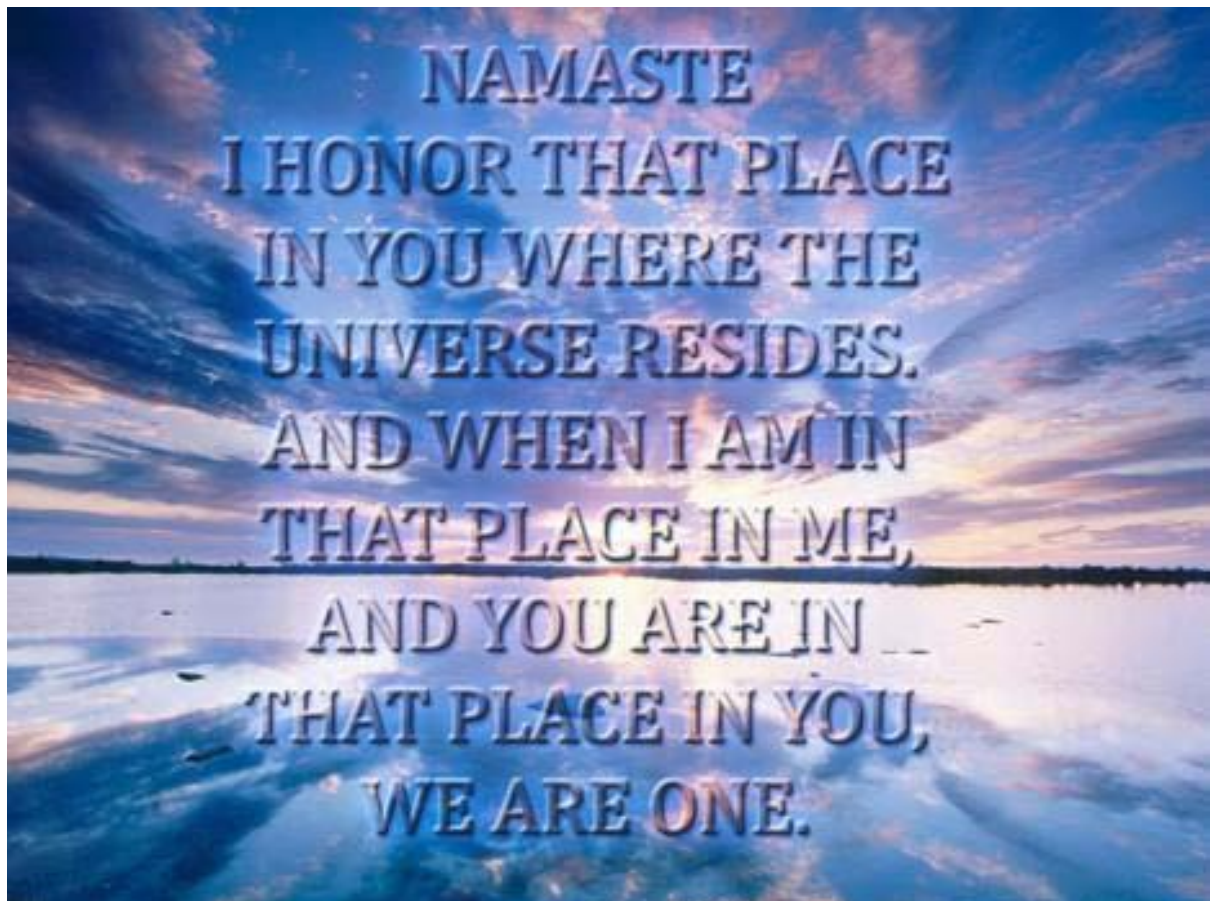

The laboratory analysis also found that the seeds and the germinating process of the affected plants had been changed. Although the plant itself was unharmed, this force had made substantial changes to the plants natural regenerative processes. It is suggested that this kind of change can only be brought about by tampering with the information patterns in the DNA of the plant. As regards the flattening process itself, the laboratory analysis undertaken by the biophysicist W.C. Levengood concluded that an energy source “originating in the microwave region had boiled the water inside the plants’ nodes, effectively transforming it into steam.”

There are opinions that most of the genuine crop circles are made from satellites or HAARP using microwave energy, which is incorrect and clearly not the case. During the years, a lot of video material is recorded that made the previous biological research more complete.

For all of you who would like to hear more on this research, who is making those complex pictograms around the world and what most of them mean, I will make special presentation in Brisbane very soon.

Summarized, many of the geometries that are delivered are countdown clocks to 2012 and development of human consciousness...
